AUTHORITY: §§ 703.1 to 703.5, inclusive, issued under 55 Stat. 838; E.O. 9070, 7 F.R. 1529; and 54 Stat. 1125, as amended.

§ 703.1 Purpose. (a) Sections 703.1 to 703.5, inclusive, revise NHA Regulation No. 60–5E [1] and incorporate the provisions of NHA Regulation No. 60–5E–1.[2] Regulation No. 60–5E set forth the occupancy standards for public war housing and provided generally for an occupancy preference for distressed veterans and distressed families of servicemen and veterans on a parity with employees of war industries engaged in completing war contracts and certain other war workers. Because of the increasingly urgent need of housing for distressed veterans and servicemen and the decreasing number of persons engaged in the completion of war contracts and demobilization activities, it is the purpose of §§ 703.1 to 703.5, inclusive, to limit admission to vacancies in such public housing to distressed veterans and distressed families of veterans and servicemen, except as otherwise provided in or specifically authorized pursuant to §§ 703.1 to 703.5, inclusive.

§ 703.2 Eligibility for admission to vacancies in Lanham Act and other public war housing. (a) In all PL–849 (Lanham Act) [Pub. Law 849, 76th Cong. as amended] except mutual ownership and public conversion properties, in PL–9, 73, 353 (Temporary Shelter Acts), [Pub. Laws 9, 73 and 353, 77th Cong.], and in PL–781 (Naval Appropriation Act, 1941) [Pub. Law 781, 76th Cong. as amended] projects, eligibility for admission to vacancies shall be in accordance with the provisions of this section until the admission of tenants is discontinued.

(b) In family dwelling projects determined to be of a temporary character pursuant to section 313 of the Lanham Act, demountable family dwelling projects which are to be removed from their present sites, temporary dormitories, trailers, and stop-gap accommodations, only distressed veterans and distressed families of veterans and servicemen shall be eligible for admission prior to the termination of such projects, except as provided below. Upon a written request and justification by the Regional Representative, the Assistant Administrator (Reconversion) may approve for specific projects (under this paragraph) the admission of persons and families in the following categories and order of preferences: Provided, however, That (except as stated in § 703.2 (d)) no such person or family may be admitted when a vacancy occurs if there is an eligible distressed veteran or distressed family of a veterans or serviceman available to occupy the vacant accommodations:

(1) Any military personnel (other than in the above distressed families) and civilian employees and their families or dependents, without housing, of the War and Navy Departments, the Coast and Geodetic Survey, and the United States Public Health Service assigned to duty in the locality, and civilian employees of any private plants which are specifically determined by the Regional Representative to be engaged in the completion of war contracts;

(2) Other distressed persons and families who are without housing as a result of the war or its orderly demobilization.

Upon termination of any project under this paragraph, no persons or families shall be admitted to vacancies in such project.

(c) In all projects not determined to be of a temporary character pursuant to section 313 of the Lanham Act, except demountable projects which are to be removed from their present sites, distressed veterans and distressed families of veterans and servicemen are eligible for admission to vacancies prior to the disposition of such projects, except as provided below. If there is no eligible distressed veteran or distressed family of a veteran or serviceman available to occupy the vacant accommodations, the following persons and families are eligible for admission in the following order of preferences:

(1) Any military personnel (other than in the above distressed families) and civilian employees and their families or dependents, without housing, of the War and Navy Departments, the Coast and Geodetic Survey, and the United States Public Health Service assigned to duty in the locality, and civilian employees of any private plants which are specifically determined by the Regional Representative to be engaged in the completion of war contracts;

(2) Other distressed persons and families who are without housing as a result of the war or its orderly demobilization;

(3) Other persons and families in need of housing.

(d) In exceptional cases the Assistant Administrator (Reconversion) upon the written request of the Regional Representative justifying such exception may approve for specific projects under this section:

(1) The exclusive reservation of dwellings for distressed military personnel or distressed civilian employees of the War or Navy Departments or of private plants which are specifically determined by the Regional Representative to be engaged in the completion of war contracts; or

(2) The admission on a parity with distressed veterans and distressed families of veterans and servicemen, of distressed civilian employees of the War and Navy Department, distressed uniformed and civilian personnel of the Coast and Geodetic Survey and United States Public Health Service assigned to duty in the locality, and distressed civilian employees of private plants which are specifically determined by the Regional Representative to be engaged in the completion of war contracts.

(e) A person otherwise eligible under this section who applies for occupancy for himself only, shall be eligible for only accommodations appropriate for single persons.

§ 703.3 Eligibility for admission to vacancies in other public housing under the jurisdiction of the National Housing Administrator. (a) Eligibility for admission to vacancies in Defense Homes Corporation projects, public conversion properties, the 8 Lanham Act mutual ownership projects, Federally-owned PL–671 and non-war housing projects of FPHA not leased to local housing authorities, shall be determined by the Federal Public Housing Authority subject to applicable Federal and local laws: Provided, however, That no family other than a distressed family of a veteran or serviceman shall be admitted when a vacancy occurs if there is a qualified distressed family of a veteran or serviceman available to occupy the vacant accommodations.

§ 703.4 Distressed veterans and families of servicemen and veterans. Veterans and families of servicemen and veterans are "distressed" within the meaning of §§ 703.1 to 703.5, inclusive, and affected by unusual hardships if such persons are without housing, by reason of eviction, low income or otherwise, and are unable to find in the area adequate housing within their financial reach. This includes a family of a returning veteran who is unable to find a dwelling in the area within his financial reach in which he can reestablish his family. Distressed families of servicemen or veterans include distressed families of deceased servicemen or veterans. As used in §§ 703.1 to 703.5, inclusive, a veteran means a person who has served in the military or naval forces of the United States during World War II and who has been discharged or released therefrom under conditions other than dishonorable.

(b) The finding made in § 701.12 of this chapter (section 3 of NHA Regulation 60–14; 10 F.R. 8685) is hereby continued and broadened to read as follows: "In accordance with Title V (section 501) of the Lanham Act (Public 849, 76th Congress, as amended) and subject to subsequent determinations, it is hereby found that in those localities where distressed veterans or distressed families of servicemen or veterans are without adequate housing accommodations and are unable to find such accommodations within their financial reach, an acute shortage of housing exists within the meaning of said section 501 and that, because of war restrictions, permanent housing cannot be provided in sufficient quantities when needed."

§ 703.5 Establishment of fair rentals. (a) The Federal Public Housing Commissioner is hereby authorized and directed to (1) fix fair rentals for housing made available under § 703.2 to distressed veterans and distressed families of servicemen and veterans, which rentals shall be within the financial reach of such distressed persons, and (2) fix fair rentals for housing made available under § 703.2 to other persons which shall be based upon the value of the housing as determined by the Commissioner: Provided, That in exceptional cases during the present emergency he may adjust rentals subject to applicable law and contractual obligations.

This regulation shall be effective immediately.

WILSON W. WYATT,
Administrator.

Chapter I—Bureau of Internal Revenue

Subchapter A—Income and Excess Profits Taxes

[T. D. 5496]

EXCESS PROFITS NET INCOME IF INCOME CREDIT IS USED

The seventh paragraph of § 30.711 (a)-2 of Regulations 109 (26 CFR, 1941 Supp., Part 30) and the fifth paragraph of § 35.711 (a)-2 of Regulations 112 (26 CFR, Cum. Supp., Part 35) each as amended by Treasury Decision 5421, approved December 11, 1944, are each further amended to read as follows:

The provisions of section 711 (a) (1) (e), relating to recoveries of bad debts, are applicable in the case of a taxpayer using the reserve method of treating bad debts only if the bad debt recovered has been charged against the reserve account pursuant to § 19.23 (k)-5 of Regulations 103, and corresponding provisions of prior regulations, for a taxable year beginning prior to January 1, 1940. It is immaterial, for the purposes of making the adjustment under section 711 (a) (1) (e), whether recoveries of bad debts charged off are credited to the reserve for bad debts or are reported as gross income, but in no case where recoveries of bad debts are credited to the reserve account shall the amount excluded under section 711 (a) (1) (e) be in excess of the amount by which the normal-tax net income for the taxable year was increased by reason of the bad debts recovered. For example, if a deduction of $10,000 from gross income would have been allowable for an addition to the reserve account in the absence of bad debts recoverd which have been charged against the reserve account for taxable years beginning prior to January 1, 1940, and no deduction is required during the taxable year by reason of such bad debts recovered in the amount of $13,000 and credited to the reserve account, the adjustment of the normal-tax net income for the taxable year under section 711 (a) (1) (e) would be limited to $10,000. In such case, the excess of the bad debt recoveries over the amount which would have been added to the reserve account had there been no such recoveries, i. e., the $3,000, will decrease the amount to be added to the reserve in the following year, and accordingly such amount may be excluded under section 711 (a) (1) (e) in such following year.

(B) By adding at the end thereof the following:

(2) The Revenue Act of 1945 provides in part as follows:

SEC. 202. REPEAL OF DECLARED VALUE EXCESS PROFITS TAX.

PAR. 6. Section 21.3 (a) is amended to read as follows:

(a) Domestic and foreign corporations—(1) General. With respect to income-tax taxable years ending after June 30, 1942, and before July 1, 1946, the declared value excess profits tax imposed by section 600 (a) is an amount equal to the sum of (i) 6/10 per cent of such portion of the corporation's net income for the income-tax taxable year as is in excess of 10 percent and not in excess of 15 per cent of the declared value, plus (ii) 13 2/10 per cent of such portion of its net income for the income-tax taxable year as is in excess of 15 percent of the declared value, on the capital stock tax return for the last preceding capital stock tax taxable year. (See example (1), § 21.4.) No variation is permitted between the declared value set forth in the corporation's capital stock tax return and the declared value set forth in its declared value excess profits tax return.

(2) Alternative tax where war loss recoveries included in net income. With respect to income-tax taxable years ending after June 30, 1945, and before July 1, 1946, section 600 (b) provides an alternative method for computing the declared value excess profits tax liability in cases where net income includes amounts on account of war loss recoveries under section 127 (c) of the Code. (See also Regulations 111, § 29.127 (c)-1.) In such cases, in lieu of the tax as computed under section 600 (a), the tax shall be an amount computed under section 600 (a) (see paragraph (a) (1) of this section) after excluding from net income the amount of war loss recoveries, plus the lesser of the following:

(i) 1¼ per cent of the amount of the war loss recoveries included in the net income.

(ii) 1¼ per cent of such portion of the net income as would be subject to the declared value excess profits tax if section 600 (b) were not applicable.

See examples (5) (a) and (5) (b), § 21.4.

PAR. 8. Section 21.4 is amended by adding at the end thereof the following:

Examples (5) (a) and (5) (b). These examples illustrate the application of section 600 (b) of the Internal Revenue Code and § 21.3 (a) (2).

(a) Assume the same circumstances as in example (1), except that the year involved is the calendar year ended December 31, 1945, and instead of dividends received in the amount of $5,000, there are war loss recoveries in the amount of $4,250. The computation under section 21.3 (a) (2) is as follows:

(A) Declared value excess profits tax on net income of $25,000, less war loss recoveries of $4,250, or $20,750 (see example (1))	$1,089.00
(B) Under section 21.3 (a) (2) (i): 1¼% of $4,250, the amount of the war loss recoveries	$53.13
(C) Under section 21.3 (a) (2) (ii): 1¼% of $15,000 (the excess of net income over 10% of the declared value), the amount subject to declared value excess profits tax if section 600 (b) were not applicable	187.50
Add to (A) the lesser of (B) and (C)	53.13
Declared value excess profits tax under section 600 (b)	1,142.13

(b) Another example is as follows: Assume the same circumstances as in (a), except that the declared value is $220,000. The computation is as follows:

Net income for calendar year 1945	$25,000
Less war loss recoveries	4,250
Net income exclusive of war loss recoveries	20,750.00
10% of the value declared in the capital stock tax return for the year ended June 30, 1945 (10% of $220,000)	22,000.00
(D) Tax on net income minus war loss recoveries	$0.00
(E) Under section 21.3 (a) (2) (i): 1¼% of war loss recoveries of $4,250	$53.13
(F) Under section 21.3 (a) (2) (ii): 1¼% of such portion of the net income as would be subject to the declared value excess profits tax if subsection 600 (b) were not applicable (1¼% of $3,000 ($25,000 minus $22,000))	37.50
The lesser of (E) and (F)	37.50
Declared value excess profits tax under section 600 (b)	37.50

(Secs. 62 and 603 of the Internal Revenue Code (53 Stat. 32, 111; 26 U.S.C., 1940 ed. 62, 603), and Title II of the Revenue Act of 1945 (Public Law 214, 79th Congress), approved November 8, 1945)

TITLE 38—PENSIONS, BONUSES, AND VETERANS' RELIEF

Chapter I—Veterans' Administration

PART 20—GUARDIANSHIP AND LEGAL ADMINISTRATION

FIDUCIARIES

§ 20.5223 Commitment of mentally incompetent beneficiaries, appointment of guardians for incompetent and minor beneficiaries, and payment of expenses in connection with such appointment. The chief attorney will render all assistance possible to the courts in commitment cases. To this end authorization is made in procedural instructions of the Veterans' Administration, for production of Veterans' Administration records, in court in such proceedings.

§ 20.5224 Costs for commitment of insane veterans. Upon certification by the manager or chief medical officer of a regional office or Veterans' Administration hospital, that commitment of an insane male or female veteran to a Veterans' Administration hospital or to a contract hospital is necessary in order to afford, or continue, authorized care, the chief attorney is hereby delegated authority to authorize in advance court costs and other necessary expenses to accomplish such commitment. Further authority is hereby delegated to the chief attorney to authorize in advance the payment of court costs and other necessary expenses incident to the restoration to sanity of veterans who were committed at the instance of the Veterans' Administration or the costs of whose commitment were paid by the Veterans' Administration. This authority is to be applied in those States, the laws of which require court proceedings for restoration to sanity and in cases in which the veteran is discharged from the hospital upon the premise that further medical care or treatment is not required. Costs or attorney fees will not be reimbursed without authorization of the solicitor.

(a) In those cases where the beneficiary is admitted upon proper authorization from one State to a hospital located in another State, as for example when a patient is sent from Connecticut to the Veterans' Administration hospital, Northampton, Mass., or from Missouri to the Veterans' Administration hospital, Danville, Ill., and commitment is necessary in the State wherein the hospital is located, the chief attorney of the office in whose area the hospital is located will authorize the cost of commitment, and the finance officer in that office will approve and forward for payment, vouchers covering the costs as authorized. In some States such veterans, if insane or incompetent, may be retained for a temporary period only and thereafter must be committed if they are to remain in the hospital. It is intended and desired that the chief attorney within whose area the hospital is located will cooperate fully with the manager of that hospital in all matters pertaining to the commitment of such veterans, and that the chief attorney will authorize the costs thereof, if same are payable by the Veterans' Administration. In order, however, that he may have sufficient information on which to act it is necessary that the sending office either forward the claims file, unless a guardian has been appointed, so as to be received by the office within whose area the hospital is located within 10 days after the veteran is hospitalized, or that the chief attorney of the sending office notify the chief attorney of the office within whose territory the hospital is located of the fact that the veteran has been transferred for hospitalization and that he is deemed to be incompetent or insane. Upon receipt of file or such information the chief attorney will cooperate with the manager of the hospital in regard to any commitment that may be necessary. In such cases the manager of the hospital will take up the question of commitment with the local chief attorney.

If veteran is committed pursuant to the provisions of the Uniform Veterans' Guardianship Act, or similar statute, by a court of the State in which the veteran is located, to a Veterans' Administration hospital in another State recommitment in the latter State will not be necessary nor will costs thereof be paid by the Veterans' Administration.

(b) In some States the law provides that court costs in connection with adjudication of insanity for commitment should be borne by the State, county, or other municipality in which the insane person resides or is located. Usually it is also provided that the amount thereof may be charged to or recovered from the estate of the incompetent or relatives. If there is any provision of law, or administrative regulation issued pursuant to law, whereby such costs are chargeable to the veteran or may be taxed against his estate, his guardian or legal representative, the Veterans' Administration will pay the amount thereof regardless of his ability to pay such costs. When such costs are legally the liability of the State or municipality and may not be assessed against the veteran the chief attorney will not authorize payment of such costs by the Veterans' Administrattion. Any question arising in such States will be reported to the solicitor.

§ 20.5225 Services of Veterans' Administration physician in proceedings incident to adjudication of insanity. When costs are authorized pursuant to §§ 20.5224 or 20.5227 the services of administration physicians will be available for the purpose of testifying in proceedings incident to the adjudication of insanity of veterans who are beneficiaries of the administration, and when required for administration purposes, either for commitment or for appointment of a guardian, or both, subject to the following limitations:

(a) When such testimony is precluded by State law, as where the statute provides that an insane person may not be committed to an institution on the testimony of officials connected with such institution.

No change in (b), (c), (d), or (e), inclusive.

[SEAL] OMAR N. BRADLEY,
General, U. S. Army,
Administrator.

GENERAL PROVISIONS

§ 36.4302 Computation of guaranties or insurance credits. (a) The sum of all guaranties and credits to insurance accounts covering loans made to an individual veteran shall not exceed $2,000 for non-real estate loans, nor $4,000 for real estate loans, nor a proper proportion of such maxima on loans of both types or any combination thereof.

(b) Excepting loans fully guaranteeable under section 505 (a), not more than 50% of the original principal amount of any loan may be guaranteed. The maximum credit to the insurance account of a lender relative to any insured loan shall be 15% of the original principal amount of such loan or the amount thereof which could be guaranteed, whichever is less.

(c) The following formula shall govern the ascertainment of the amount of the guaranty benefit which is available to an eligible veteran:

(1) To compute unused guaranty, add to realty guaranty used for prior loans twice the non-realty guaranty used. Subtract this sum from $4,000. The sum remaining is, subject to the limitations of the act, the amount of realty guaranty available. The non-realty guaranty available is one-half of said sum.

(2) To compute the amount of guaranty on combination loans:

Allow not to exceed 50% of the cost of the real estate but not to exceed the maximum real estate guaranty available;

If any real estate guaranty remain available, not to exceed one-half thereof may be allowed on the non-real estate portion of the loan.

(d) For the purpose of computing the remaining guaranty or insurance benefit to which a veteran is entitled, loans guaranteed prior to the effective date of §§ 36.4300 to 36.4375, inclusive, shall be taken into consideration as if made subsequent thereto.

(e) A loan made by an insurable lender may be either guaranteed or insured at the option of the borrower and the lender: Provided, That if the Administrator is not advised of the exercise of such option at the time the loan is reported pursuant to §§ 36.4303 (c) or 36.4304 (c) hereof such loan will not be eligible for insurance.

(f) A guaranty is reduced or increased pro rata with any reduction or increase in the amount of the guaranteed indebtedness, but in no event will the amount payable on a guaranty exceed the amount of the original guaranty or the percentage of the indebtedness corresponding to that of the original guaranty.

(g) The amount of any guaranty or the amount credited to a lender's insurance account in relation to any insured loan shall be charged against the original or remainder of the guaranty benefit of the borrower. Complete or partial liquidation, by payment or otherwise, of the veteran's guaranteed or insured indebtedness does not increase the remainder of the guaranty benefit, if any, otherwise available to the veteran. When the maximum amount of guaranty or insurance legally available to a veteran shall have been granted, no further guaranty or insurance is available to him.

§ 36.4303 Evidence of automatic guarantics; insurance advices. (a) Evidence of automatic guaranty will be issued by the Administrator by appropriate endorsement on the note or other instrument evidencing the obligation, or by a separate certificate at the option of the lender. Notice of credit to an insurance account will be afforded by appropriate evidence. No evidence of a guaranty or insurance will be issued on any transaction unless the lender, the veteran and the loan are shown to be eligible. An automatic guaranty must be based upon the original discharge certificate, or a certificate of eligibility issued by the Administrator, and in the event of conflicting loans, or of several loans to the same veteran, the available guaranty or insurance reserve shall be applied to the loans in the order they are reported to the Veterans' Administration.

(b) Certificate of eligibility issued prior to the date of §§ 36.4300 to 36.4375, inclusive, will be void after September 30, 1946, and should therefore be returned immediately to the Veterans' Administration for a new certificate of eligibility, upon which may be endorsed the amount of guaranty benefit used or available. In any event, any certificate issued prior to the date of §§ 36.4300 to 36.4375, inclusive, will be void after September 30, 1946.

(c) (1) Evidence of automatic guaranty or of insurance will be issuable if the loan is reported to the Administrator within 30 days following full disbursement, and upon the certification of the lender that:

(i) The loan has been made in full accordance with the terms and provisions of the act,

(ii) The required security has been obtained,

(iii) There has been full disbursement of the proceeds for an eligible purpose to the veteran borrower, or for his benefit at his direction, and

(iv) There has been no default thereunder;

Provided, That loans eligible for an automatic guaranty which are made between the effective date of the act and the date of issuance of §§ 36.4300 to 36.4375, inclusive, may be so reported for either a guaranty or for insurance at any time within 30 days after the latter date.

(2) Where the report shows that a portion of the proceeds is held in escrow or in an earmarked account for future disbursement there shall be sent with the report a copy of the escrow or other agreement, if any. The amount payable on account of such guaranty or insurance shall be reduced ratably by crediting to the indebtedness, for such purpose the amount of the escrowed or earmarked funds in the event of the failure of the lender to report to the Administrator within 30 days after the payment of such funds out of the escrow or earmarked account:

(i) The purpose for which such funds were expended,

(ii) The identity of any property purchased therewith, if any,

(iii) That such property has been encumbered to the extent required by § 36.4300 to 36.4375, inclusive, and

(iv) To qualify the disbursement by a proper appraisal in the event any change in the identity of the property is involved.

(d) Such evidence of automatic guaranty or of insurance will be issuable upon loans partially disbursed, if the loan is reported to the Administrator within 30 days following such disbursement and upon certification of the lender that:

(1) The loan has been made in full accordance with the terms and provisions of the act and §§ 36.4300 to 36.4375, inclusive,

(2) The required security had been obtained,

(3) The proceeds have been disbursed by the lender for an eligible purpose to the veteran borrower or for his benefit at his direction, and

(i) The lender acted in good faith, and

(ii) A person of reasonable prudence similarly situated would not make further disbursements in the situation presented, and

(4) There has been no default thereunder.

(The provisions of § 36.4305 (c) shall be applicable to all construction loan cases, and the provisions of paragraph (c) (2) of this section shall apply to escrowed or earmarked funds.)

§ 36.4304 Prior confirmation of eligibility or prior approval of loans. (a) With respect to loans to be made on a guaranteed or insured basis by a lender specified under section 500 (d), except loans of the type referred to in paragraphs (b) (2) and (3), the lender may, prior to the closing of such loan, request confirmation from the Administrator of:

(1) The veteran's eligibility;

(2) Amount of guaranty or insurance credit available to the veteran and;

(3) Eligibility of the purpose of the loan.

(b) With respect to (1) loans proposed to be made on a guaranteed basis by a lender not within the class of lenders specified in section 500 (d) or (2) loans submitted by any lender for issuance of a certificate of approval on either a guaranty or for insurance prior to full disbursement or (3) loans in excess of $15,000 submitted for insurance, the Administrator upon determining the loan to be eligible for a guaranty, or for insurance in appropriate cases at the election of the parties to the loan, will issue a certificate of approval thereon.

(c) Upon completion of the loan in full compliance with the act, the regulations, and the terms of his contract with the borrower, and full disbursement of the proceeds of the loan, and the reporting thereof to the Administrator, the holder of a certificate of approval shall become entitled to the issuance of a certificate or endorsement of guaranty or an appropriate advice of a credit to the insurance account, as the case may be. With respect to any loan for alterations, improvements or repairs, or for construction, a supplemental appraisal must be submitted in conjunction with such final report to evidence the satisfactory completion of the work in compliance with the terms of the contract.

§ 36.4305 Deviations; changes of identity. (a) A deviation of more than 5% between the estimates upon which a certificate of approval has been issued and the report of final payment of the proceeds of the loan or a change in the identity of the property upon which the original appraisal was based will invalidate the certificate of approval unless such deviation or change be approved by the Administrator: Provided, That substitution of materials of equal or better quality and value approved by the veteran and the designated appraiser shall not be deemed a "change in the identity of the property" within the purview of this section.

(1) Any such change in the identity of the property or materials upon which the original appraisal was based must be supported by a new or supplemental appraisal of reasonable value.

(2) If any such deviation results from intervening occurrences not within the reasonable control of the lender which preclude the lender from completing disbursement of the proceeds of the loan in full, the lender shall be entitled, except in section 505 (a) cases, subject to the other provisions of this section, to a guaranty or credit to his insurance account computed ratably upon the amount actually and properly disbursed at the same percentage as would have been applicable to the fully disbursed loan as shown on the certificate of approval of:

(i) The lender acted in good faith, and

(ii) A person of reasonable prudence similarly situated would not make further disbursements in the situation presented.

(b) A deviation of less than 5% which increases the amount of a loan will not increase the amount of a guaranty or of an insurance credit above the maximum amount set forth on the certificate of approval. Where a deviation of less than 5% results in a disbursement of a lesser sum than that reported on the application, the difference shall be credited to the principal indebtedness as of the date thereof.

(c) If the loan involved is a construction loan the benefit of this section, within the limitations of §§ 36.4300 to 36.4375, inclusive, shall be available to the lender upon his further certification, or other evidence acceptable to the Administrator as showing that:

(1) The amount disbursed does not exceed 80% of the value of that portion of the construction performed (basing value on the contract price), plus the sum, if any, disbursed by the lender out of the proceeds of the loan for the land on which the construction is situated;

(2) Any amount advanced for land is protected by title or lien as provided in §§ 36.4300 to 36.4375, inclusive; and

(3) No liens exist or can become enforceable for any work done or material furnished with respect to that portion of the construction performed, or upon which payment has been made.

§ 36.4306 Refunding of outstanding indebtedness. (a) No obligation incurred more than 60 days prior to the date of application to the lender for a loan to be guaranteed or insured hereunder is eligible to be refinanced through the proceeds of a guaranteed or insured loan, excepting (1) section 507 loans, (2) loans which refinance the balance due on a land sale contract, or (3) the balance due for the purchase of land on which new construction is to be situated.

(b) If any such ineligible obligation is included in the amount of a loan submitted for a guaranty or insurance, that part of the new loan which such obligation serves to refinance shall be excluded in computing the amount of the initial guaranty or the credit to the insurance account of the lender.

§ 36.4307 Joint loans. (a) The fact that other parties (1) will have an undivided interest with the veteran in the ownership of property, or (2) have joint and several liability with the veteran on a guaranteed or insured obligation shall not make a loan ineligible, but the amount of the loan upon which the guarantee or insurance shall be based in the case of a real estate loan, shall be proportional to the value of the veteran's interest in the property or estate; or, in the case of a non-real estate loan, shall be the reasonable value to the veteran of his participating share in or on his individual contribution to the enterprise. If the property so purchased is an interest in real property or a leasehold estate, the obligation shall be secured by a first lien (or by a second lien if under section 505) on the entire property or estate, or if an interest in personalty, shall be secured to the extent "legal and practicable."

(b) If two or more eligible veterans are joint-obligors and request a guaranty or credit to an insurance account, the total amount guaranteed or credited shall be charged equally to their respective guaranty benefits, or apportioned otherwise as they may designate. Regardless of the number of eligible veterans who are joint-obligors the maximum guaranty or insurance shall be calculated as if the obligation were several.

(c) Notwithstanding the interest of a veteran's spouse, as such, the full amount of the loan may be the basis for guaranty or insurance. If both spouses be eligible veterans, the maximum proportion of the loan which may be guaranteed or insured will not be increased, but either or both may, within such limitations, utilize available guaranty or insurance entitlement.

§ 36.4308 Transfer of title by borrower. The conveyance of, or other transfer of title to property by operation of law or otherwise, after the creation of a lien thereon to secure a loan which is guaranteed or insured in whole or in part by the Administrator, shall not constitute an event of default, elective or otherwise, and shall not terminate or otherwise affect a guaranty or an insurance contract unless (a) the holder by express agreement for that purpose releases or otherwise discharges the veteran from personal liability thereon; or (b) by indulgence of, or by agreement with, the veteran's immediate or remote grantee or transferee contrary to §§ 36.4300 to 36.4375, inclusive, and without the consent of the Administrator the holder so alters the contract made by the veteran with the lender as to cause discharge of the veteran or his estate by operation of law.

§ 36.4309 Amortization. (a) All loans the maturity date of which is beyond five years from date of loan, or date of assumption by the veteran, shall be amortized. The schedule of payments thereon shall require approximately equal periodic payments not less often than annually during the life of the loan; except that such installments may be varied on farm and business loans to allow for seasonal fluctuations of income, and on farm real estate loans to postpone principal repayments for not more than two years from the date of the loan.

(b) Every guaranteed or insured loan shall be repayable within the economic life of the property securing the loan.

§ 36.4310 Prepayment. The debtor shall have the right to prepay at any time, without premium or fee, the entire indebtedness or any part thereof not less than the amount of one installment, or $100, whichever is less.

§ 36.4311 Interest rates. (a) Excepting non-real estate loans insured under section 508 of the act, the interest rate on any loan guaranteed or insured wholly or in part may not exceed 4% per annum on the unpaid principal balafice.

(b) On a non-real estate insured loan the interest rate may not be in excess of an amount equivalent to $3.00 discount per $100.00 of original face amount of a one-year note, payable in equal monthly installments, or in the equivalent simple interest rate of 5.70% per annum

(c) Interest in excess of the applicable rate specified in the act shall not be payable on any advance, or in the event of any delinquency or default: Provided, That a late charge not in excess of an amount equal to 4% on any installment paid more than 15 days after due date shall not be considered a violation of this limitation.

§ 36.4312 Closing costs. (a) Any costs or expenses incurred in closing a loan or purchase and normally required to be paid by a purchaser or lienor incident to the making of a loan under local lending customs may be paid out of the proceeds of a guaranteed or insured loan except that no brokerage or service charge or their equivalent may be charged against the debtor or the proceeds of the loan, either initially or periodically: Provided, That a lender shall not be precluded from making a customary charge in construction loan cases for supervision and inspection during the course of construction.

(b) Brokerage or other charges shall not be made against the veteran for obtaining any guaranty, or insurance under section 508 of this title, nor shall any premiums for insurance on the life of the borrower be paid out of the proceeds of a loan, except that not to exceed premiums for two years may be paid out of a business nonrealty loan on insurance not in excess of the amount of the loan.

§ 36.4313 Advances and other charges. (a) A holder may charge against a guaranteed or insured indebtedness or the proceeds of the security therefor, any reasonable expense necessary and proper for the maintenance or repair of the security or for the payment of accrued taxes, special assessments, ground or water rent, or premiums on fire or other casualty insurance against loss of or damage to such property. Any expenses other than those expressly permitted may be debited against the indebtedness or deducted from the proceeds of the sale of the security if lawfully authorized by the loan agreement: Provided, That such other expenses shall not be considered in determining the amount payable by the Administrator, except as provided in paragraph (b) of this section.

(b) The holder may charge against the proceeds of the sale of the security in accounting therefor to the Administrator after a guaranty or insurance claim or in computing the amount of claim filed after incurrence of the expense item,

(1) Any expense which is reasonably necessary for preservation of the security,

(2) Court costs in a foreclosure or other proper judicial proceeding involving the security,

(3) Other expenses actually incurred and reasonably necessary for collecting the debt or repossessing the security,

(4) Statutory or valid contractual trustee's fees not exceeding 5% of the unpaid indebtedness,

(5) Reasonable amount for legal services actually performed not to exceed 10% of the unpaid indebtedness as of the date of the first uncured default, or $250 whichever is less,

(6) Any other expense that is approved in advance by the Administrator.

(c) Nothing in this section shall be construed to authorize any charge against the debtor unless he otherwise be liable therefor.

§ 36.4314 Extensions. (a) The terms of repayment of any loan may by written agreement be extended by a holder at the request of the debtor in the event of default, or to avoid imminent default. Except with the prior approval of the Administrator, no such extension shall (1) set a rate of amortization less than that sufficient to fully amortize at least 80% of the loan balance so extended in approximately equal installments or by regular seasonal payments within the maximum maturity prescribed for loans of its class, or (2) be agreed to by a holder if such action will release any obligor from liability.

(b) The holder shall promptly forward to the Administrator an executed duplicate of any such extension agreement.

(c) On receiving notice of a default on any amortized loan having a shorter maturity than the permissible maximum the Administrator may request the holder to grant such an extension up to the maximum term permitted by the act. In the event the holder refuses to grant such request the Administrator may require an assignment of the loan and security pursuant to § 36.4318 (a).

§ 36.4315 Reporting of defaults. (a) If the failure of any debtor to comply with the terms of a guaranteed or insured obligation shall have persisted as long as six months or as long as two months on a loan extended under § 36.4314, the holder of the indebtedness must give prompt notice of such failure to the Administrator.

(b) The Administrator may approve the holder's request, if any, to postpone action to press his claim against the debtor, or against the property. Such postponement, with the consent of the Administrator, shall not operate to void or diminish the ultimate liability of the Administrator or any obligor: Provided, That if the holder, failing to obtain such consent, fails to proceed within two months toward liquidation of the security the Administrator in addition to the right to pursue any legal or equitable remedies which may be available, may fix a date beyond which no further charges may be included in the computation of the guaranty claim or an insured loss, or

(c) If the holder does not begin appropriate action within two months after requested in writing by the Administrator, the Administrator shall be entitled to begin and prosecute to completion any action or proceeding, in his name or in the name of the holder, which the Administrator deems necessary or appropriate to liquidate the loan or the security therefor. The Administrator shall advance, or pay, the costs and expenses thereof, but may charge the same, including a reasonable amount for legal services, against the guaranteed or insured indebtedness or the proceeds of the sale of the security to the same extent the holder would be allowed to charge such costs, expenses, and fees against the indebtedness without the consent of the Administrator.

§ 36.4316 Continued default. (a) In the event any failure of the debtor to discharge his obligations under the loan continues for a period of three months, or for more than one month on an extended loan or on a term loan, the holder may at his option, then or thereafter, submit a claim for payment of the guaranty. He may also then or thereafter give the notice prescribed in § 36.4317.

(b) A claim for the guaranty, or the notice prescribed in § 36.4317 may be submitted prior to the time prescribed in paragraph (a) in any case where any material prejudice to the rights of the holder or to the Administrator or hazard to the security warrants more prompt action.

§ 36.4317 Notice of intention to foreclose. Except upon the express waiver of the Administrator, a holder shall not begin proceedings in court or give notice of sale under power of sale, or otherwise take steps to terminate the debtor's rights in the security until the expiration of 30 days after delivery by registered mail to the Administrator of a notice of intention to take such action: Provided, That (a) immediate action may be taken if the property to be affected thereby has been transferred or abandoned by the debtor, or has been or may be otherwise subjected to extraordinary waste or hazard, or if there exist conditions justifying the appointment of a receiver for the property (without reference to any contractual provisions for such appointment), and (b) any right of a holder to repossess personal property may be exercised without prior notice to the Administrator; but notice of any such action taken shall be given by registered mail to the Administrator within 10 days thereafter.

§ 36.4318 Refunding of loans in default. (a) Upon receiving a notice of default or a claim for a guaranty or a notice under § 36.4317, the Administrator may within 30 days thereafter require the holder upon penalty of otherwise losing the guaranty or insurance to transfer and assign the loan and the security therefor to the Administrator or to another designated by him upon receipt of payment in full of the balance of the indebtedness remaining unpaid to the date of such assignment. Such assignment may be made without recourse but the transferor shall not thereby be relieved from the provisions of § 36.4325.

(b) If the obligation is assigned or transferred to a third party pursuant to paragraph (a) of this section the Administrator may continue in effect the guaranty or insurance issued with respect to the previous loan in such manner as to cover the assignee or transferee.

§ 36.4319 Legal proceedings. (a) When the holder shall have become a party in any legal or equitable proceeding brought on or in connection with the guaranteed or insured indebtedness, or involving title to, or other lien on, the security, such holder, within the time that would be required if the Administrator were a party to the proceeding, shall deliver to the Administrator, by mail or otherwise, by making such delivery to the loan guarantee officer at the office which granted the guaranty or the insurance, or other office to which the holder has been notified the file is transferred, a copy of every procedural paper, except notice of or motions for orders of continuance, filed on behalf of holder, and shall also so deliver, as promptly as possible, copies of all such pleadings served on holder or filed in the cause by any other party thereto.

(b) Copy of any notice of sale served on the holder or of which he has knowledge shall be similarly delivered to the Administrator, including any such notice of sale under tax or other superior lien or other judicial sale.

(c) The procedure prescribed in paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section shall not be applicable in any proceeding to which the Administrator is a party, after his appearance shall have been entered therein by a duly authorized attorney.

(d) In any legal or equitable proceeding (including probate and bankruptcy proceedings) to which the Administrator is a party, original process and any other process prior to appearance, proper to be served on the Administrator, shall be delivered to the loan guarantee officer of the regional office of the Veterans Administration having jurisdiction of the area in which the court is situated. Within the time required by applicable law, or rule of court, the Administrator will cause appropriate special or general appearance to be entered in the cause by his authorized attorney.

(e) After appearance of the Administrator by attorney all process and notice otherwise proper to serve on the Administrator before or after judgment, if served on his attorney of record shall have the same effect as if the Administrator were personally served within the jurisdiction of the court.

§ 36.4320 Sale of security. (a) If any security for a guaranteed or insured loan is to be disposed of through a private sale, the amount to be realized therefrom shall be reported in the notice required under § 36.4317, or by subsequent written advice at least 10 days in advance of the sale, and the Administrator may thereupon either assent to such sale, or upon agreement to indemnify the holder to the extent of any increased or resultant loss consequent thereon, may establish an upset price which shall govern in adjusting the rights and liabilities of the holder and the Administrator.

(b) Upon receipt of notice of a public sale to liquidate any security for a guaranteed or insured loan the Administrator may appraise such security and notify the holder in advance of the sale of the amount required to be credited to the indebtedness on account of the sale thereof, subject to the following alternatives:

(1) If a third party acquires the security at the sale the holder shall credit against the indebtedness the net proceeds of the sale, or the amount specified by the Administrator, whichever is the greater.

(2) If the holder acquires the security at the sale he shall credit the indebtedness for the purpose of accounting to the Administrator, the amount specified by the Administrator, paying over to the Administrator, the excess if any by which such credit exceeds the sum required to satisfy the indebtedness and may further dispose of the security in accordance with the rights he derived through the sale, or he may within 15 days after the date of the sale advise the Administrator of his election to transfer or convey the security, or the rights therein derived through the sale, to the Administrator in return for payment of the specified amount required to be credited to the indebtedness, or the amount required to satisfy the indebtedness, whichever is the less.

(3) Upon receiving repayment in full of all payments made on the guaranty or insurance, or upon such other terms as may be agreed, the Administrator shall deliver appropriate release of all rights in the property accruing by reason of the guaranty or insurance of the loan.

(c) When a debtor proposes to transfer or convey any security or other property to a holder to avoid foreclosure or other judicial, contractual, or statutory disposition or relinquishment of the obligation or of the security the consent of the Administrator to the terms of such proposal shall be obtained in advance of such transfer or conveyance. Prior to giving such consent the Administrator shall appraise the property which is to be transferred or conveyed and shall fix the amount which the holder shall be required to allow for the value of any such property in any subsequent accounting to the Administrator for a surplus resultant after payment of a guaranty, or in computing the net loss on a loan insured under section 508. The holder shall be entitled to elect to transfer or convey the property to the Administrator upon payment by the Administrator of the stated valuation up to the amount thereof required to satisfy in full the remaining balance of the indebtedness. Such election must be exercised by the holder within 15 days after receiving the transfer or conveyance of the property or he will be deemed to have elected to retain the property and to allow the required credit.

(d) If under the applicable State law, or decree of foreclosure or order of sale a minimum acceptable bid is provided, and the maximum bid for the property fails to equal such amount at the sale or if the court refuses to confirm a foreclosure sale, the creditor may submit to the Administrator a proposal for an agreement as to value of such property for purposes of a claim for guaranty, or insurance, or for accounting to the Administrator in respect of the property pursuant to §§ 36.4321 (b) and 36.4321 (c). The Administrator thereupon shall proceed in the manner provided in paragraph (c) and fix the value of the property. The value so fixed by the Administrator shall govern as between the Administrator and the creditor if the creditor elects to proceed with further sale of such property pursuant to said decree or order. If the creditor does not so elect the rights and liabilities of all parties will remain unaffected by such submission.

§ 36.4321 Computation of guaranty claims. (a) Subject to the limitation that the total amount payable shall in no event exceed the amount originally guaranteed, the amount payable on a claim for the guranty shall be the percentage of the loan originally guaranteed applied to the indebtedness computed as of the date of claim but not later than (1) the date of judgment or of decree of foreclosure, or (2) in non-judicial foreclosures the date of publication of the first notice of sale, or (3) in cases in which the security is repossessed without a judgment, decree or foreclosure the date the holder repossesses the security, or (4) if no security is available or no repossession takes place, the date of claim but not more than six months after the first uncured default. Deposits or other credits or setoffs legally applicable to the indebtedness on the date of computation shall be applied in reduction of the indebtedness on which the claim is based. Any escrowed or earmarked funds not subject to superior claims of third persons must likewise be so applied.

(b) Credits accruing from the proceeds of a sale or other disposition of the security subsequent to the date of computation, and prior to the submission of the claim, shall be reported to the Administrator incident to such submission, and the amount payable on the claim shall in no event exceed the remaining balance of the indebtedness.

(c) The claimant shall be deemed to have received as trustee for the benefit of the United States any amounts received on account of the indebtedness after the date of the claim, from the proceeds of a sale of the security or otherwise, to the extent such credits exceed the balance of the indebtedness unsatisfied by the payment of the guaranty. He shall forthwith pay such amounts to the Administrator to the extent of the debtor's liability to the Administrator as guarantor.

(d) Interest, and any allowable expenditures or costs, accruing subsequent to the date of the claim, may be deducted by the holder from the proceeds of the sale of the security, and may be included in any subsequent accounting to the Administrator for a surplus or in connection with a transfer of the loan under § 36.4318 (a).

§ 36.4322 Computation of indebtedness. In computing the indebtedness for the purpose of filing a claim for payment of a guaranty or for payment of an insured loss, or in the event of a transfer of the loan under § 36.4318 (a), or other accounting to the Administrator, the holder shall not be entitled to treat repayments theretofore made as liquidated damages, or rentals, or otherwise than as payments on the indebtedness, notwithstanding any provision in the note, or mortgage, or otherwise, to the contrary.

§ 36.4323 Subrogation and indemnity. (a) The Administrator shall be subrogated to the contract and the lien or other rights of the holder to the extent of any sum paid on a guaranty or on account of an insured loss, which right shall be junior to the holder's rights as against the debtor or the encumbered property until the holder shall have received the full amount payable under his contract with the debtor. No partial or complete release by a creditor shall impair the rights of the Administrator with respect to the debtor's obligation.

(b) The holder, upon request, shall execute, acknowledge and deliver an appropriate instrument tendered him for that purpose, evidencing any payment received from the Administrator and the Administrator's resulting right of subrogation.

(c) The Administrator shall cause the instrument required by paragraph (b) of this section to be filed for record in the office of the recorder of deeds, or other appropriate office of the proper county, town or State, in accordance with the applicable State law. The filing or failure to file such instrument for record shall have the legal results prescribed by the applicable law of the State where the real or personal property is situated, with respect to filing or failure to so file mortgages and other lien instruments and assignments thereof.

The references herein to "filing for record" include "registration" or any similar transaction, by whatever name designated when title to the encumbered property has been "registered" pursuant to a Torrens or other similar title registration system provided by law.

(d) As a condition to paying a claim for an insured loss the Administrator may require that the loan, including any security or judgment held therefor, be assigned to the extent of such payment, and if any claim has been filed in bankruptcy, insolvency, probate, or similar proceedings such claim may likewise be required to be so assigned.

(e) Any amounts paid by the Administrator on account of the liabilities of any veteran guaranteed or insured under the provisions of the act shall constitute a debt owing to the United States by such veteran.

§ 36.4324 Release of security. (a) Except upon full payment of the indebtedness the release of a lien or other right in or to real property held as security for a guaranteed or insured loan shall not be effective without joinder therein by the Administrator. Joinder may be obtained in proper cases upon terms to be agreed upon.

(b) Paragraph (a) of this section shall not apply to any release, or grant of the fee in any part of or any interest in, the realty which in the opinion of the holder does not involve a decrease in the value of the security of more than 5% of the indebtedness, or $300, and consent is hereby given for such releases or grants without joinder by the Administrator.

(c) Holder may release from the lien personal property including crops without joinder by the Administrator.

(d) It shall be the duty of the holder to apply the consideration received for a release pursuant to paragraphs (a), (b), or (c) of this section to the unpaid indebtedness, or if encumbrance on other property is accepted in lieu of that released, it shall be holder's duty to acquire such lien on property of substantially equal value, and to refrain from substitution of security on any other basis except with prior consent of the Administrator.

(e) Any loss due to failure of the holder to comply with the provisions of this section shall pro tanto reduce any liability under the guaranty or insurance but such failure shall not in itself affect the validity of the title to the property released as to any purchaser for value without knowledge thereof.

(f) The holder shall notify the Administrator of any such release or substitution of security within 10 days after completion of such transaction.

(g) The release of the personal liability of any obligor on a guaranteed or insured obligation resultant from the act or omission of any holder without the prior approval of the Administrator shall release the obligation of the Administrator as guarantor or insurer.

(h) Nothing herein shall be construed to restrict the expenditure of working capital, the processing of materials, or the sale of merchandise or inventory in the ordinary course of business.

(i) Increase derived from livestock which constitutes security is not required to be included in the lien, and when so included may be disposed of by agreement between holder and debtor without advising the Administrator of such disposition.

§ 36.4325 Partial or total loss of guaranty or insurance. (a) There shall be no liability on account of a guaranty or insurance with respect to a transaction in which a signature to either the note, the mortgage, or any other loan papers, or the application for guaranty or insurance is a forgery; or in which the discharge or certificate of eligibility is counterfeited, or falsified, or is not issued by the Government.

Except as to a claimant on a negotiable instrument who acquired same before maturity, for value, and without notice, any material misrepresentation or fraud by the lender, or by the holder, or the agent of either, in procuring the guaranty, the insurance credit, or a transfer thereof, shall relieve the Administrator of liability.

(b) If any holder fails to comply with the act and §§ 36.4300 to 36.4375, inclusive, with respect to:

(1) Obtaining and retaining a lien of the dignity required on all property reported as being encumbered to secure a loan,

(2) Inclusion of power to substitute trustees (§ 36.4327),

(3) The procurement and maintenance of insurance coverage (§ 36.4326),

(4) Advice to Administrator as to default (§ 36.4315),

(5) Notice of intention to begin action (§ 36.4317),

(6) Notice to the Administrator in any suit or action, or notice of sale (§ 36.4319),

(7) The release, conveyance, substitution or exchange of security, except as provided in §§ 36.4300 to 36.4375, inclusive,

(8) Lack of legal capacity of a party to the transaction incident to which the guaranty or the insurance is granted (§ 36.4328),

(9) Failure of the lender to see that any escrowed or earmarked account is expended in accordance with the agreement, no claim on the guaranty or insurance shall be paid on account of the loan with respect to which such failure occurred until the loss, if any, resulting from such failure is determined. The burden shall be upon the holder to establish that such loss or any part thereof is not attributable to such failure. If so established, the amount payable, if any, shall be calculated as though the amount of the loss attributable to such failure had been paid on the indebtedness. If after the payment of a guaranty or an insurance loss, or after a loan is transferred pursuant to § 36.4318 (a), the failure to comply with the regulations as provided in this paragraph is discovered and the Administrator claims that a loss resulted the transferor or person to whom such payment was made shall reimburse the Administrator except as to so much of the loss as such person or transferor establishes was not attributable to such failure.

§ 36.4326 Hazard insurance. The holder shall require insurance policies to be procured and maintained in an amount sufficient to protect the security against the risks or hazards to which it may be subjected to the extent customary in the locality. All monies received under such policies covering payment of insured losses shall be applied to restoration of the security or to the loan balance.

§ 36.4327 Substitution of trustees. In jurisdictions in which valid, any deed of trust or mortgage securing a guaranteed or insured loan, if it names trustees, or confers a power of sale otherwise, shall contain a provision empowering any holder of the indebtedness to appoint substitute trustees, or other person with such power to sell, who shall succeed to all the rights, powers and duties of the trustees, or other person, originally designated.

§ 36.4328 Capacity of parties to contract. Nothing in §§ 36.4300 to 36.4375, inclusive, shall be construed to relieve any lender of responsibility otherwise existing, for any loss caused by the lack of legal capacity of any person to contract, convey, or encumber, or caused by the existence of other legal disability or defects invalidating, or rendering unenforceable in whole or in part, either the loan obligation or the security therefor.

§ 36.4329 Geographical limits. Any real property purchased, constructed, altered, improved, or repaired with the proceeds of a guaranteed or insured loan, and the principal place of business of any enterprise in connection with which a loan is obtainable under sections 503 or 507 of the act, shall be situated within the United States, defined in the act as the several States, territories and possessions and the District of Columbia.

§ 36.4330 Accounting records. (a) The holder shall maintain a record of the amounts of payments received on the obligation and disbursements chargeable thereto, and the dates thereof. Any holder who fails to maintain such record shall be presumed to have received on the dates due all sums which by the terms of the contract are payable prior to date of claim for default, and the burden of going forward with evidence and of ultimate proof of the contrary shall be on such holder.

(b) The Administrator has the right to inspect, examine, or audit, at a reasonable time and place, the records or accounts of a holder pertaining to loans guaranteed or insured by the Administrator.

§ 36.4331 Disqualification of lenders. Whenever a loan guarantee officer finds with respect to loans guaranteed or insured under the act that any lender or holder has failed to maintain adequate loan accounting records, or to demonstrate proper ability to service loans adequately, or to exercise proper credit judgment, or has willfully or negligently engaged in practices otherwise detrimental to the interests of veterans or of the Government, he may temporarily suspend the right of such lender or holder to secure guaranty or insurance on loans under Title III of the act pending reference of the matter to the central office for investigation or action as may be necessary and apropriate. Upon a proper hearing at which the lender or holder shall have an opportunity to appear in person or by counsel, or both, and to introduce evidence, the Administrator, if he deems sufficient cause has been shown therefor, may decline for a specified period to issue further evidence of guaranty or insurance.

§ 36.4332 Delivery of notice. Any notice required by §§ 36.4300 to 36.4375, inclusive, to be given the Administrator must be in writing, and delivered, by mail or otherwise, to the Veterans' Administration office at which the guaranty or insurance was issued, or to any changed address of which the holder has been given notice. Such notice must plainly identify the case by setting forth the name of the original veteran obligor and the file number assigned to the case by the Administrator, if available, or otherwise the name and serial number of the veteran. If mailed, the notice shall be by registered mail when so provided by §§ 36.4300 to 36.4375, inclusive. This section does not apply to legal process (see § 36.4319).

§ 36.4333 Satisfaction of indebtedness. Upon full satisfaction of a guaranty or insured loan by payment or otherwise it shall be the duty of the holder to cancel the endorsement, if any, of the Administrator; and forthwith inform the Administrator of such cancelation. In the event the Administrator's liability is evidenced by an instrument separate from the instrument evidencing the debtor's obligation, the instrument evidencing the obligation of the Administrator shall be returned to the Veterans' Administration office issuing same, or to the central office, with the holder's cancelation or endorsement of release thereon.

§ 36.4334 Incorporation by reference. Regulations issued under the act, and in effect on the date of any loan which is submitted and accepted or approved for a guaranty or for insurance thereunder shall govern the rights, duties and liabilities of the parties to such loan and any provisions of the loan instruments inconsistent with such regulations are hereby amended and supplemented to conform thereto.

§ 36.4335 Supplementary administrative action. Notwithstanding any requirement, condition or limitation stated in or imposed by §§ 36.4300 to 36.4375, inclusive, the Administrator, within the limitations and conditions prescribed in the act, may take such action as may be necessary to relieve any undue prejudice to a debtor or holder which might otherwise result, provided such action shall not impair the vested rights of any person affected thereby.

§ 36.4336 Eligibility of loans; reasonable value requirements. No loan is guaranteeable or insurable the proceeds of which have been expended or will be expended for property, or for construction, alterations, repairs or improvements, the purchase price or cost of which is in excess of the reasonable value of the same as determined by a proper appraisal made by an appraiser designated by the Administrator. Nor in any case in which a lien is required by §§ 36.4300 to 36.4375, inclusive, may such purchase price or cost when added to the amount remaining unpaid on obligations secured by prior liens, be in excess of the reasonable value of the subject property as so improved.

§ 36.4337 Security; non-real estate loans. To the extent legal and practicable under customary business practice, all loans made for the purchase, alteration, improvement, repair or production of tangible personal property will be secured by such property in the usual legal form employed in the locality in transactions where rights in personal property are reserved as security for the payment of its purchase price or for the cost of work done or materials applied thereto.

§ 36.4338 Death or insolvency of holder. (a) Immediately upon the death of the holder and without the necessity of request or other action by the debtor or the Administrator, all sums then standing as a credit balance in a trust, or deposit, or other account to cover taxes, insurance accruals, or other items in connection with the loan secured by the encumbered property, whether stated to be such or otherwise designated, and which have not been credited on the note shall, nevertheless, be treated as a set-off and shall be deemed to have been credited thereon as of the date of the last debit to such account, so that the unpaid balance of the note as of that date will be reduced by the amount of such credit balance: Provided, That any unpaid, taxes, insurance premiums, ground rents, or advances may be paid by the holder of the indebtedness, at his option, and the amount which otherwise would have been deemed to have been credited on the note reduced accordingly. This paragraph shall be applicable whether the estate of the deceased holder is solvent or insolvent.

(b) The provisions of paragraph (a) of this section shall also be applicable in the event of:

(1) Insolvency of holder;

(2) Initiation of any bankruptcy or reorganization, or liquidation proceedings as to the holder, whether voluntary or involuntary;

(3) Appointment of a general or ancillary receiver for the holder's property; or in any case

(4) Upon the written request of the debtor if all secured and due insurance premiums, taxes, and ground rents have been paid, and appropriate provisions made for future accruals.

(c) Upon the occurrence of any of the events enumerated in paragraphs (a) or (b) of this section, interest on the note and on the credit balance of the deposits mentioned in paragraph (a) shall be set off against each other at the rate payable on the principal of the note, as of the date of last debit to the deposit account. Any excess credit of interest shall be treated as a set-off against the unpaid advances, if any, and the unpaid balance of the note.

(d) The provisions of paragraphs (a), (b) and (c) of this section shall apply also to corporations. The dissolution thereof by expiration of charter, by forfeiture, or otherwise shall be treated as is the death of an individual as provided in paragraph (a).

§ 36.4339 Qualification for designated appraisers. (a) To qualify for approval as a designated appraiser, an applicant must show to the satisfaction of the Administrator that his character, experience, and the type of work in which he has had experience for at least five years, qualifies him competently to appraise and value within a prescribed area the type of property to which the approval relates.

(b) Subject to the provision of § 36.4340 a lender shall have the right to select any appraiser from the panel of designated appraisers.

§ 36.4340 Restriction on designated appraisers. A designated appraiser shall not make an appraisal, excepting of alterations, improvements or repairs to real property entailing a cost of not more than $1,000, if such appraiser is an officer, director, trustee, employer or employee of the lender, contractor, or vendor: Provided, That appraisals of non-real estate loans may be made by an officer, director, trustee, employer or employee of a lender of a class specified under sections 500 (d) or 508 of the act.

§ 36.4341 Suspension or removal of appraisers. Upon it appearing that an appraiser designated by the Administrator is not qualified to make appraisals of the type for which he was appointed, or has engaged in any practice detrimental to the interests of the veteran, the lender, or the Government, he may be suspended or removed by the Administrator: Provided, That such action shall not prejudice the guaranty or insurance right of a lender who has in good faith acted in reliance upon a designation of such appraiser prior to receiving notice of such suspension or removal.

§ 36.4342 Delegation of authority to loan guarantee officers. The several loan guarantee officers are hereby delegated authority to exercise the statutory power of the Administrator with respect to the guaranty, and the insurance, of loans in accordance with the act and §§ 36.4300 to 36.4375, inclusive, including, but not limited to, the execution and delivery of releases, conveyances, bills of sale, and assignments of real or personal property or any interests therein or liens thereon.

REAL ESTATE LOANS

§ 36.4350 Eligibility for guaranty or insurance. (a) No loan for the purchase of an interest in residential, farm, or business realty, or for the cost of any construction, repairs, alterations or improvements thereon shall be eligible for a guaranty or insurance unless the veteran has or will become vested with a merchantable title to an estate in the subject property not less than:

(1) A fee simple estate therein, legal or equitable; or

(2) A leasehold estate running or renewable at the option of the lessee for a period of not less than 14 years from the maturity of the loan, or to any earlier date at which the fee simple title will vest in the lessee, which is assignable or transferable, if the same be subjected to the lien, or

(3) A life estate, provided that the remainder and reversionary interests are subjected to the lien.

(b) Any such property or estate will not be ineligible by reason of encroachments, easements, servitudes, reservations for water, timber, or subsurface rights, or building and use restrictions whether or not enforceable by a reverter clause if there has been no breach of the conditions affording a right to an exercise of the reverter: Provided, That such limitations on the quantum or quality of the estate or property, insofar as they may materially affect the value of the property for the purpose for which it is used, are taken into account in the appraisal of reasonable value required by the act.

§ 36.4351 Loans, first, second or unsecured. Loans for the purchase of real property or a leasehold estate as limited in §§ 36.4300 to 36.4375, inclusive, or for the alteration, improvement or repair thereof costing more than $1,000 and more than 40% of the reasonable value of such property or estate prior thereto shall be secured by a first lien on the property or estate. Loans for such alteration, improvement or repair costing more than $1,000 but less than 40% of the prior reasonable value of the property shall be secured by either a first or second lien. Those costing less than $1,000 need not be secured, and in lieu of title examination the lender may accept a statement from the borrower that he has an interest in the property not less than that prescribed in § 36.4350 (a).

§ 36.4352 Tax or special assessment. Tax or special assessment liens or ground rents shall be disregarded with respect to any requirement that loans shall be secured by a lien of a specified dignity.

§ 36.4353 Combination loans, residential and business property. If otherwise eligible a loan for the purchase or construction of a combination of residential property and business property which the veteran proposes to occupy in part as a home will not be ineligible under section 501 of the act if not more than two business units are included. A loan for the purchase or construction of residential property containing more than four separate family units plus an added unit for each veteran participating in the ownership thereof, or more than two business units, must be classed as a business loan and satisfy the requirements of eligibility prescribed under section 503 of the act.

SECTION 505 (A) LOANS

§ 36.4354 Concurrent with primary loan. A second loan is eligible for guaranty or insurance under section 505 (a) only if the proceeds thereof are used concurrently with and as part of the same transaction which is partially financed through the proceeds of the primary loan, or by continuing the primary loan in effect by assumption or otherwise.

REFINANCING—SECTION 507

§ 36.4355 Indebtedness eligible for refinancing. (a) No loan shall be made to refinance delinquent indebtedness less than 60 days in default without a written statement from the holder of the delinquent obligation or other evidence satisfactory to the Administrator that it is delinquent.

(b) Any loan proposed to be made to refinance a delinquent obligation which was incurred within one year of the date of the application for refinancing shall be referred in advance to the Administrator with a report of the proposed borrower's income and expenses, and his affidavit stating the purchase price of the property purchased with the proceeds of the delinquent loan. The Administrator may hold any such case to be ineligible if it appears the guaranty or insurance of such refinancing would effect an evasion of any of the limitations imposed by the act.

(c) No loan guaranteed or insured by the Administrator under Title III may be refinanced under section 507 of that title.

SECTION 508 LOANS

§ 36.4370 Insured loan and insurance account. (a) Loans otherwise eligible may be insured when purchased by a lender eligible under section 508 if the purchaser (lender) submits with the loan report evidence of an agreement, general or special, made prior to the closing of the loan, to purchase such loan subject to its being insured.

(b) A current account shall be maintained in the name of each insured lender or purchaser. The account shall be credited with the appropriate amounts available for the payment of losses on insured loans made or purchased. The account shall be debited with appropriate amounts on account of transfers, purchases under § 36.4318, or payment of losses. The Administrator may on six months notice close any lender's insurance account. Such account after expiration of the six months period shall be available only as to loans embraced therein.

§ 36.4371 Amount payable by administrator for credit on loan. The amount payable by the Administrator for credit on the loan in accordance with section 508 (c) of the act will be 4% of the amount credited to the lender's insurance account for the particular loan.

§ 36.4372 Transfer of insured loans. (a) In cases involving the transfer from one insured financial institution to another insured institution of loans which are transferred without recourse, guaranty, or repurchase agreement, if no payment on any loan included in the transfer is past due more than one calendar month at the time of transfer there shall be transferred from the insurance account of the transferor to the insurance account of the transferee an amount equal to the original percentage credited to the insurance account in respect to each loan being transferred applied to the unpaid balance of such loans, or to the purchase price, whichever is the lesser.

(b) Transfers between insurance accounts in a manner or under conditions not provided in paragraph (a) of this section must have the prior approval of the Administrator.

(c) Where loans are transferred with recourse or under a guaranty or repurchase agreement no insurance credit will be transferred or insurance account affected and no reports will be required.

(d) In all cases of transfer of loans from one insured financial institution to another insured institution, except as provided in paragraph (c) of this section, a report on a prescribed form executed by the parties and showing their agreement with regard to the transfer of insurance credits shall be made to the Administrator.

§ 36.4373 Debits and credits to insurance account under § 36.4318. In the event that an insured loan is transferred under the provisions of § 36.4318, there shall be charged to the insurance account of the transferor a sum equal to the amount paid transferor on account of the indebtedness less the current market value of the property transferred as security therefor as determined by an appraiser designated by the Administrator, or the amount chargeable to such insurance account in the event of a transfer under § 36.4372, whichever sum is the greater. The credit to the insurance account of the transferee will be computed in accordance with § 36.4372 (a).

§ 36.4374 Payment of insurance. (a) In the event that pursuant to notice under § 36.4317 the holder forecloses or otherwise liquidates and applies the proceeds of security toward reduction of an insured loan, the net loss shall be reported to the Administrator with proper claim, whereupon the holder shall be entitled to payment of the claim within the amount then available for such payment under the payee's related insurance account. Subject to the provisions of paragraph (b) of this section and to § 36.4370 (b) a supplemental claim for any balance of an insurance loss may be filed at any time within five years after the date of the original claim.

(b) The basis of the claim for an insurance loss shall consist in the unrealized principal or the amount paid for the obligation, if less, plus unrealized interest, subject to the applicable dates specified in § 36.4321 (a), and those expenses, if any, allowable under § 36.4313, but subject to proper credits because of payments, set-off, proceeds of security, or otherwise.

§ 36.4375 Reports of insured institutions. An insured financial institution shall make such reports respecting its insurance accounts as the Administrator may from time to time require, not more frequently than semiannually.

These amendments have not received the approval of the Secretary of Agriculture.

This public hearing is for the purpose of receiving evidence with respect to economic or marketing conditions which relate to the proposed amendments which are hereinafter set forth.

The following amendments have been proposed:

By the Dairy Branch, Production and Marketing Administration:

1. Delete the provisions of § 942.1 (b) and substitute therefor the following:

(b) "Secretary" means the Secretary of Agriculture of the United States or any other officer or employee of the United States authorized to exercise the powers and to perform the duties of the Secretary of Agriculture.

2. Delete the term "War Food Administrator" wherever it appears and substitute therefor the term "Secretary."

3. Add at the end of § 942.1 a new paragraph reading as follows:

(m) "Producer-handler" means any person who is both a producer and a handler and who receives no milk from other producers or from other producer-handlers in bulk: Provided, That (1) the maintenance, care, and management of the dairy animals and other resources necessary to produce the milk are the personal enterprise of and at the personal risk of such person in his capacity as a producer, and (2) the processing, packaging, and distribution of milk are the personal enterprise of and at the personal risk of such person in his capacity as a handler.

By the Dairy Branch, Production and Marketing Administration:

1. Add at the end of § 942.2 (b) a new subparagraph reading as follows:

(3) Make rules and regulations to effectuate the terms and provisions hereof.

By Brown's Velvet Ice Cream Company; Cloverland Dairy Products Company; Gold Seal Creamery; Muller's Sanitary Dairy; Roemer Dairy & Producers Creameries; St. Charles Dairy; and Southern Dairy Products, Inc. (Hereinafter referred to as Brown's Velvet Ice Cream Company, et al.)

1. Amend § 942.4 (e) (9) to provide that the amount of actual plant shrinkage not in excess of 2 percent of receipts of skim milk and butterfat from producers remain as Class III skim milk and butterfat, respectively, irrespective of any skim milk or butterfat purchased from other sources.

By the Dairy Branch, Production and Marketing Administration:

2. Delete the provisions of § 942.4 (c) and substitute therefor the following:

(c) Responsibility of handlers and reclassification of milk. (1) In establishing the classification of skim milk and butterfat as required in (b) and (d) of this section, the burden rests upon the first handler who receives such skim milk or butterfat to prove to the market administrator that such skim milk or butterfat should not be classified as Class I milk.

(2) Any skim milk or butterfat classified in one class shall be reclassified if found by the market administrator to have been used or disposed of (whether in original or other form) by such handler or by any other person in another class in accordance with such use or disposition.

3. Amend § 942.4 (d) by inserting the number "(1)" immediatley after the heading thereof, and by adding a new subparagraph following said subparagraph (1) reading as follows:

(2) No allocation relative to transfers provided for in this paragraph shall operate to deter the prior subtraction of skim milk or butterfat from other sources pursuant to (f) (1) [(e) (9) (i) in present order] of this section. Any quantity reported for allocation to a particular class but not eligible therefor because of (f) (1) [(e) (9) (i) in present order] of this section shall be allocated by the market administrator as Class I skim milk or Class I butterfat pending his verification.

4. Delete the provisions of § 942.4 (e) (9) and substitute therefor a new subparagraph immediately following § 942.4 (e) reading as follows:

(f) Allocation of classified skim milk and butterfat. Classified skim milk and butterfat shall be allocated as follows:

(1) Subtract, respectively, from the total pounds of skim milk and butterfat in each class, in series beginning with the lowest available class, the pounds of skim milk and butterfat received from other sources;

(2) Subtract, respectively, from the remaining pounds of skim milk and butterfat in each class the pounds of skim milk and butterfat received from other handlers and used in each class; and

(3) Subtract from the remaining pounds of skim milk and butterfat in each class, in series beginning with the lowest available class, the pounds of skim milk and butterfat by which the total pounds, respectively, in all classes exceed the pounds received from producers. The respective resulting amounts in each class shall be known as "net pooled Class I skim milk," "net pooled Class I butterfat," "net pooled Class II skim milk," "net pooled Class II butterfat," "net pooled Class III skim milk," and "net pooled Class III butterfat"; the sum of the "net pooled Class I skim milk," "net pooled Class II skim milk," and "net pooled Class III skim milk" shall be known as the "net pooled skim milk" and the sum of the "net pooled Class I butterfat," "net pooled Class II butterfat," and "net pooled Class III butterfat" shall be known as the "net pooled butterfat."

In § 942.5:

2. Amend the provisions of § 942.5 (b) (1) to provide for an increase in the price for Class I milk in addition to that proposed under 1. hereof when the subsidy is discontinued, in the same amount as the subsidy, with a sufficient differential between summer and winter prices to encourage more winter production.

By the United Milk Producers of America, Amite, Louisiana:

ceived, subtract 3 cents, add 20 percent, and multiply the amount by 3.5: Provided, That such price shall be increased by the amount resulting from the following computation: from the average of the carlot prices per pound of nonfat dry milk solids, roller and spray process, f. o. b. manufacturing plants, as published by the Department of Agriculture for the Chicago area during the delivery period, including in such average the quotations published for any fractional part of the previous delivery period which were not published and available for the price determination of such nonfat dry milk solids for the previous delivery period, deduct 4 cents, multiply by 8½, and multiply such net amount pursuant to this proviso b" 0.965.

Amend the provisions of § 942.5 (c) so as: (a) to clarify the language in the heading of the schedule contained therein; and (b) to extend the appropriate prices specified therein for skim milk, butterfat, and 4 percent milk upward and downward to correspond with the brackets set forth in § 942.5 (b) (1) as proposed.

(2) Producer-handlers shall furnish the market administrator for his verification, subject to review by the Secretary, evidence of their qualifications as such pursuant to § 942.1 (m) as of the effective date of the provisions hereof, and they shall furnish evidence of subsequent changes made in the manner of producing or distributing their milk that affects their qualifications as producer-handlers. Such verification by the market administrator shall be made within 15 days of the date of receipt of the evidence and shall be effective retroactively to the effective date of the provisions hereof in cases verified within 45 days of such effective date and shall be effective retroactively to the first day of the delivery period during which verification is made in subsequent cases.

(b) Payment for excess skim milk or butterfat. If a handler after subtracting receipts from other sources, and receipts from other handlers has disposed of skim milk and butterfat in excess of the skim milk or butterfat which, on the basis of his reports, has been credited to his producers as having been purchased or received from them, the market administrator in computing the net pool obligation of such handler pursuant to § 942.7 (a) shall add an amount equal to the value of such skim milk and butterfat in accordance with its value at the price for the class from which such skim milk or butterfat was subtracted pursuant to § 942.4 (f) [now § 942.4 (e) (9)].

(c) Skim milk and butterfat disposed of in bulk by a producer-handler. A producer-handler shall be considered as a producer with respect to skim milk and butterfat disposed of in bulk to a handler (including another producer-handler).

By Meibaum Bros. Dairy, Roseland Dairy, Morning Call Dairy, Oakdale Dairy, and Estelle Dairy:

By the Dairy Branch, Production and Marketing Administration:

2. Amend the provisions of § 942.8 (a) (2) by deleting the period at the end thereof and by adding immediately thereafter a proviso reading as follows:

Provided, That if by such date such handler has not received full payment for such delivery period pursuant to (c) of this section, he shall not be deemed to be in violation of this paragraph if he reduces uniformly for all producers his payments per hundredweight by a total amount not in excess of the reduction in payment from the market administrator; however, the handler shall make such balance of payment uniformly to those producers to whom it is due on or before the date for making payments pursuant to this paragraph next following that on which such balance of payment is received from the market administrator.

By Brown's Velvet Ice Cream Co., et al:

1. Renumber §§ 942.10, 942.11, and 942.12 so as to read, respectively, §§ 942.11, 942.12, and 942.13; and add a new section immediately following § 942.9 to provide for marketing services to producers as authorized by section 8c (5) (e) of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended.

General proposals:
By the Dairy Branch, Production and Marketing Administration:

PANHANDLE EASTERN PIPE LINE CO.

NOTICE OF APPLICATION

FEBRUARY 27, 1946.

Notice is hereby given that on March 18, 1943, an application was filed with the Federal Power Commission by Panhandle Eastern Pipe Line Company, Applicant, a Delaware corporation having its principal offices at 1221 Baltimore Avenue, Kansas City 6, Missouri, and 135 South LaSalle Street, Chicago 3, Illinois, for a temporary and permanent certificate of public convenience and necessity pursuant to Section 7 of the Natural Gas Act, as amended, to authorize the construction and operation of certain facilities hereinafter described.

The proposed project consists of a 2-inch pipeline approximately 4,600 ft. in length extending from a point on Applicant's "Michigan North" line to the plant of the Michigan Seamless Tube Company situated in Sections 29 and 30, T. 1 North, R. 7 East, Oakland County, Michigan, together with valves, regulators and other appurtenant facilities necessary for the operation of the line.

The application recites the estimated total over-all cost of the project to be $9,110. [Docket No. G-508]

NEW YORK STATE NATURAL GAS CORP.

NOTICE OF APPLICATION

FEBRUARY 26, 1946.

Notice is hereby given that on February 8, 1946, an application was filed with the Federal Power Commission by the New York State Natural Gas Corporation, a New York corporation having its principal place of business at 30 Rockefeller Plaza, Borough of Manhattan, City, County, and State of New York, requesting modification of paragraph (c) of the Commission's order of April 26, 1944, issuing to Applicant a certificate of public convenience and necessity pursuant to section 7 of the Natural Gas Act, as amended, In the Matters of Hope Natural Gas Company, et al., Docket Nos. G-507, G-508, G-510, G-516 and G-519, Opinion No. 114.

The order of April 26, 1944, among other things, imposes a limitation of the amount of natural gas which New York State Natural Gas Corporation may sell and deliver to the Central New York Power Corporation for resale in the State of New York.

Central New York Power Corporation is presently engaged in the transportation and sale of natural, mixed, and manufactured gas in the State of New York. The natural gas used in these operations is purchased pursuant to the provisions of New York State Natural Gas Corporation Rate Schedule FPC No. 20, as limited by said order of April 26, 1944.

Central New York Power Corporation proposes to substitute straight natural gas for the mixed gas now sold in its Syracuse-Oswego Division and for the manufactured gas sold in its Utica and Watertown Divisions; and, on February 11, 1946, filed with the Federal Power Commission an application for a certificate of public convenience and necessity for the construction and operation of facilities necessary to effect this substitution (Docket No. G-702).

New York State Natural in its application requests that the above-mentioned order of April 26, 1944, be revised to eliminate all limitation of volumes to permit sale and delivery of natural gas to Central New York Power Corporation to meet proposed increased demands as provided in an agreement between these parties dated November 13, 1945.

The application states that it will not be necessary for Applicant to install any additional facilities to meet its contractual obligations to Central New York Power Corporation.

Any interested state commission is requested to notify the Federal Power Commission whether it considers the application one which should be considered under the cooperative provisions of Part 67 of the provisional rules of practice and regulations under the Natural Gas Act, and if so, to advise the Federal Power Commission as to the nature of its interest in the matter and whether it desires a conference, the creation of a board, or a joint or concurrent hearing, together with the reasons for such request.

Any person desiring to be heard or to make any protest with reference to said application should, on or before the 13th day of March, 1946, file with the Federal Power Commission, Washington 25, D. C., a petition or protest in accordance with the Commission's provisional rules of practice and regulations under the Natural Gas Act.

[Docket No. G-702]

CENTRAL NEW YORK POWER CORP.

NOTICE OF APPLICATION

FEBRUARY 26, 1946.

Notice is hereby given that on February 11, 1946, an application was filed with the Federal Power Commission by Central New York Power Corporation, a New York corporation having its principal place of business at Syracuse, New York, for a certificate of public convenience and necessity pursuant to section 7 of the Natural Gas Act, as amended, to authorize the construction and operation of certain facilities hereinafter described:

(1) A 12-inch or 14-inch main gas transmission line approximately 9¾ miles in length extending from the northwesterly boundary of the city of Syracuse, New York, northerly to the town of Cicero, New York.

(2) A 6-inch main gas transmission line approximately 61½ miles in length extending from the western boundary of the town of Cicero northerly to the city of Watertown, New York.

(3) A 12-inch or 14-inch main gas transmission line approximately 26¼ miles in length extending from the eastern boundary of the town of Cicero easterly to the village of Verona, New York, and thence approximately 8½ miles to the city of Rome, New York.

(4) A compressor station to be located in the city of Syracuse, New York, with a total initial installed horsepower of 1,200 (active and reserve) and an initial capacity of approximately 600,000 cubic feet per hour.

The new facilities will be connected to existing facilities of Applicant to enable it to substitute straight natural gas service for all customers in Applicant's Syracuse-Oswego Division in which a mixed gas is now served to consumers in Oswego, Onondaga, and Madison Counties; and in Utica and Watertown Divisions in which a manufactured gas is now served to consumers in Jefferson, Oneida, Madison, Herkimer, and Fulton Counties.

Applicant proposes to obtain its natural-gas requirements from the New York State Natural Gas Corporation, pursuant to an agreement entered into on November 13, 1945. Natural gas presently used for mixing with manufactured gas and for sale to industrial consumers is obtained from New York State Natural Gas Corporation.

The application states that it is planned to retain in operation the Applicant's existing carbureted water gas plants in Syracuse and Utica, which are now, or will be, equipped to produce gas with a high heating value as a substitute for natural gas up to a quantity believed sufficient to protect the service against any reasonable expectation of shortage or interruption in the proposed natural-gas supply.

It is estimated that the total cost of the proposed facilities will be about $1,415,000. Applicant proposes to finance the construction out of its own funds.

The introduction of straight-natural gas service, it is said, will reduce the cost of gas to consumers, and will provide them with an assured source of supply. Further, it will enable applicant to meet anticipated demands of its consumers for house heating and other gas services which were curtailed during the war emergency. Applicant states that, if it is required to continue mixed gas and manufactured gas service, substantial maintenance and capital expenditures will be required and it appears economic to effect a substitution of straight-natural gas at this time.

The following are communities in New York now served by applicant in which straight-natural gas service is proposed to be introduced:

The application is filed in the alternative requesting: (1) A certificate of public convenience and necessity for the operation of existing facilities; and (2) for the construction and operation of proposed facilities; or (3) a dismissal of the application after the making of a finding that Applicant is not a natural-gas company within the meaning of the Natural Gas Act and will not so become by reason of construction of the proposed facilities.

Applicant states that it has concurrently filed with the Public Service Commission of New York an application for approval of the proposed substitution of straight-natural gas for the service now rendered in the affected areas.

Any interested state commission is requested to notify the Federal Power Commission whether it considers the application one which should be considered under the cooperative provisions of Part 67 of the provisional rules of practice and regulations under the Natural Gas Act, and if so, to advise the Federal Power Commission as to the nature of its interest in the matter and whether it desires a conference, the creation of a board, or a joint or concurrent hearing, together with the reasons for such request.

Any person desiring to be heard or to make any protest with reference to said application should, on or before the 13th day of March, 1946, file with the Federal Power Commission, Washington 25, D. [Rev. SO 119, Order 94]

UTICA PRODUCTS, INC.

ADJUSTMENT OF MAXIMUM PRICES

For the reasons set forth in an opinion issued simultaneously herewith and filed with the Division of the Federal Register, and pursuant to sections 15 and 16 of Revised Supplementary Order No. 119, it is ordered:

(a) Manufacturer's ceiling prices. Utica Products, Inc., 1101 Burrstone Road, Utica, New York, may compute its adjusted ceiling prices for all articles of sheet steel cabinets for paper towels, which it manufactures as follows:

(1) For an article in its line during October 1941, the adjusted ceiling price is the highest price charged during that month to each class of purchaser increased by 4.7 per cent.

(2) For an article not in its line during October 1941, but which has a properly established ceiling price, in effect before the effective date of this order, the adjusted ceiling price is the articles properly established ceiling price for the particular sale (exclusive of all permitted increases or adjustment charges) increased by the precentage determined in accordance with Note 3 in section 8 of Revised Supplementary Order No. 119.

(3) For an article which is first offered for sale after the effective date of this order, the adjusted ceiling price is the maximum price hereinafter properly determined or established in accordance with Maximum Price Regulation No. 188 and prices so fixed may not be increased under this order.

(4) The manufacturer's adjusted ceiling price fixed in accordance with this order in his new ceiling price if it is higher than his previously established ceiling price including all increases and adjustments otherwise authorized for him individually or for his industry.

(b) Reseller's ceiling prices. A reseller shall calculate his ceiling price by adding to his invoice cost the same percentage markup which he has on the "most comparable article" for which he has a properly established ceiling price. For this purpose the "most comparable article" is the one which meets all the following tests:

(1) It belongs to the narrowest trade category which includes the article being priced.

(2) Both it and the article being priced were purchased from the same class of supplier.

(3) Both it and the article being priced belong to a class of articles to which, according to customary trade practices, an approximately uniform percentage markup is applied.

(4) Its net replacement cost is nearest to the net cost of the article being priced.

The determination of a ceiling price in this way need not be reported to the Office of Price Administration; however, each seller must keep complete records showing all the information called for by OPA Form 620-759 with regard to how he determined his ceiling price, for so long as the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, remains in effect.

If the maximum resale price cannot be determined under the above method the reseller shall apply to the Office of Price Administration for the establishment of a ceiling price under § 1499.3 (c) of the General Maximum Price Regulation. Ceiling prices established under that section will reflect the supplier's prices as adjusted in accordance with this order.

(c) Terms of sale. Ceiling prices adjusted by this order are subject to each seller's terms, discounts, and allowances on sales to each class of purchaser in effect during March 1942, or thereafter properly established under OPA regulation.

EMPIRE PLOW CO.

ADJUSTMENT OF MAXIMUM PRICES

For the reasons set forth in an opinion issued simultaneously herewith, and filed with the Division of the Federal Register and pursuant to section (a) (16) of Order A-2 under Maximum Price Regulation No. 188, it is ordered:

(a) Manufacturer's maximum prices. Empire Plow Company, Cleveland, Ohio, may increase its net maximum prices for sales to all classes of purchasers of the following garden tools which it manufactures by the dollar-and-cents amount set forth below opposite each model:

Article	Model No.	Amount of adjustment
Boy scout garden plow with turn shovel only		$0.43
Boy scout garden plow	1	.30
Paragon garden plow	1	.75
Little winner cultivator with 14" steel wheel, pair side hoes, turn shovel, 3 duckfeet and wrench		.35

(b) Maximum prices of purchasers for resale. A reseller shall calculate his maximum prices by adding to his invoice cost the same percentage markup which he has on the "most comparable article" for which he has a properly established maximum price. For this purpose the "most comparable article" is the one that meets all of the following tests:

(1) It belongs to the narrowest trade category which includes the article being priced.

(2) Both it and the article being priced were purchased from the same class of supplier.

(3) Both it and the article being priced belong to a class of articles to which, according to customary trade practices, an approximately uniform percentage markup is applied.

(4) Its net replacement cost is nearest to the net cost of the article being priced.

The determination of a maximum price in this way need not be reported to the Office of Price Administration; however, each seller must keep complete records showing all the information called for on OPA Form 620-759 with regard to how he determined his maximum price, for so long as the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, remains in effect.

If the maximum resale price cannot be determined under the above method the reseller shall apply to the Office of Price Administration for the establishment of a maximum price under § 1499.3 (c) of the General Maximum Price Regulation. Maximum prices established under that section will reflect the supplier's prices as adjusted in accordance with this order.

(c) Terms of sale. The adjusted maximum prices authorized by this order apply to all sales and deliveries made after the effective date of this order. They are subject to each seller's customary terms, discounts, allowances, and other price differentials on sales of similar articles in effect during March 1942 or thereafter properly established under OPA regulations.

(d) Notification. At the time of, or prior to the first invoice to each purchaser for resale after the effective date of this order the seller shall notify the purchaser in writing of the maximum prices and conditions established by this order for sales by the purchaser. This notice may be given in any convenient form.

(e) This order may be revoked or amended by the Price Administrator at any time.

(f) Effective date. This order shall become effective on the 28th day of February 1946.

NEW METAL COTS AND DOUBLE DECK BEDS

MANUFACTURERS' AND JOBBERS' MAXIMUM PRICES

For the reasons set forth in an opinion issued simultaneously herewith, and filed with the Division of the Federal Register; and pursuant to § 1499.159b of Maximum Price Regulation No. 188, It is ordered: That Order No. 1470 under § 1499.159b of Maximum Price Regulation No. 188 be, and the same hereby is, amended in the following respects:

1. Paragraph (f) is amended to read as follows:

(f) Maximum prices which cannot be established under another paragraph of this order (such as other models and other classes of purchasers). After March 5, 1946, a manufacturer shall not sell, offer to sell, deliver or offer to deliver any article covered by this order for sales of which maximum prices have not been established under paragraph (d) of this order, or under an order of the Office of Price Administration, until he has applied to the Office of Price Administration, Washington 25, D. C., for the establishment of his maximum prices for such sales, and until such maximum prices have been established by an order of the Office of Price Administration, or the waiting period referred to below has terminated, and the manufacturer has received no notification from the Office of Price Administration. The application shall set forth (unless the information has already been furnished to the Office of Price Administration, in which case the date and the office to which it was furnished, shall be stated):

(1) The identifying number or trade name of the article to be priced.

(2) The reasons why the article to be priced cannot be priced under any other paragraph of this order.

(3) The detailed specifications and an illustration of the article to be priced.

(4) An itemized breakdown of the manufacturer's current unit direct cost of the article to be priced, showing separately, according to his own system of accounts or regularly prepared operating statements, all major component unit direct cost factors. For the purpose of this order, unit direct costs include direct labor and direct material costs but do not include factory burden (sometimes called factory overhead or indirec manufacturing expenses), packaging and crating costs, royalties and patterns, tool and die cost and items of administrative, general and selling expenses. Also, state the number of units of production upon which the unit direct costs were based.

(5) An itemized breakdown of the manufacturer's current unit direct cost (as described in (4) above) of the basic model in paragraph (d) of this order which is most nearly comparable to the article being priced.

(6) Price lists in effect during March 1942 showing:

(i) The article most nearly comparable to the article being priced, with illustrations:

(ii) The article most nearly comparable to the basic model mentioned in (4), with illustrations;

(iii) All price differentials covering variations in these constructions.

If the manufacturer was not making and selling new metal cots and double deck beds in March 1942, send the first price list which was in effect after March 1942, together with illustrations.

(7) A statement of the manufacturer's customary discounts, allowances and other price differentials to different classes of purchasers in effect for sales of new metal cots and double deck beds during March 1942, or if the manufacturer was not making and selling new metal cots and double deck beds during March 1942, the same information for the first period after March 1942 during which the manufacturer was engaged in this business.

(8) The proposed maximum prices to each class of purchaser for the article to be priced, and a statement of why the manufacturer believes those prices to be in line with the level of maximum prices established by this order.

Those proposed maximum prices shall be calculated as follows:

Step 1: The manufacturer shall determine the "unit direct cost" for the article being priced.

Step 2: The manufacturer shall select from the comparables for which maximum prices to retailers have already been established, in paragraph (d), the comparable which has a unit direct cost closest to the unit direct cost of the article being priced.

Step 3: The manufacturer shall determine the percentage markup over unit direct cost for the comparable selected.

Step 4: The manufacturer shall apply to the unit direct cost of the article being priced that percentage markup. The resulting price shall be the f. o. b. factory, l. c. l. maximum price for sales of the new article to retailers.

(ii) In the absence of a contrary direction from the Office of Price Administration within 15 days after mailing his application, the manufacturer may offer the article in question for sale at the proposed maximum prices stated therein. If such proposed maximum prices are correctly computed they shall be subject to adjustment (but not retroactively) at any time by order of the Office of Price Administration if it appears that the maximum prices so established are out of line with the general level of prices established by this order. If the prices are incorrectly computed, the maximum prices for a sale, offer to sell, or delivery of an article made pursuant to the incorrect report shall be the maximum prices which are properly computed under the formula contained in this paragraph.

2. Paragraph (i) is added, to read as follows:

(i) Establishment of maximum prices in certain cases. If any seller subject to this order fails to make the application for price approval which this order requires in certain instances, the Office of Price Administration may, either upon application, or upon its own motion, issue orders under this paragraph establishing maximum prices which are in line with the level of maximum prices established by this order. Maximum prices, so established, shall be effective as of the date of first sale.

This amendment shall become effective on March 5, 1946.

NOTE: The reporting provisions of this amendment have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

Issued this 28th day of February 1946.

JAMES G. ROGERS, Jr.,
Acting Administrator.

[File No. 63–5]

OGDEN CORP.

NOTICE OF FILING AND NOTICE OF AND ORDER FOR HEARING

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission, held at its office in the City of Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, on the 26th day of February A. D. 1946.

Notice is hereby given that Ogden Corporation ("Ogden"), a registered holding company, has filed an application with this Commission pursuant to the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935.

All interested persons are referred to said document which is on file in the office of the Commission for a statement of the transactions therein proposed, which are summarized as follows:

Ogden proposes to use all or any portion of its cash resources, amounting to approximately $3,000,000, which it states are not needed for any of the company's corporate purposes, to acquire, purchase, invest and reinvest, from time to time, in any securities, assets or real or personal property of any sort and description and wheresoever situated, other than any securities of a "public utility company", and other than "utility assets" as such terms are defined in the act, for the purpose of receiving a reasonable return. Ogden further proposes to make such acquisitions or purchases of such securities, assets or property from any person, firm or corporation, other than a person, firm or corporation who or which is an "associate company", or an "affiliate" of Ogden, or an "affiliate" of a company in Ogden's holding company system as such terms are defined in the act.

Applicant requests that it be permitted to carry out the investment program hereinabove described through an exemption under sections 3 (a) (5), 9 (c) (2) or 9 (c) (3) of the act.

It appearing to the Commission that it is appropriate in the public interest and in the interests of investors and consumers that a hearing be held with respect to said application, and that said application should not be granted except pursuant to further order of this Commission;

It is ordered, That a hearing on said application under the applicable provisions of the act and rules of the Commission thereunder be held on March 12, 1946 at 10:00 a. m., e. s. t., at the offices of the Securities and Exchange Commission, 18th and Locust Streets, Philadelphia 3, Pennsylvania. On such date, the hearing room clerk in Room 318 will advise as to the room in which such hearing will be held.

It is further ordered, That Robert P. Reeder or any other officer or officers of this Commission designated by it for that purpose shall preside at the hearing on such matters. The officer so designated to preside at any such hearing is hereby authorized to exercise all powers granted to the Commission under section 18 (c) of the act and to a trial examiner under the Commission's rules of practice.

It is further ordered, That, without limiting the scope of the issues presented by said application, particular attention be directed at said hearing to the following matters and questions:

1. Whether the provisions of section 3 (a) (5) of the act are applicable to Ogden and, if so, whether the requested exemption of Ogden pursuant to section 3 (a) (5) should be granted.

2. Whether, under the rules and regulations promulgated by the Commission pursuant to sections 9 (c) (2) and 9 (c) (3) of the act, the provisions of section 9 (a) of the act are applicable to the proposed acquisitions by Ogden.

3. Whether the proposed acquisitions by Ogden would be of such commercial paper and other securities as the Commission should prescribe, by order, as appropriate in the ordinary course of business of Ogden and as not detrimental to the public interest or the interest of investors or consumers.

4. Whether the proposed acquisitions would satisfy the requirements of section 10 of the act.

5. Generally, whether the proposed transactions comply, and whether the requested exemptions are consistent, with all the applicable provisions and requirements of the act and of the rules and regulations promulgated thereunder, and whether it is necessary or appropriate in the public interest or for the protection of investors and consumers to impose terms and conditions in respect thereof.

It is further ordered, That notice of this hearing is hereby given to Ogden and to all interested persons, said notice to be given to Ogden by registered mail and to all other persons by a general release of this Commission which shall be distributed to the press and mailed to all persons on the mailing list for releases issued under the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 and by publication of a copy of this notice and order in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

It is requested that any person desiring to be heard in these proceedings shall file with the Secretary of the Commission on or before March 8, 1946 an appropriate request or application to be heard as provided by Rule XVII of the Commission's Rules of Practice.

By the Commission.

PENNSYLVANIA EDISON CO.

NOTICE OF FILING

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission, held at its office in the City of Philadelphia, Pa., on the 27th day of February 1946.

Notice is hereby given that an application or declaration (or both) has been filed with this Commission, pursuant to the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 and the General Rules and Regulations promulgated thereunder, by Pennsylvania Edison Company, a subsidiary of Associated Electric Company, a registered holding company;

Notice is further given that any interested person may, not later than March 11, 1946, at 5:30 p. m., e. s. t., request the Commission in writing that a hearing be held on such matter, stating the reasons for such request and the nature of his interest, or may request that he be notified if the Commission should order a hearing thereon. At any time thereafter such application or declaration (or both), as filed or as amended, may be granted or permitted to become effective (or both), as provided in Rule U-23 of the rules and regulations promulgated pursuant to said act, or the Commission may exempt such transactions as provided in Rules U-20 (a) and U-100 thereof. Any such request should be addressed: Secretary, Securities and Exchange Commission, 18th and Locust Streets, Philadelphia 3, Pennsylvania.

All interested persons are referred to said application or declaration (or both) which is on file in the offices of said Commission, for a statement of the transactions therein proposed, which are summarized below:

Pennsylvania Edison Company filed a general claim on the proceedings for reorganization pursuant to Chapter X of the Bankruptcy Act of Associated Gas and Electric Company and Associated Gas and Electric Corporation, in the amount of $59,946.28, which claim was allowed in full by order entered July 27, 1945 by the United States District Court for the Southern District of New York having jurisdiction over the reorganization proceedings. Since, under the joint Plan of Reorganization of the two debtor companies, holders of general claims allowed against the estates of the above-named debtors are to receive 2.14 shares of common stock of the surviving company (which is General Public Utilities Corporation) for each $100 principal amount of their allowed claim, Pennsylvania Edison Company is, upon the above basis, entitled to receive 1,282 shares and scrip representing 85/100 of a share of the common stock of General Public Utilities Corporation. Such shares constitute less than 0.02% of the total number of shares of common stock to be issued pursuant to the plan. Upon acquisition, Pennsylvania Edison Company proposes to sell such stock on the New York Stock Exchange, and to sell such scrip through the Scrip Agent provided by the plan as soon as practicable, or in any event within 30 days after the receipt of the same.

Sections 9 (a) and 10, and possibly section 12 (d) have been designated as applicable to the proposed transactions. The filing requests that, if the Commission deems that section 12 (d) and Rule U-44 are applicable to the sale of such stock and scrip, the 15 days' notice of intention required by Rule U-44 (b) (2) be waived.

By the Commission.

PART 141—TESTS AND METHODS OF ASSAY FOR ANTIBIOTIC DRUGS

MISCELLANEOUS AMENDMENTS

By virtue of the authority vested in the Federal Security Administrator by the provisions of section 507 of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act (52 Stat. 1040ff, 21 U.S.C. 301 et seq., as amended by Public Law 139, 79th Cong., 1st Sess., July 6, 1945), the regulations for tests and methods of assay for antibiotic drugs (10 F.R. 11478-11485), as amended, are hereby further amended as indicated below:

1. Section 141.1 (g) (2), last paragraph, is amended by adding the following two sentences at the end thereof, "The error of the assay using the ratio of doses 2 to 1 is estimated by using the monograph (Chart 2) in the same manner as described for the 4 to 1 ratio of doses. However, the resultant error of the assay derived in this manner must be divided by 2 to give the correct error of the assay for the 2 to 1 ratio of doses."

2. Section 141.5, second line, is amended by striking the semicolon and the word "moisture" and inserting therefor "(a) Moisture.", and adding the following new subparagraphs:

(b) pH. Dilute the sample to be tested with carbon dioxide free distilled water so that the resulting solution contains 5000 units per ml. Determine the pH of this solution at 25° C. using a pH meter equipped with a glass and a calomel electrode.

(c) Clarity. Add to the sample by means of a thoroughly cleansed hypodermic needle and syringe enough of the diluent to produce a solution containing 10,000 units per ml. The resulting solution must be substantially free of any turbidity or undissolved material which can be detected readily without accessory magnification (except such optical correction as may be required to establish normal vision), when the solution is examined against a black and white background with a bright light from a 100 watt lamp or equivalent lighting.

3. Section 141.9 (b) is amended so as to read;

(b) Moisture. Proceed as described in § 141.5 (a).

4. Section 141.11 (a), is amended by inserting at the end thereof "(a) and (b)" so that the last sentence will read; "Proceed as directed in §§ 141.1, 141.2, 141.4, and 141.5 (a) and (b)."

5. Section 141.12 (b), second line, is amended by inserting "(a)" after "§ 141.5" so as to make this reference read "§ 141.5 (a)".

6. Section 141.13 (c) is amended so as to read;

(c) Moisture. Proceed as directed in § 141.5 (a).

7. Three new sections, 141.14, 141.15, and 141.16, are added as follows:

§ 141.14 Penicillin with vasoconstrictor—(a) Calcium penicillin. Proceed as directed in §§ 141.1, 141.2, 141.3, 141.4, and 141.5 (a) and (b).

§ 141.15 Penicillin for surface application—(a) Calcium penicillin. Proceed as directed in §§ 141.1, 141.4, 141.5 (a) and (b).

(b) Microorganism count. Accurately weigh approximately 0.5 gram in a small test tube and add sufficient sterile penicillinase contained in a total volume of 2 ml to inactivate the penicillin present. Let stand 1 hour. Thoroughly shake the mixture and transfer, aseptically, the entire amount to a sterile Petri dish. Pour into the Petri dish 20 ml of nutrient agar, described in § 141.1 (b) (1), which has been melted and cooled to 48° C. Thoroughly mix, allow the agar to solidify, invert the Petri dish, and incubate for 48 hours at 37° C. Count the number of colonies appearing on the plates and calculate therefrom the number of viable microorganisms per gram.

(c) Moisture. Proceed as directed in § 141.5(a).

§ 141.16 Tablets alum precipitated penicillin—(a) Potency. Proceed as directed in § 141.9(a).

(b) Moisture. Proceed as directed in § 141.5(a).

The foregoing amendments shall become effective on the date of the publication of this order in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

§ 146.32 Penicillin with vasoconstrictor; penicillin with ——— (the blank being filled in with the common or usual name of the vasoconstrictor)—(a) Standards of identity, strength, quality and purity. Penicillin with vasoconstrictor is a packaged combination of one immediate container of calcium penicillin and one immediate container of an aqueous solution of a vasoconstrictor. Such calcium penicillin conforms to the standards prescribed therefor by § 146.24 (a), and is of such quantity that when dissolved in such solution the potency thereof is not less than 500 units per milliliter after it has been kept for seven days at a temperature of 15° C. (59° F.). Such solution contains buffering salts to produce, after the penicillin has been dissolved in it, an isotonic solution of pH 6, ±0.2, and a preservative which prevents growth of microorganisms. Each buffering salt and preservative used, if its name is recognized in the U. S. P. or N. F., conforms to the standards prescribed therefor by such official compendium.

(b) Packaging. The immediate container of the calcium penicillin and the immediate container of the aqueous solution of vasoconstrictor shall be tight containers as defined on page 6 of the U. S. P. The immediate container of the calcium penicillin shall be sterile at the time of filling and closing, shall be so sealed that the contents cannot be used without destroying the seal, and shall be of such composition as will not cause any change in the strength, quality, or purity of the contents beyond any limit therefor in applicable standards, except that minor changes so caused which are normal and unavoidable in good packaging, storage, and distribution practice shall be disregarded.

(c) Labeling. Each package of penicillin with vasoconstrictor shall bear on its label or labeling, as hereinafter indicated, the following:

(1) On the outside wrapper or container and on the immediate container of the calcium penicillin:

(i) The batch mark;

(ii) The number of units in such container; and

(iii) The statement "Expiration date ----------," the blank being filled in with the date which is 18 months after the month during which the batch was certified.

(2) On the outside wrapper or container and on the immediate container of the aqueous solution of the vasoconstrictor:

(i) A statement giving the method of dissolving the calcium penicillin in the solution;

(ii) The potency per milliliter after the calcium penicillin has been dissolved therein;

(iii) The statement "Store in refrigerator not above 15° C. (59° F.)," or "Store below 15° C. (59° F.)";

(iv) "Warning—not for injection, to be administered only by a physician"; and

(v) The conditions under which the solution should be stored, including a reference to its instability when stored under other conditions and the statement, "The solution may be kept in refrigerator for one week without significant loss of potency."

(3) On the outside wrapper or container:

(i) The statement "To be dispensed only by or on the prescription of a physician"; and

(ii) A reference specifically identifying a readily available medical publication containing directions and precautions (including contraindications and possible sensitization) adequate for the use of penicillin with vasoconstrictor by physicians; or a reference to a brochure or other printed matter containing such directions and precautions, and a statement that such brochure and printed matter will be sent to physicians on request.

(d) Requests for certification; samples. (1) In addition to complying with the requirements of § 146.2, a person who requests certification of a batch of calcium penicillin for inclusion in such combination shall submit with his request a statement showing the batch mark of the calcium penicillin, the number of packages thereof in such batch, the number of units in the immediate container thereof, and (unless it was previously submitted) the date on which the latest assay of the calcium penicillin included in such combination was completed, the quantity of each ingredient used in making the solution of the vasoconstrictor, and a statement that such solution conforms to the requirements prescribed therefor by this section.

(2) Except as otherwise provided in subparagraph (4) of this paragraph, such person shall submit in connection with his request results of the tests and assays listed after each of the following, made by him on an accurately representative sample of:

(i) The calcium penicillin; potency, sterility, toxicity, pyrogens, moisture, pH and clarity.

(ii) The solution after the calcium penicillin has been dissolved therein; potency.

(3) Except as otherwise provided in subparagraph (4) of this paragraph, such person shall submit in connection with his request, in the quantities hereinafter indicated, accurately representative samples of the following:

(i) The calcium penicillin; one package for each 5,000 packages in the batch, but in no case less than 5 packages or more than 12 packages, collected by taking single packages at such intervals throughout the entire time of packaging the batch that the quantities packaged during the intervals are approximately equal.

(ii) In case of an initial request for certification, or when any change is made in the composition of such solution, 5 packages of the solution included in the combination.

(4) No result referred to in subparagraph (2) (i) of this paragraph, and no samples referred to in subparagraph (3) (i) of this paragraph, are required if such result or sample has been previously submitted.

(iii) The statement "Caution: To be dispensed only by or on the prescription of a physician.";

(iv) The conditions under which solutions of penicillin for surface application should be stored, including a reference to their instability when stored under other conditions, and the statement "The solution may be kept in refrigerator for one week without significant loss of potency."; and

(v) A reference specifically identifying a readily available medical publication containing directions and precautions (including contraindications and possible sensitization) adequate for the use of penicillin for surface application by physicians; or a reference to a brochure or other printed matter containing such directions and precautions, and a statement that such brochure or printed matter will be sent to physicians on request.

(d) Requests for certification; samples. (1) In addition to complying with the requirements of § 146.2, a person who requests certification of a batch of penicillin for surface application shall submit with his request a statement showing the batch mark, the number of packages of each size in such batch, the batch mark and (unless it was previously submitted) the date on which the latest assay of the calcium penicillin used in making such batch was completed, the number of units in each immediate container or foil or film enclosure, the quantity of each ingredient used in making the batch, the date on which the latest assay of the drug comprising such batch was completed, and that the sodium chloride, milk sugar, sodium citrate and dextrose used in making such batch conform to the standards prescribed therefor by the U. ARTICLE 3

An enterprise of one of the contracting States is not subject to taxation by the other contracting State in respect of its industrial and commercial profits except in respect of such profits allocable to its permanent establishment in the latter State.

No account shall be taken, in determining the tax in one of the contracting States, of the purchase of merchandise effected therein by an enterprise of the other State for the purpose of supplying establishments maintained by such enterprise in the latter State.

The competent authorities of the two contracting States may lay down rules by agreement for the apportionment of industrial and commercial profits.

The term "industrial and commercial profits" shall not include the following:

(a) Income from real property;

(b) Income from mortgages, from public funds, securities (including mortgage bonds), loans, deposits and current accounts;

(c) Dividends and other income from shares in a corporation;

(d) Rentals or royalties arising from leasing personal property or from any interest in such property, including rentals or royalties for the use of, or for the privilege of using, patents, copyrights, secret processes and formulae, good-will, trade marks, trade brands, franchises and other like property;

(e) Profit or loss from the sale or exchange of capital assets.

Subject to the provisions of this Convention the income referred to in paragraphs (a), (b), (c), (d) and (e) shall be taxed separately or together with industrial and commercial profits in accordance with the laws of the contracting States.

ARTICLE 4

American enterprises having permanent establishments in France are required to submit to the French fiscal administration the same declarations and the same justifications, with respect to such establishments, as French enterprises.

The French fiscal administration has the right, within the provisions of its national legislation and subject to the measures of appeal provided in such legislation, to make such corrections in the declaration of profits realized in France as may be necessary to show the exact amount of such profits.

The same principle applies mutatis mutandis to French enterprises having permanent establishments in the United States.

ARTICLE 5

When an American enterprise, by reason of its participation in the management or capital of a French enterprise, makes or imposes on the latter, in their commercial or financial relations, conditions different from those which would be made with a third enterprise, any profits which should normally have appeared in the balance sheet of the French enterprise, but which have been in this manner, diverted to the American enterprise, are, subject to the measures of appeal applicable in the case of the tax on industrial and commercial profits, incorporated in the taxable profits of the French enterprise.

The same principle applies mutatis mutandis, in the event that profits are diverted from an American enterprise to a French enterprise.

ARTICLE 6

Income derived by navigation enterprises of one of the contracting States from the operation of ships documented under the laws of that State shall continue to benefit in the other State by the reciprocal tax exemptions accorded by the exchange of notes of June 11 and July 8, 1927 between the United States of America and France.

Income which an enterprise of one of the contracting States derives from the operation of aircraft registered in that State shall be exempt from taxation in the other State.

ARTICLE 7

Royalties from real property or in respect of the operation of mines, quarries or other natural resources shall be taxable only in the contracting State in which such property, mines, quarries or other natural resources are situated.

Royalties derived from within one of the contracting States by a resident or by a corporation or other entity of the other contracting State as consideration for the right to use copyrights, patents, secret processes and formulae, trademarks and other analogous rights shall be exempt from taxation in the former State, provided such resident, corporation or other entity does not have a permanent establishment there.

ARTICLE 8

Wages, salaries and similar compensation and pensions paid by one of the contracting States or by a political subdivision thereof to individuals residing in the other State shall be exempt from taxation in the latter State.

Private pensions and life annuities derived from within one of the contracting States and paid to individuals residing in the other contracting State shall be exempt from taxation in the former State.

ARTICLE 9

Income from labor or personal services shall be taxable only in the State in which the taxpayer carries on his personal activity.

This provision does not apply to the income referred to in Article 8.

ARTICLE 10

Income from the exercise of a liberal profession shall be taxable only in the State in which the professional activity is exercised.

There is the exercise of a liberal profession in one of the two contracting States only when the professional activity has a fixed center in that country.

ARTICLE 11

Gains derived in one of the contracting States from the sale or exchange of stocks, securities or commodities by a resident or a corporation or other entity of the other contracting State shall be exempt from taxation in the former State, provided such resident or corporation or other entity has no permanent establishment in the former State.

ARTICLE 12

Students from one of the contracting States residing in the other contracting State exclusively for the purpose of study shall not be taxable by the latter State in respect of remittances received from within the former State for the purpose of their maintenance or studies.

ARTICLE 13

In the calculation of taxes established in one of the contracting States on the use of property or increment of property of an enterprise of the other State, account shall be taken only of that portion of the capital situated or employed and allocable to a permanent establishment within the former State.

The foregoing provision shall apply to the French "patent" tax and the United States capital stock tax even though these two taxes have not been referred to in Article 1 of the present Convention.

In the application of the present Article navigation enterprises of one of the contracting States, enjoying in the other State the benefits of Article 6 of the present Convention, shall not be considered as having a permanent establishment in the latter State insofar as shipping activities are concerned.

It is agreed that double taxation shall be avoided in the following manner:

A. As regards the United States of America. Notwithstanding any other provision of this Convention, the United States of America in determining the income and excess-profits taxes, including all surtaxes, of its citizens, or residents, or corporations, may include in the basis upon which such taxes are imposed, all items of income taxable under the Revenue Laws of the United States of America, as though this Convention had not come into effect. The United States of America shall, however, deduct from the taxes thus computed the amount of French income tax paid. This deduction shall be made in accordance with the benefits and limitations of Section 131 of the United States Internal Revenue Code relating to credit for foreign taxes.

B. As regards France—(a) Schedular taxes. Income from securities, debts and trusts having its source in the United States of America shall be subject in France to the tax on income from securities; but this tax shall be reduced by the amount of the tax already paid in the United States of America on the same income. In consideration of the fiscal regime to which the legislation of the United States of America subjects the income of nonresident aliens and foreign corporations or other entities, the deduction of the tax paid in the United States of America shall be effected in a lump sum through a reduction of 12 in the rate of the tax established by the French law.

The income other than that indicated in the preceding paragraph shall not be subject to any schedular tax in France when, according to this Convention, it is taxable in the United States of America.

(b) General tax on revenue. Notwithstanding any other provision of the present Convention, the general income tax can be determined according to all the elements of taxable income as imposed by French fiscal legislation.

However, the provisions of the first paragraph of Article 114 of the French Code on direct taxation relative to the taxation of aliens domiciled or resident in France shall continue to be applied.

ARTICLE 15

In derogation of Article 3 of the Decree of December 6, 1872, American corporations which maintain in France permanent establishments shall be liable to the tax on income from securities on three-fourths of the profits actually derived from such establishments, the industrial and commercial profits being determined in accordance with Articles 3 and 4 of this Convention.

The remaining one-fourth shall, in all cases, be taken as the basis of the annual tax on undistributed profits applicable to the same corporations.

ARTICLE 16

An American corporation shall not be subject to the obligations prescribed by Article 3 of the Decree of December 6, 1872, by reason of any participation in the management or in the capital of, or any other relations with, a French corporation. In such case, the tax on income from securities continues to be levied, in conformity with French legislation, on the dividends, interest and all other distributions made by the French enterprise; but it is moreover collectible, if the occasion arises, and subject to the measures of appeal applicable in the case of the tax on income from securities, with respect to the profits which the American corporation derives from the French corporation under the conditions prescribed in Article 5.

ARTICLE 17

The American corporations subject to the provisions of Article 3 of the Decree of December 6, 1872 who were not placed under the special regime established by Articles 5 and 6 of the Convention for the avoidance of double income taxation between the United States of America and France, signed April 27, 1932, may, during a new period of six months from the date of the entry into force of the present Convention, exercise with reference to past years, the option provided in those two articles under the conditions which they prescribe.

Moreover, the American corporations contemplated in the third paragraph of Article 10 of the Convention of April 27, 1932, may be admitted to benefit from the provisions of that paragraph, when the tax has not yet been paid, if the latter was not found to be payable, prior to May 1, 1930, by a definitive judicial decision or if such decision has been the subject of an appeal in cassation.

Any United States income tax liability remaining unpaid as at the effective date of this Convention for years beginning prior to January 1, 1936 of any individual resident of France (other than a citizen of the United States of America) or of a French corporation may be adjusted by the Commissioner of Internal Revenue of the United States of America, on the basis of the provisions of the United States Revenue Act of 1936. However, no adjustment will be made more than two years subsequent to the effective date of this Convention unless the taxpayer files a request with the Commissioner of Internal Revenue prior to such date.

Notwithstanding any other provision of this Convention, in order to avoid double taxation on public servants, employees of one of the contracting States being citizens of that State and remunerated by it, who have been received by the other State to perform services in such State shall be exempt in their principal place of residence from direct and personal taxes whether national, state or local.

Such employees who own real property in the State in which they perform services shall not benefit from the above exemptions with respect to the taxes levied on such real property. Employees who engage in any private gainful occupation in such State shall not be entitled to any exemption under this Article.

TITLE II—FISCAL ASSISTANCE

ARTICLE 20

With a view to the more effective imposition of the taxes to which the present Convention relates, the contracting States undertake, on condition of reciprocity, to furnish information of a fiscal nature which the authorities of each State concerned have at their disposal, or are in a position to obtain under their own laws, that may be of use to the authorities of the other State in the assessment of the said taxes.

Such information shall be exchanged between the competent authorities of the contracting States in the ordinary course or on request.

In accordance with the preceding Article, the competent authorities of the United States of America will transmit to the competent authorities of France, as regards any person, corporation or other entity (other than a citizen, corporation or other entity of the United States of America) having an address in France and deriving from sources within the United States of America rents, dividends, interest, royalties, income from trusts, wages, salaries, pensions, annuities, or other fixed or determinable periodical income, the name and address of such person, corporation or other entity as well as the amount of such income.

The competent authorities of France will transmit to the competent authorities of the United States of America, as regards any person, corporation or other entity (other than a citizen, corporation or other entity of France) having an address in the United States of America and deriving from sources within France rents, dividends, interest, royalties, income from trusts, wages, salaries, pensions, annuities, or other fixed or determinable periodical income, the name and address of such person, corporation or other entity as well as the amount of such income.

The information relating to each year will be transmitted as soon as possible after December 31.

ARTICLE 22

The competent authorities of each of the contracting States shall be entitled to obtain, through diplomatic channels, from the competent authorities of the other contracting State, except with respect to citizens, corporations or other entities of the State to which application is made, particulars in concrete cases necessary for the establishment of the taxes to which the present Convention relates.

However, the competent authorities of each State shall not be prevented from transmitting to the competent authorities of the other State information relating to their own nationals (citizens, corporations or other entities) if they deem it opportune for the prevention of fiscal evasion.

Each contracting State undertakes to lend assistance and support in the collection of the taxes to which the present Convention relates, together with interest, costs, and additions to the taxes and fines not being of a penal character according to the laws of the State requested, in the cases where the taxes are definitively due according to the laws of the State making the application.

In the case of an application for enforcement of taxes, revenue claims of each of the contracting States which have been finally determined shall be accepted for enforcement by the State to which application is made and collected in that State in accordance with the laws applicable to the enforcement and collection of its own taxes.

The application shall be accompanied by such documents as are required by the laws of the State making the application, to establish that the taxes have been finally determined.

If the revenue claim has not been finally determined, the State to which application is made may, at the request of the State making the application, take such measures of conservancy as are authorized by the laws of the former State for the enforcement of its own taxes.

The assistance provided for in this Article shall not be accorded with respect to the citizens, corporations or other entities of the State to which application is made.

In no case shall the provisions of Article 22 relating to particulars in concrete cases, or of Article 23 relating to mutual assistance in the collection of taxes, be construed so as to impose upon either of the contracting States the obligation to carry out administrative measures at variance with the regulations and practice of either contracting State, or to supply particulars which are not procurable under the law of the State to which application is made, or that of the State making application.

The State to which application is made for information or assistance shall comply as soon as possible with the request addressed to it. Nevertheless, such State may refuse to comply with the request for reasons of public policy or if compliance would involve violation of a business, industrial or trade secret. In such case it shall inform, as soon as possible, the State making the application.

Any taxpayer who shows proof that the action of the revenue authorities of the contracting States has resulted in double taxation in his case in respect of any of the taxes to which the present Convention relates, shall be entitled to lodge a claim with the State of which he is a citizen or, if the taxpayer is a corporation or other entity, with the State in which it is created or organized. Should the claim be upheld, the competent authority of such State may come to an agreement with the competent authority of the other State with a view to equitable avoidance of the double taxation in question.

ARTICLE 26

The competent authorities of the two contracting States may prescribe regulations necessary to interpret and carry out the provisions of this Convention. With respect to the provisions of this Convention relating to exchange of information and mutual assistance in the collection of taxes, such authorities may, by common agreement, prescribe rules concerning matters of procedure, forms of application and replies thereto, rates of conversion of currencies, transfer of sums collected, minimum amounts subject to collection, payment of costs of collection, and related matters.

TITLE III—GENERAL PROVISIONS

ARTICLE 27

The present Convention shall be ratified, in the case of the United States of America by the President, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, and in the case of France, by the President of the French Republic with the consent of the Parliament.

This Convention shall become effective on the first day of January following the exchange of the instruments of ratification.

The Convention shall remain in force for a period of five years and indefinitely thereafter but may be terminated by either contracting State at the end of the five-year period or at any time thereafter, provided six months' prior notice of termination has been given, the termination to become effective on the first day of January following the expiration of the six-month period.

Upon the coming into effect of this Convention, the Convention for the avoidance of double income taxation between the United States of America and France, signed April 27, 1932 shall terminate.

Done at Paris, in duplicate, in the English and French languages, this 25th day of July, 1939.

PROTOCOL

At the moment of signing the present Convention for the avoidance of double taxation and the establishment of rules of reciprocal administrative assistance in the case of income and other taxes, the undersigned Plenipotentiaries have agreed that the following provisions shall form an integral part of the Convention:

I. The present Convention is concluded with reference to American and French law in force on the day of its signature.

Accordingly, if these laws are appreciably modified the competent authorities of the two States will consult together.

II. The income from real property referred to in Article 2 of the present Convention shall include profits from the sale or exchange of the said property, but shall not include interest on mortgages or obligations secured by the said property.

III. As used in this Convention:

(a) The term "permanent establishment" includes branches, mines and oil wells, plantations, factories, workshops, stores, purchasing and selling and other offices, agencies, warehouses, and other fixed places of business but does not include a subsidiary corporation.

When an enterprise of one of the contracting States carries on business in the other State through an employee or agent, established there, who has general authority to negotiate and conclude contracts or has a stock of merchandise from which he regularly fills orders which he receives, this enterprise shall be deemed to have a permanent establishment in the latter State. But the fact that an enterprise of one of the contracting States has business dealings in the other State through a bona fide commission agent or broker shall not be held to mean that such enterprise has a permanent establishment in the latter State.

Insurance enterprises shall be considered as having a permanent establishment in one of the States as soon as they receive premiums from or insure risks in the territory of that State.

(b) The term "enterprise" includes every form of undertaking whether carried on by an individual, partnership, corporation, or any other entity.

(c) The term "enterprise of one of the contracting States" means, as the case may be, "United States enterprise" or "French enterprise".

(d) The term "United States enterprise" means an enterprise carried on in the United States of America by a resident of the United States of America or by a United States corporation or other entity.

The term "United States corporation or other entity" means a partnership, corporation or other entity created or organized in the United States of America or under the law of the United States of America or of any State or Territory of the United States of America.

(e) The term "French enterprise" is defined in the same manner, mutatis mutandis, as the term "United States enterprise".

IV. The term "life annuities" referred to in Article 8 of this Convention means a stated sum payable periodically at stated times during life, or during a specified number of years to the person who has paid the premiums or a gross sum for such an obligation.

V. Citizens and corporations or other entities of one of the contracting States within the other contracting State shall not be subjected as regards the taxes referred to in the present Convention, to the payment of higher taxes than are imposed upon the citizens or corporations or other entities of such latter State.

VI. The provisions of the present Convention shall not be construed to restrict in any manner any exemption, deduction, credit, allowance, or other advantage accorded by the laws of one of the contracting States in the determination of the tax imposed by such State.

VII. Documents and information contained therein, transmitted under the provisions of this Convention by one of the contracting States to the other contracting State shall not be published, revealed or disclosed to any person except to the extent permitted under the laws of the latter State with respect to similar documents or information.

VIII. As used in this Convention the terms "competent authority" or "competent authorities" means, in the case of the United States of America, the Secretary of the Treasury and in the case of France, the Minister of Finance.

IX. The term "United States of America" as used in this Convention in a geographic sense includes only the States, the Territories of Alaska and Hawaii, and the District of Columbia.

X. The term "France", when used in a geographic sense, indicates continental France, exclusive of Algeria and the Colonies.

XI. Should any difficulty or doubt arise as to the interpretation or application of the present Convention, or its relationship to Conventions between one of the contracting States and any other State, the competent authorities of the contracting States may settle the question by mutual agreement.

Done in duplicate at Paris, this 25th day of July, 1939.

WILLIAM C. BULLITT.
GEORGES BONNET.

§ 7.411 Applicable provisions of the Internal Revenue Code. The Internal Revenue Code provides in part as follows:

SEC. 22. GROSS INCOME. • • •

(b) Exclusions from gross income. The following items shall not be included in gross income and shall be exempt from taxation under this chapter:

• • • • • •

(7) Income exempt under treaty.—Income of any kind, to the extent required by any treaty obligation of the United States;

• • • • • •

SEC. 62. RULES AND REGULATIONS.

The Commissioner, with the approval of the Secretary, shall prescribe and publish all needful rules and regulations for the enforcement of this chapter.

Pursuant to section 62 of the Internal Revenue Code, Article 26 of the convention, and other provisions of the internal revenue laws, the following sections are hereby prescribed and all regulations inconsistent herewith are modified accordingly.

§ 7.412 Scope of the convention. The primary purposes of the convention are to avoid double taxation upon certain classes of income, and to inaugurate fiscal cooperation between the two States with respect to reciprocal disclosure of information and to the collection of the taxes enumerated in Article 1 of the convention.

The specific classes of income from sources within the United States exempt under the convention from United States income taxes are:

(a) Industrial and commercial profits of a French enterprise having no permanent establishment in the United States (Article 3);

(b) Income derived by a French enterprise from the operation of ships documented under the laws of, or aircraft registered in, France (Article 6);

(c) Royalties derived by a nonresident alien who is a resident of France or by a French corporation or other French entity (having no permanent establishment within the United States), for the right to use copyrights, patents, secret processes and formulae, trademarks and other analogous rights (Article 7);

(d) Compensation and pensions paid by France or by a political subdivision of France to individuals (other than citizens of the United States) for services rendered to France whether within or without the United States (Article 8);

(e) Private pensions and life annuities derived from within the United States and paid to nonresident alien individuals (whether or not such individuals are citizens of France) residing in France during the year in which such amounts are paid (Article 8);

(f) Earned income of a doctor, lawyer, engineer, or other member of a liberal profession who is a nonresident alien individual and is a resident of France and does not maintain within the United States an office, establishment, installation, or other fixed center related to the practice of his profession within the United States (Article 10);

(g) Gains from sources within the United States arising from the sale or exchange of stocks, securities, or commodities by a resident of France (other than a citizen of the United States) or a French corporation or other French entity unless such resident, corporation, or other entity has, at any time during the taxable year in which such sale takes place, a permanent establishment within the United States (Article 11).

Except as expressly provided by the convention, the tax liability of nonresident aliens who are residents of France or of French corporations or other French entities is determined in accordance with the provisions of the laws and of the regulations thereunder applicable generally to nonresident alien individuals and to foreign corporations.

The convention shall not be construed to affect the liability to United States income taxation of citizens of France who are resident in the United States except to the extent that such individuals are entitled to the benefits of Articles 8, 14 A, and 19 and to paragraph V of the protocol of the convention. The tax liability of a United States citizen or a resident of the United States, a member of a French partnership carrying on a French enterprise is not affected by Article 3 of the convention. Such citizen or resident is subject to United States income tax upon his distributive share of the net income of such partnership even though the other members of such partnership are not subject to tax upon their share of the partnership's industrial and commercial profits from sources within the United States where the enterprise has no permanent establishment within the United States. The convention shall not be construed to affect the liability to United States income taxation of citizens of the United States or residents of the United States who are not citizens of France.

The convention has no reference to rates of taxation imposed by the respective States but is concerned with the exempting of income arising in one of the contracting States when such income is derived from sources within such contracting State by a resident or corporation or other entity of the other contracting State and meets the conditions upon which such exemption depends as prescribed in the convention. This subpart is not concerned with the provisions of Articles 14B, 15, 16, and 17 of the convention since such articles affect only the allowance against the taxes imposed by France of income and excess profits taxes paid to the United States or the application of French revenue laws and decrees.

§ 7.413 Definitions. Any word or term used in this subpart which is defined in the convention shall be given the definition assigned to such word or term in such convention. Any word or term used in this subpart which is not defined in the convention but is defined in the Internal Revenue Code shall be given the definition contained therein.

As used in this subpart:

(a) The term "permanent establishment" includes branches, mines and oil wells, plantations, factories, workshops, stores, purchasing and selling and other offices, agencies, warehouses and other fixed places of business. A French parent corporation having a domestic or foreign subsidiary corporation in the United States shall not be deemed by reason of such fact to have a permanent establishment in the United States. The mere fact that a foreign subsidiary corporation of a French parent corporation has a permanent establishment in the United States does not mean that such French parent corporation has a permanent establishment in the United States. The fact that a French enterprise carries on business dealings in the United States through a bona fide commission agent or broker shall not be held to mean that such enterprise has a permanent establishment in the United States. If, however, a French enterprise carries on business in the United States through an employee or agent established there who has general authority to negotiate and conclude contracts or has a stock of merchandise from which he regularly fills orders, such enterprise shall be deemed to have a permanent establishment in the United States. Thus, if a French enterprise has a full time employee or full time agent who for such enterprise maintains in the United States a stock of merchandise from which orders are filled, such enterprise has a permanent establishment in the United States even though such employee or agent has no general authority to negotiate and conclude contracts on behalf of such enterprise. However, the mere fact that a commission agent or broker through whom a French enterprise carries on business in the United States maintains a small stock of goods in the United States from which occasional orders are filled shall not be construed as meaning that such enterprise has a permanent establishment in the United States. The mere fact that salesmen, employees of a French enterprise, promote the sale of its products in the United States does not mean that such enterprise has a permanent establishment therein. However, a French insurance enterprise which insures risks within the United States or receives premiums from sources within the United States is deemed to have a permanent establishment within the United States.

(b) The term "enterprise" means any commercial or industrial undertaking, whether conducted by an individual, partnership, corporation, or other entity. It includes such activities as manufacturing, merchandising, mining, banking, and insurance. It does not include the operation of, or the trading in, real property located in the United States. It does not include the rendition of personal services. Hence, a nonresident alien individual who is a resident of France, rendering personal services within the United States is not, merely by reason of such services, engaged in an enterprise within the meaning of the convention, and his liability to United States income tax is unaffected by Article 3 of the Convention.

(c) The term "French enterprise" means an enterprise carried on in France by a nonresident alien individual resident of France or by a French corporation or other French entity. The term "corporation or other entity" means a partnership, corporation, or other entity created or organized in France or under the laws of France. For example, an enterprise carried on wholly outside France by a French corporation is not a French enterprise within the meaning of the convention. Whether a French entity is a corporation, a partnership, or a trust is to be determined in accordance with the principles of existing law relating to the taxation of nonresident aliens and foreign corporations.

(d) The term "industrial and commercial profits" means the profits arising from the industrial, mercantile, manufacturing, or like activities of a French enterprise as defined in this section. Such term does not include income from real property, interest, dividends, rentals and royalties, gains from the sale or exchange of capital assets, or compensation for labor or personal services. Such enumerated items of income are not governed by the provisions of Article 3 but, to the extent covered by the convention, are subject to the rules elsewhere set forth therein and in this subpart.

(e) The term "Secretary" means the Secretary of the Treasury and the term "Minister" means the Minister of Finance of France.

§ 7.414 Scope of convention with respect to determination of "industrial and commercial profits" of a nonresident alien individual resident of France, or of a French corporation or other entity carrying on a French enterprise in the United States.—(a) General. Article 3 of the convention adopts the principle that an enterprise of one of the contracting States shall not be taxable in the other contracting State in respect of its industrial and commercial profits unless it has a permanent establishment in the latter State. Hence, a French enterprise is subject to United States tax upon its industrial and commercial profits from sources within the United States only if it has a permanent establishment within the United States. From the standpoint of Federal income taxation, the article has application only to a French enterprise and to the industrial and commercial income thereof from sources within the United States. It has no application, for example, to compensation for labor or personal services performed in the United States, to income derived from real property located in the United States or any interest therein, including rentals and royalties, to gains from the sale or other disposition of such real property or interest, to dividends and interest, to rentals and royalties arising from leasing personal property or any interest in such property, including rentals and royalties for the use of patents, copyrights, secret processes and formulae, good will, trade marks, trade brands, franchises, and other like property, or to profits from the sale or exchange of capital assets. Such enumerated items of income, to the extent covered by the convention, are treated separately elsewhere in this subpart and are subject to the rules laid down in the sections having specific reference to the respective items of income.

(b) No United States permanent establishment. A nonresident alien individual who is a resident of France, or a French corporation or other French entity carrying on a French enterprise, but having no permanent establishment in the United States, is not subject to United States income tax upon industrial and commercial profits from sources within the United States. For example, if such French corporation sells stock in trade, such as wines or prefumery or cheese, through a bona fide commission agent or broker in the United States, the resulting profit is, under the terms of Article 3 of the convention, exempt from United States income tax. Such French corporation, however, remains subject to tax upon all other items of income from sources within the United States which are not expressly exempted from such tax under the convention.

(c) United States permanent establishment. A nonresident alien individual who is a resident of France, or a French corporation or other entity, carrying on a French enterprise having a permanent establishment in the United States is subject to tax upon his or its industrial and commercial profits from sources within the United States. In the determination of the income of such resident of France or French corporation or other entity from sources within the United States, all industrial and commercial profits from such sources shall be deemed to be allocable to the permanent establishment within the United States. Hence, for example, if a French enterprise, having a permanent establishment in the United States, sells directly in the United States through a commission agent or broker therein goods produced in France, the resulting profits derived from United States sources from the latter transactions are allocable to such permanent establishment. The net income from sources within the United States, including the industrial and commercial profits, shall be determined in accordance with the provisions of section 119 of the Internal Revenue Code and the regulations thereunder. In determining industrial and commercial profits no account shall be taken of the mere purchase of merchandise effected in the United States by such French enterprise. A nonresident alien who is a resident of France, a member of a French partnership having a permanent establishment within the United States, shall by reason of such fact be deemed to have a permanent establishment within the United States.

§ 7.415 Control of a domestic enterprise by a French enterprise. Article 5 of the convention provides that if a French enterprise by reason of its control of a domestic business imposes conditions different from those which would result from normal business relations between independent enterprises, the accounts between the enterprises will be adjusted so as to ascertain the true net income of the domestic enterprise. The purpose is to place the controlled domestic enterprise on a tax parity with an uncontrolled domestic enterprise by determining, according to the standard of an uncontrolled enterprise, the true net income from the property and business of the controlled enterprise. The convention contemplates that if the accounting records do not truly reflect the net income from the property and business of such domestic enterprise the Commissioner of Internal Revenue shall intervene and, by making such distributions, apportionments, or allocations as he may deem necessary of gross income or deductions of any item or element affecting net income as between such domestic enterprise and the French enterprise by which it is controlled or directed, determine the true net income of the domestic enterprise. The provisions of § 29.45–1 of this chapter (Regulation 111), shall, in so far as applicable, be followed in the determination of the net income of the domestic business.

§ 7.416 Income from operation of ships or aircraft. The income derived by a French enterprise from the operation of ships documented under the laws of France, or of aircraft registered in France, is under Article 6 of the convention exempt from United States income tax. However, the profits derived by such enterprise from the operation of ships or aircraft, if any, not so documented or registered are treated as are industrial and commercial profits generally. See Article 3 of the convention and § 7.414.

§ 7.417 Income from real property, including mineral royalties. Income of whatever nature derived by a nonresident alien individual who is a resident of France, or by a French corporation or other French entity from real property situated in the United States, including gains derived from the sale of such property and royalties in respect of the operation of mines, quarries, or other natural resources situated in the United States, is not exempted from taxation by the convention. The treatment of such income for taxation purposes is governed by those provisions of the Internal Revenue Code applicable generally to the taxation of nonresident aliens and foreign corporations.

§ 7.418 Patent and copyright royalties. Royalties derived from sources within the United States by a nonresident alien individual who is a resident of France, or by a French corporation or other French entity, as consideration for the right to use copyrights, patents, secret processes and formulae, trademarks and other analogous rights, are exempt from Federal income tax under Article 7 of the convention, provided that such individual, corporation, or other entity has no permanent establishment within the United States at any time during the taxable year in which such income is so derived. Thus, a nonresident alien who is a resident of France, rendering personal services within the United States, is not subject to tax with respect to such royalties even though he is engaged in trade or business in the United States by reason of rendition of such services so long as he has no permanent establishment in the United States.

To obviate withholding of tax at the source, the nonresident alien individual resident of France or the corporation or other entity organized under the laws of France, as the case may be, shall notify by letter the person paying such income that the income is exempt from taxation under the provisions of the applicable convention and protocol. The letter of notification from an individual resident of France shall contain his address and a statement that he is a resident of France. The letter of notification from a corporation or other entity organized under the laws of France shall contain the address of its office or place of business and a statement that it is a corporation or other entity organized under the laws of France, shall be signed by an officer of such corporation or entity, and shall set forth his official title. In the case of royalties derived on or after January 1, 1945, the letter of notification shall also state that the individual resident of France, or corporation or other entity organized under the laws of France, as the case may be, does not have a permanent establishment in the United States and will not have such establishment in the United States at any time during the calendar year in which such royalties are paid. The recipient of the letter of notification shall immediately forward such letter or a copy thereof to the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, Withholding Returns Section, Washington 25, D. C.

§ 7.419 Government wages, salaries, and similar compensation, pensions, and life annuities. Under Article 8 of the convention, wages, salaries, and similar compensation, and pensions paid by France, or by a political subdivision thereof, to individuals residing in the United States are exempt from Federal income tax. However, under the provisions of Article 14 A of the convention, such exemption shall not be construed as applying to recipients of such income who are citizens of the United States or alien residents who are not citizens of France.

Under the provisions of the same article of the convention private pensions and life annuities derived from sources within the United States by nonresident alien individuals who are residents of France are exempt from Federal income tax. Such items of income are therefore not subject to the withholding provisions of the Internal Revenue Code. See paragraph IV of the protocol to the convention as to what constitutes life annuities. See, also, § 7.418 with respect to patent and copyright royalties as to the requirements necessary to avoid withholding of the tax at the source, which requirements are also applicable for the purposes of this section.

§ 7.420 Compensation for labor or personal services.—(a) General. In general and subject to the provisions of Article 8 and Article 10 of the convention and paragraph (b) of this section, compensation for labor or personal services derived from sources within the United States by a nonresident alien who is a resident of France, is subject to tax in accordance with the provisions of the Internal Revenue Code applicable generally to nonresident aliens. The provisions of Article 9 do not disturb either the provisions of section 119 (a) (3) of the Internal Revenue Code, relating to source of compensation for labor or personal services, or the provisions of the Internal Revenue Code relating to the taxation of such compensation in the hands of a nonresident individual who is a resident of France.

(b) Professional earnings. Article 10 of the convention provides a special rule of taxation with respect to professional fees constituting income derived from sources within the United States by a resident of France who is a nonresident alien. Under such rule, such nonresident alien rendering professional services, such as medical, legal, engineering, and scientific services, is not subject to United States tax with respect to such compensation unless he has an office or other fixed place situated in the United States during the taxable year. Thus, such alien present in the United States during any part of the taxable year and rendering professional advice as a medical doctor or as a laywer or as an engineer, is not subject to Federal income tax on fees derived by him in such taxable year by reason of such services unless he maintains at some time during such taxable year an office or other fixed place in the United States incident to the practice of his profession. The exemption applies regardless of the length of time spent within the United States during the taxable year and regardless of the amount of the fees or professional charges resulting to such alien from such services. As to when an alien is regarded as a resident of the United States and hence outside the scope of the exemption, see § 29.211–2 of this chapter (Regulations 111).

§ 7.421 Stocks, securities, and commodities. Under Article 11 of the convention, gains derived from the sale or exchange within the United States of stocks, securities, or commodities (if of a kind customarily dealt in on an organized commodity exchange) by a nonresident alien individual resident in France, or by a French corporation or other French entity, is exempt from Federal income tax unless such individual, corporation, or other entity has a permanent establishment in the United States. If, however, a permanent establishment is maintained in the United States, such gains are not so exempt even though the sales or exchanges resulting in such gains were carried on directly from the home office of the taxpayer and not through the permanent establishment in the United States. As to what constitutes a permanent establishment, see § 7.413.

§ 7.422 Remittances to students. Under Article 12 of the convention, nonresident alien individuals who are residents of France and who are temporarily residing in the United States for the purposes of studying or for acquiring business experience, are exempt from Federal income tax upon amounts representing remittances from France for the purposes of their maintenance and studies.

§ 7.423 Credit against United States tax liability for income tax paid to France. For the purpose of avoidance of double taxation, Article 14 A of the convention provides that, on the part of the United States, there shall be allowed against the United States income and excess profits tax liabilities a credit for any income, war-profits, or excess profits taxes paid to France by United States citizens or domestic corporations. Such principle also applies in the case of a citizen of France residing in the United States. Such credit, however, is subject to the limitations provided in section 131 of the Internal Revenue Code (relating to the credit for foreign taxes) and section 729 of such Code (relating to laws applicable). See §§ 29.131–1 to 29.131–8, inclusive, of this chapter (Regulations 111) and §§ 35.729–1 to 35.729–3, inclusive, of this chapter (Regulations 112)

§ 7.424 Adjustment of tax liability of residents of France and French Corporations. Article 18 of the convention confers upon the Commissioner authority to adjust under the Revenue Act of 1936 the tax liability for taxable years beginning prior to January 1, 1936, of non-resident alien residents of France, and French corporations, in any case in which such tax liability remained unpaid on January 1, 1945. Such provision, however, will not apply in any case unless:

(a) The Commissioner is satisfied that the additional income tax involved did not arise by reason of fraud with intent to evade the tax on the part of the taxpayer concerned; and

(b) The taxpayer files, prior to January 1, 1947, with the Commissioner a sworn statement showing for each year involved and for such other years as the Commissioner may require, (1) by items and classes of income the amounts of interest, dividends, rents, salaries, wages, premiums, annuities, compensations, remunerations, emoluments, or other fixed or determinable annual or periodical income, gains, profits, and income derived from sources within the United States; (2) the business transactions, if any, carried on in the United States by or in behalf of the taxpayer during each of such years; and (3) such further information as the Commissioner may require in the particular case.

§ 7.425 Reciprocal administrative assistance.—(a) General. By Article 20 of the convention, the United States and France adopt the principle of exchange of information for use in the determination and assessment of the taxes with which the convention is concerned. Pursuant to such principle, every United States withholding agent shall make and file with the collector, in duplicate, an information return on Form 1042C for the calendar year 1945 and each subsequent calendar year, in addition to withholding return Form 1042, with respect to dividends, interest, royalties, rents, salaries, wages, pensions, and annuities, or other fixed or determinable annual or periodical income paid to persons whose addresses are in France whether or not tax has been withheld with respect to such income. There shall be reported on Form 1042C not only such items of income listed on Form 1042, but also such items of interest listed on monthly returns, Form 1012, and there shall be shown on such return items of income paid to such addressees even though such items are exempt from tax under the convention, as, for example, certain royalties.

The information and correspondence relating to exchange of information may be transmitted direct by the Secretary to the Minister.

(b) Information to be furnished in due course. In accordance with the provisions of Article 21 of the convention, the Secretary shall forward to the Minister as soon as practicable after the close of the calendar year 1945 and of each calendar year thereafter during which the convention is in effect, the names and addresses of all persons whose addresses are within France and who derive from sources within the United States, dividends, interest, rents, royalties, salaries, wages, pensions, and annuities, or other fixed or determinable annual or periodical profits and income showing the amounts of such profits and income in the case of each addressee. For these purposes, the transmission to the Minister of information return, Form 1042C, as provided in paragraph (a) of this section for the calendar year 1945 and subsequent calendar years shall constitute a compliance with the provisions of Article 21 of the convention and of this subpart.

(c) Information in specific cases. Under the provisions of Article 22 of the convention, the Secretary shall furnish (if request therefor is made by the Minister through diplomatic channels) to the Minister such information, relative to the tax liability to France of any person (other than a citizen of the United States or a United States domestic corporation or other United States domestic entity), as is available to, or may be obtained by, the Secretary under the revenue laws of the United States.

§ 7.426 Reciprocal regulations. Article 26 of the convention provides that the United States and France may prescribe (a) regulations for the purpose of carrying the convention into effect within the respective countries and (b) reciprocal rules relating to the exchange of information.

PAR. 3. Section 29.207–1, as amended by T. D. 5369, approved May 11, 1944, is amended as follows:

(A) By inserting immediately after the heading thereof the following: "(a) General."

(B) By striking out the fifth paragraph and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

Mutual insurance companies subject to the tax imposed by section 207, except interinsurers or reciprocal underwriters, with corporation surtax net incomes of over $3,000 or with gross amounts of income from interest, dividends, rents, and net premiums, minus dividends to policyholders, minus wholly tax-exempt interest of over $75,000, are subject to a tax computed under section 207 (a) (1) or section 207 (a) (2) whichever is the greater. Interinsurers and reciprocal underwriters with corporation surtax net incomes of over $50,000 are subject to a tax computed under section 207 (a) (3).

(C) By striking out the sixth and seventh paragraphs and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

(b) Taxable years beginning prior to January 1, 1946. For any taxable year beginning prior to January 1, 1946, the tax under section 207 (a) (1) and 207 (a) (3), except as hereinafter indicated, is computed upon normal-tax net income and corporation surtax net income at the rates provided in section 13 or section 14 (b) and in section 15 (b) applicable to such year. The tax under section 207 (a) (2), except as hereinafter indicated, is a tax equal to the excess of 1 percent of the gross amount of income from interest, dividends, rents, and net premiums, minus dividends to policyholders, minus wholly tax-exempt interest, over the amount of the tax imposed under subchapter E of chapter 2.

Under section 207 (a) (1), companies with normal-tax net incomes of between $3,000 and $6,153.86, and with corporation surtax net incomes of between $3,000 and $6,000, pay a normal tax, at the rate of 30 percent, and a surtax, at the rate of 20 percent, on that portion of the normal-tax net income and the corporation surtax net income, respectively, in excess of $3,000. Under section 207 (a) (2), companies with gross amounts of income from interest, dividends, rents, and net premiums, minus dividends to policyholders, minus wholly tax-exempt interest, of between $75,000 and $150,000, pay a tax equal to the excess of 2 percent of that portion in excess of $75,000, over the amount of the tax imposed under subchapter E of chapter 2. Under section 207 (a) (3) interinsurers and reciprocal underwriters with normal-tax net incomes and corporation surtax net incomes of between $50,000 and $100,000 pay a normal tax, at the rate of 48 percent, and a surtax, at the rate of 32 percent, on that portion of the normal-tax net income and the corporation surtax net income, respectively, in excess of $50,000.

(D) By inserting immediately after example (4) the following:

(c) Taxable years beginning after December 31, 1945. For any taxable year beginning after December 31, 1945, the tax under section 207 (a) (1) and 207 (a) (3), except as hereinafter indicated, is computed upon normal-tax net income and corporation surtax net income at the rates provided in section 13 or section 14 (b) and in section 15 (b) applicable to such year. The tax under section 207 (a) (2), except as hereinafter indicated, is 1 percent of the gross amount of income from interest, dividends, rents, and net premiums, minus dividends to policyholders, minus wholly tax-exempt interest.

Under section 207 (a) (1) companies with normal-tax net incomes of between $3,000 and $6,153.86 and with corporation surtax net incomes of between $3,000 and $6,000, pay a normal tax, at the rate of 30 percent, and a surtax, at the rate of 12 percent, on that portion of the normal-tax net income and the corporation surtax net income, respectively, in excess of $3,000. Under section 207 (a) (2), companies with gross amounts of income from interest, dividends, rents, and net premiums, minus dividends to policyholders, minus wholly tax-exempt interest, of between $75,000 and $150,000, pay a tax equal to the excess of 2 percent of that portion in excess of $75,000, over the amount of the tax imposed under subchapter E of chapter 2. Under section 207 (a) (3) interinsurers and reciprocal underwriters with normal-tax net incomes and corporation surtax net incomes of between $50,000 and $100,000 pay a normal tax, at the rate of 48 percent, and a surtax, at the rate of 28 percent, on that portion of the normal-tax net income and the corporation surtax net income, respectively, in excess of $50,000.

Section 207 (a) (4) provides for an adjustment of the amount computed under section 207 (a) (1), section 207 (a) (2) (A), and section 207 (a) (3) where the gross amount received during the taxable year from interest, dividends, rents, and premiums (including deposits and assessments) is over $75,000 and less than $125,000. The adjustments reduces the tax otherwise computed under those sections to an amount which bears the same proportion to such tax as the excess over $75,000 bears to $50,000.

The application of section 207 (a) (1), (2), (3), and (4) may be illustrated by the following examples:

Example (1). The X Company, a mutual casualty insurance company, for the taxable year 1946 has a corporation surtax net income of $3,500 and due to partially tax-exempt interest of $600, a normal-tax net income of $2,900. The gross amount of income of the X Company from interest, dividends, rents, net premiums, minus dividends to policyholders, minus wholly tax-exempt interest is $150,000. It is not subject to normal tax under section 207 (a) (1) for the taxable year 1946 as its normal-tax net income does not exceed $3,000. Its surtax is 12 percent of $500 ($3,500–$3,000) or $60, since its surtax net income is not more than $6,000. It has no normal tax and, therefore, its total tax under section 207 (a) (1) is the surtax of $60. The tax under section 207 (a) (2) is 1 percent of $150,000, or $1,500. Since the tax under section 207 (a) (2) exceeds the tax under section 207 (a) (1), the tax under section 207 (a) is $1,500, namely, that imposed by section 207 (a) (2).

Example (2). If in the above example the normal-tax net income and the corporation surtax net income were each less than $2,900, the gross amount received from interest, dividends, rents, and premiums (including deposits and assessments) was $90,000 and the gross amount of income from interest, dividends, rents, and net premiums, minus dividends to policyholders, minus wholly tax-exempt interest was $70,000, the X Company would be required to file an income tax return but due to section 207 (a) no income tax would be imposed.

Example (3). The Y Company, a mutual fire insurance company subject to the tax imposed by section 207, for the taxable year 1946 has a normal-tax net income of $6,000 and a corporation surtax net income of $7,000. The gross amount received from interest, dividends, rents, and premiums (including deposits and assessments) is $120,000 and the gross amount of income from interest, dividends, rents, and net premiums, minus dividends to policyholders, minus wholly tax-exempt interest is $100,000. Under section 207 (a) (1), without application of section 207 (a) (4), the normal tax would be 30 percent of $3,000, or $900, since this is less than $920, the tax computed at the rates provided in section 14 (b); and the surtax would be 6 percent of $7,000, or $420, the rate provided in section 15 (b) (1), since its surtax net income exceeds $6,000 but does not exceed $25,000. The combined tax of $1,320 would then be reduced by applying section 207 (a) (4), since the gross receipts are between $75,000 and $125,000. The tax under section 207 (a) (1), as thus adjusted, would be 90 percent of $1,320, or $1,188, since $45,000 (the excess of $120,000 over $75,000) is 90 percent of $50,000.

Under section 207 (a) (2) (A), without reference to section 207 (a) (4), the tax is 2 percent of $25,000 (the excess of $100,000 over $75,000), or $500, since this is less than $1,000, 1 percent of $100,000. Applying section 207 (a) (4) reduces this to $450, or 90 percent of $500. Since $1,188, the tax under section 207 (a) (1), as adjusted, exceeds $450, the tax under section 207 (a) (2), as adjusted, the tax under section 207 (a) (1), as adjusted, is applicable. The Y Company would accordingly pay a combined normal tax and surtax of $1,188.

Example (4). The Z Exchange, an interinsurer, for the taxable year 1946 has a corporation surtax net income of $60,000 and, due to partially tax-exempt interest of $12,000, a normal-tax net income of $48,000. The gross amount received from interest, dividends, rents, and premiums (including deposits and assessments) is $2,700,000. The Z Exchange is not subject to normal tax under section 207 (a) (3) for the taxable year 1946 as its normal-tax net income is less than $50,000. Its surtax is 28 percent of $10,000 ($60,000–$50,000) or $2,800, since that amount is less than $8,400, the surtax computed at the rate provided in section 15 (b). Since it has no normal tax and is not subject to the tax imposed by section 207 (a) (2) nor entitled to the adjustment provided in section 207 (a) (4), its total tax under section 207 (a) is $2,800.

(Sec. 121 and 122 of the Revenue Act of 1945 (Public Law 214, 79th Congress), enacted November 8, 1945, and Sec. 62 of the Internal Revenue Code, 53 Stat. 32; 26 U.S.C., and Sup. 62)

Section 4 (a) of the Tax Adjustment Act of 1945 (Public Law 172, 79th Congress), approved July 31, 1945, provides as follows:

SEC. 4. EXTENSIONS OF TIME FOR PAYMENT OF TAXES BY CORPORATIONS EXPECTING CARRY-BACKS, AND TENTATIVE CARRY-BACK ADJUSTMENTS.

(a) Chapter 37 of the Internal Revenue Code is amended by adding at the end thereof the following new sections:

SEC. 3779. EXTENSIONS OF TIME FOR PAYMENT OF TAXES BY CORPORATIONS EXPECTING CARRY-BACKS.

(a) In general. If a corporation, in any taxable year ending on or after September 30, 1945, files with the collector a statement, as provided in subsection (b), with respect to an expected net operating loss carry-back or unused excess profits credit carry-back from such taxable year, the time for payment of all or part of any tax imposed by chapter 1 or 2 for the taxable year immediately preceding such taxable year shall be extended, to the extent and subject to the conditions and limitations hereinafter provided in this section.

(b) Contents of statement. The statement with respect to an expected carry-back referred to in subsection (a) of this section shall be sworn to in the manner prescribed by section 52 in the case of a return and shall be filed at such time and in such manner and form as the Commissioner, with the approval of the Secretary, may by regulations prescribe. Such statement shall set forth that the corporation expects to have a net operating loss carry-back, as provided in section 122 (b), or an unused excess profits credit carry-back, as provided in section 710 (c) (3), from the taxable year in which such statement is made, and shall set forth, in such detail and with such supporting data and explanation as such regulations shall require:

(1) The estimated amount of the expected net operating loss or unused excess profits credit;

(2) The reasons, facts, and circumstances which cause the corporation to expect such net operating loss or unused excess profits credit;

(3) The amount of the reduction, attributable to the expected carry-back, in the aggregate of the taxes previously determined for all taxable years affected by the carry-back prior to the taxable year of the expected loss or unused credit; such taxes previously determined being ascertained in accordance with the method prescribed in section 3801 (d); and such reduction being determined by applying the expected carry-back in the manner provided by law to the items on the basis of which such taxes were determined but such reduction being decreased by the amount of any credits under section 780 properly allocable to such reduction;

(4) The tax or taxes and the amount thereof the time for payment of which is to be extended; and

(5) Such other information for the purpose of carrying out the provisions of this section as may be required by such regulations.

The collector shall, upon request, furnish a receipt for any statement filed, which shall set forth the date of such filing.

(c) Amount to which extension relates and installment payments. The amount the time for payment of which may be extended under subsection (a) with respect to any tax shall not exceed the amount of such tax shown on the return, increased by any amount assessed as a deficiency (or as interest or additions to the tax) prior to the date of filing the statement and decreased by any amount paid or required to be paid prior to the date of such filing, and the total amount of the taxes the time for payment of which may be extended shall not exceed the amount stated under clause (3) of subsection (b). For the purposes of this subsection, an amount shall not be considered as required to be paid unless shown on the return or assessed as a deficiency (or as interest or addition to the tax), and an amount assessed as a deficiency (or as interest or addition to the tax) shall be considered to be required to be paid prior to the date of filing of the statement if the tenth day after notice and demand for its payment occurs prior to such date. If an extension of time under this section relates to only a part of a tax, the time for payment of the remainder shall be considered to be the dates on which payments would have been required if such remainder had been the tax and the taxpayer had elected to pay the tax in four equal instalments as provided in section 56 (b).

(d) Period of extension. The extension of time for payment provided in this section shall expire:

(1) On the last day of the month in which falls the last date prescribed by law) including any extension of time granted the taxpayer) for the filing of the return for the taxable year of the expected net operating loss or unused excess profits credit, or

(2) If an application for tentative carry-back adjustment provided in section 3780 with respect to such loss or unused credit is filed before the expiration of the period prescribed in clause (1), on the date on which notice is mailed by registered mail by the Commissioner to the taxpayer that such application is allowed or disallowed in whole or in part.

(e) Revised statements. Each statement filed under subsection (a) with respect to any taxable year shall be in lieu of the last statement previously filed with respect to such year. If the amount the time for payment of which is extended under a statement filed is less than the amount under the last statement previously filed the extension of time shall be terminated as to the difference between the two amounts.

(f) Termination by Commissioner. The Commissioner is not required to make any examination of the statement, but he may make such examination thereof as he deems necessary and practicable. The Commissioner shall terminate the extension as to any part of the amount to which it relates which he deems should be terminated because, upon such examination, he believes that, as of the time such examination is made, all or any part of the statement clearly is in a material respect erroneous or unreasonable.

(g) Payments on termination. If an extension of time is terminated under subsection (e) or (f) with respect to any amount, then:

(1) No further extension of time shall be made under this section with respect to such amount, and

(2) The time for payment of such amount shall be considered to be the dates on which payments would have been required if there had been no extension with respect to such amount and the taxpayer had elected to pay the tax in four equal instalments as provided in section 56 (b).

(h) Jeopardy. If the Commissioner believes that collection of the amount to which an extension under this section relates is in jeopardy, he shall immediately terminate such extension and notice and demand shall be made by the collector for payment of such amount.

(i) Interest. In the case of an amount the time for payment of which has been extended, there shall be collected as part of such amount interest from the dates on which payments would have been required if there had been no extension and the taxpayer had elected to pay the tax in four equal instalments as provided in section 56 (b):

(1) Upon so much of such amount as is satisfied under section 3780 (b) by applying or crediting thereto, within the period of extension, a decrease in tax determined in connection with an application under section 3780 (a), interest at the rate of 3 per centum per annum to the date of such satisfaction, except that on so much of such satisfied amount as is not in excess of the amount of the deficiencies assessed under section 3780 (b) and which is not so satisfied, the rate shall be 6 per centum per annum; and

(2) Upon the remainder of the amount the time for payment of which has been extended, interest at the rate of 6 per centum per annum to the date such amount is paid.

If the Commissioner determines that during the period of extension credit or refund of an overpayment has been allowed or made, or a deficiency assessed, affecting the amount to which the extension relates and that the taxpayer could not have taken such overpayment or deficiency into account in the statement or a revised statement, appropriate adjustment shall be made in the interest.

SEC. 3780. TENTATIVE CARRY-BACK ADJUSTMENTS.

(a) Application for adjustment. A taxpayer may file an application for a tentative carry-back adjustment of the taxes for prior taxable years affected by a net operating loss carry-back, provided in section 122 (b), or an unused excess profits credit carry-back, provided in section 710 (c) (3), from any taxable year ending on or after September 30, 1945. The application shall be verified in the manner prescribed by section 51 or section 52 in the case of a return of such taxpayer, and shall be filed, on or after the date of filing of the return for the taxable year of the net operating loss or unused excess profits credit from which the carry-back results and within a period of twelve months from the end of such taxable year, in the manner and form required by regulations prescribed by the Commissioner with the approval of the Secretary. The application shall set forth, in such detail and with such supporting data and explanation as such regulations shall require:

(1) The amount of the net operating loss or unused excess profits credit;

(2) The amount of the tax previously determined for each prior taxable year affected by such carry-back; the tax previously determined being ascertained in accordance with the method prescribed in section 3801 (d);

(3) The amount of increase or decrease in each such tax, attributable to such carry-back; such increase or decrease being determined by applying the carry-back in the manner provided by law to the items on the basis of which such taxes were determined. If an application under section 124 (j) for tentative adjustment of tax with respect to amortization has been previously filed but such adjustment has not been previously determined, then for the purposes of this section the assessments, applications, credits, and refunds provided for in section 124 (k) shall be considered as having previously been made upon the basis of such application under section 124 (j);

(4) The amount by which the aggregate of such decreases exceeds the aggregate of such increases;

(5) The unpaid amount of each such tax, not including any amount required to be shown under paragraph (6);

(6) The amount, with respect to each tax for the taxable year immediately preceding the taxable year of such loss or unused credit, as to which an extension of time for payment under section 3779 is in effect; and

(7) Such other information for the purposes of carrying out the provisions of this section as may be required by such regulations.

An application under this subsection shall not constitute a claim for credit or refund.

(b) Allowance of adjustments. Within a period of ninety days from the date on which an application for a tentative carry-back adjustment is filed under subsection (a), or from the last day of the month in which falls the last date prescribed by law (including any extension of time granted the taxpayer) for filing the return for the taxable year of the net operating loss or unused excess profits credit from which such carry-back results, whichever is the later, the Commissioner shall make, to the extent he deems practicable in such period, a limited examination of the application, to discover omissions and errors of computation therein, and shall determine the amount of the increase or decrease in each tax attributable to such carry-back upon the basis of the application and the examination, except that the Commissioner may disallow, without further action, any application which he finds contains errors of computation which he deems cannot be corrected by him within such ninety-day period or material omissions. Each such increase shall be deemed determined as a deficiency and shall be assessed, without regard to the restrictions on assessment in section 272. Each such decrease shall be applied against any unpaid amount of the tax decreased (including any amount of such tax as to which an extension of time under section 3779 is in effect) and any remainder shall be credited:

(1) Against the deficiencies (and additions to the tax) assessed under this subsection,

(2) Against any unsatisfied amount of any tax for the taxable year immediately preceding the taxable year of the net operating loss or unused excess profits credit the time for payment of which tax is extended under section 3779, and any remainder shall, within such ninety-day period, be either credited against any income, war profits, or excess profits tax or instalment thereof then due from the taxpayer, or refunded to the taxpayer. The application, credit or refund of a decrease determined under this subsection shall be deemed a credit or refund of an overpayment within the meaning of sections 781 (b) and 3807 (b) (1).

(c) Assessment of erroneous allowances. If the Commissioner determines that the amount applied, credited or refunded under subsection (b) is in excess of the overassessment attributable to the carry-back with respect to which such amount was applied, credited or refunded, he may assess the amount of the excess as a deficiency as if it were due to a mathematical error appearing on the face of the return, as provided in section 272 (f). Upon making such assessment the Commissioner shall schedule as an overassessment the decrease in any other tax resulting from the adjustments reflected in the computation of the deficiency.

SEC. 3781. EXTENSION OF TIME AND TENTATIVE CARRY-BACK AND AMORTIZATION ADJUSTMENTS IN THE CASE OF CONSOLIDATED RETURNS.

If the corporation seeking an extension of time under section 3779, a tentative carry-back adjustment under section 3780, or a tentative adjustment with respect to an amortization deduction under section 124 (j) and (k), made or was required to make a consolidated return, either for the taxable year within which the net operating loss or the unused excess profits credit arises or within which the election is made to terminate the amortization period, or for a preceding taxable year affected by such loss, credit, or election, the provisions of such sections shall apply only to such extent and subject to such conditions, limitations, and exceptions as the Commissioner, with the approval of the Secretary, may by regulations prescribe.

Pursuant to the above-quoted provisions of the Tax Adjustment Act of 1945, the following regulations are hereby prescribed:

§ 474.0 Numbering of sections. Inasmuch as these regulations constitute Part 474 of Title 26 of the 1945 Supplement to the Code of Federal Regulations, each section of the part bears a number beginning with 474 and a decimal point. References to sections preceded by "474." are references to sections of this part. References to sections not preceded by "474." and references to chapters are references to sections and chapters of the Internal Revenue Code unless otherwise expressly indicated.

§ 474.1 Extensions of time for payment of taxes by corporations expecting carry-backs. If a corporation files a statement with respect to an expected net operating loss carry-back or unused excess profits credit carry-back from any taxable year ending on or after September 30, 1945, such corporation may extend the time for the payment of all or any part of certain taxes to the extent and subject to the limitations provided in section 3779. A corporation may extend the time for payment with respect to only such taxes as meet the following three requirements:

(a) The tax must be one imposed by chapter 1 or chapter 2;

(b) The tax must be for the taxable year immediately preceding the taxable year of the expected net operating loss or unused excess profits credit;

(c) The tax must be shown on the return or must be assessed within the taxable year of the expected net operating loss or unused excess profits credit; and

(d) The tax must not have been paid or required to have been paid prior to the filing of the statement.

The time for payment of the tax is automatically extended under section 3779 upon the filing of a statement by the corporation with the collector of internal revenue where the tax is payable with respect to the expected net operating loss carry-back or unused excess profits credit carry-back. The period of extension is that provided in section 3779 (d) unless sooner terminated by action of either the Commissioner of Internal Revenue (hereinafter referred to in these regulations as the Commissioner) or the corporation.

§ 474.2 Contents of statement. The statement with respect to an expected carry-back which must be filed by a corporation in order to extend the time for payment of tax under section 3779 is to be filed on Form 1138. The statement must be filled out in accordance with the instructions accompanying the form, and all information required by the form and the instructions must be furnished by the taxpayer. The statement must be sworn to in the manner prescribed in section 52 in the case of a corporation income tax return. The collector, upon request, will furnish a receipt for any statement filed. Such receipt will show the date the statement was filed.

The reduction, attributable to the expected carry-back, in the aggregate of the taxes previously determined for all taxable years, affected by the carry-back, prior to the taxable year of the expected net operating loss or unused excess profits credit will be the excess of the decreases over the increases, attributable to the expected carry-back or any related adjustments, in such taxes as previously determined. The tax previously determined is to be ascertained in accordance with the method prescribed in section 3801 (d). In general, therefore, the tax previously determined will be the tax shown by the taxpayer on its return, increased by any amounts assessed (or collected without assessment) as deficiencies prior to the date of the filing of the statement, and decreased by any amounts abated, credited, refunded, or otherwise repaid prior to such date. Any items as to which the Commissioner and the taxpayer are in disagreement at the time of the filing of the statement shall be taken into account in ascertaining the tax previously determined only if, and to the extent that, they were reported in the return, or were reflected in any amounts assessed (or collected without assessment) as deficiencies, or in any amounts abated, credited, refunded, or otherwise repaid, prior to the date of the filing of the statement. The tax previously determined will reflect the foreign tax credit, the credit for tax withheld at source provided in section 32, the credit for debt retirement provided in section 783, and the 10-percent credit against the excess profits tax provided in section 784, but will not reflect the postwar credit provided in section 780. In the case of any taxable year beginning in 1944 for which the credit provided in section 784 is not claimed on the return, the tax shown on the return, for purposes of this subsection, shall be the tax shown on the return as filed reduced by the excess of (1) the credit under section 784 to the extent that an amount has not been abated, credited, refunded, or otherwise repaid in respect of such credit prior to the date of filing the statement, over (2) any amount claimed on the return as a credit for debt retirement under section 783. In the case of any taxable year beginning prior to January 1, 1944, any amount abated, credited, refunded, or otherwise repaid in connection with the postwar credit under section 780, and the amount of any bonds issued as prescribed in sections 780 and 781 in connection with the excess profits tax for such taxable year, whether or not such bonds have been redeemed, shall not be considered an amount abated, credited, refunded, or otherwise repaid in respect of the excess profits tax for such taxable year.

The increase or decrease, attributable to the expected carry-back or any related adjustments, in any tax previously determined is to be ascertained, except for such carry-back and related adjustments, on the basis of the items which entered into the computation of such tax as previously determined. Accordingly, as in ascertaining the tax previously determined, items must be taken into account only to the extent that such items were included in the return, or were reflected in amounts assessed (or collected without assessment) as deficiencies, or in amounts abated, credited, refunded, or otherwise repaid, prior to the date of the filing of the statement. Thus, for example, if the taxpayer claimed a deduction for depreciation of $10,000 in its return and the Commissioner asserts that only $4,000 is properly deductible, no change is to be made in the $10,000 depreciation deduction as shown by the taxpayer on his return unless a deficiency has been assessed, or an amount collected without assessment, prior to the date of the filing of the statement as a result of a change in the depreciation deduction, or unless such change in the depreciation deduction was reflected in an amount abated, credited, refunded, or otherwise repaid prior to such date. In determining the increase or decrease in any tax previously determined, any items which are affected by the carry-back must be adjusted to reflect such carry-back. Thus, any deduction limited, for example, by net income, such as the deduction for charitable contributions, is to be recomputed on the basis of the net income as affected by the carry-back. Similarly, in any case where one tax is allowable as a deduction in computing a second tax, or where the income subject to one tax is a credit in computing the income subject to the second tax, such deduction or credit must be adjusted to reflect such carry-back. In determining the decrease in excess profits tax for any taxable year beginning prior to January 1, 1944, the tax as recomputed by taking into account the carry-back and any related adjustments is not to be decreased by the amount of the postwar credit under section 780, whether or not any amount has been abated, credited, refunded, or otherwise repaid in connection with such credit, or by the amount of any bonds, whether or not such bonds have been redeemed, issued as provided in sections 780 and 781 in connection with the excess profits tax for such taxable year. In determining the net operating loss deduction, the adjustments required by sections 122 (c), 711 (a) (1) (J), and 711 (a) (2) (L) are likewise to be made.

The reduction in the aggregate of the taxes previously determined is a net reduction. That is, in determining such reduction, a decrease, attributable to a carry-back, in any one tax, e. g., the excess profits tax, will be offset by an increase in any other tax, e. g., the normal tax and surtax, resulting from such decrease.

A decrease in excess profits tax attributable to an unused excess profits credit carry-back which itself results from, or is increased in amount by, a net operating loss carry-back will be considered to be attributable to such net operating loss carry-back. Thus, if a corporation has a net operating loss in the calendar year 1945 which when carried back to 1943 results in an unused excess profits credit for 1943, the decrease in excess profits tax for 1941 resulting from the unused excess profits credit carry-back from 1943 will be considered to be attributable to both the unused excess profits credit carry-back from 1943 and to the net operating loss carry-back from 1945. The decrease in the excess profits tax for 1941, however, will be considered to be attributable to the net operating loss carry-back from 1945 only to the extent that such decrease results from such net operating loss carry-back.

§ 474.3 Amount of tax the time for payment of which may be extended—(a) Total amount to which extension may relate. The total amount of one or more taxes the time for payment of which may be extended under section 3779 may not exceed the amount shown in item 4 (c) of Form 1138.

(b) Amount of any one tax to which extension may relate. The taxpayer is to specify in item 5 (j) of Form 1138 the tax or taxes and the amount thereof the time for payment of which is to be extended. In case of any one tax the amount to which an extension may relate may not exceed the amount of such tax shown on the return as filed, increased by any amount assessed as a deficiency (or as interest or additions to the tax) prior to the date of filing the statement and decreased by any amount paid or required to be paid prior to such date. For taxable years beginning in 1944, the amount of tax to which an extension may relate is to be further reduced by any amount which is to be abated, credited, refunded, or otherwise repaid in connection with the credit provided in section 784 without regard to the date on which such abatement, credit, refund, or other repayment is in fact allowed or made. In determining the amount of tax required to be paid prior to the date of filing the statement, only the following amounts shall be taken into consideration:

(1) The amount of the tax shown on the return as filed; and

(2) Any amount assessed as a deficiency (or as interest or additions to the tax) if the tenth day after notice and demand for its payment occurs prior to the date of the filing of the statement.

Delinquent installments are to be considered amounts required to be paid prior to the date of filing the statement. In the case of any authorized extension of time under section 56 (c), the amount of tax the time for payment of which is so extended is not to be considered required to be paid prior to the end of such extension. Similarly, any amount assessed as a deficiency (or as interest or additions to the tax) is not to be considered required to be paid prior to the date of the filing of the statement unless the tenth day after notice and demand for its payment falls prior to the date of the filing of the statement.

The taxpayer may choose to extend the time for payment of all of one or more taxes, or it may choose to extend the time for payment of portions of several taxes. The taxes chosen by the taxpayer need not be those taxes which are affected by the carry-back. The amount to which an extension may relate in the case of any one tax may not exceed the amount specified in section 3779 (c) and shown in item 5 (i) of Form 1138, and the total amount of all taxes the time for payment of which may be extended may not exceed the amount specified in section 3779 (c) and shown in item 4 (c) of Form 1138. Such amounts represent the maximum amounts the time for payment of which may be extended; the amount the time for payment of which is extended in the case of any one tax, or the total of such amounts, may be less than the maximum amounts specified in section 3779 (c) and shown in items 5 (i) and 4 (c), respectively, of Form 1138.

§ 474.4 Payment of remainder of tax where extension relates to only part of the tax. If an extension of time relates to only part of the tax, the time for payment of the remainder of the tax shall be considered to be the dates on which payments would have been required if such remainder had been the tax and the taxpayer had elected to pay the tax in four equal installments.

The provisions of this section may be illustrated by the following example:

Example. Corporation A, which keeps its books and makes its tax returns on the calendar year basis, filed its income tax return for 1945 on March 15, 1946. The corporation showed a tax of $1,000 on its return and paid one-fourth of such tax, or $250, on March 15, 1946. On June 1, 1946, Corporation A, pursuant to the provisions of section 3779 and these regulations, extended the time for payment of $600 of such tax. The remainder of the tax the time for payment of which was not so extended, i. e., $400, is to be considered the tax for purposes of determining when it is to be paid. Such remainder is to be paid in four equal installments on each of the normal installment dates. Since the corporation has already paid $250 on March 15, 1946, it will have nothing to pay on June 15, 1946, it will pay $50 on September 15, 1946, and $100 on December 15, 1946.

§ 474.5 Period of extension. If the time for the payment of any tax has been extended pursuant to section 3779, such extension shall expire:

(a) On the last day of the month in which falls the last date prescribed by law (including any extension of time granted the taxpayer) for the filing of the return for the taxable year of the expected net operating loss or unused excess profits credit; or

(b) If an application for a tentative carry-back adjustment provided in section 3780 with respect to such loss or unused credit is filed before the expiration of the period specified in paragraph (a) of this section, on the date on which notice is mailed by registered mail to the taxpayer that such application is allowed or disallowed in whole or in part.

§ 474.6 Revised statements. A corporation may file more than one statement under section 3779 with respect to any one taxable year. Each statement is to be considered a new statement and not an amendment of any prior statement. Each such new statement is to be in lieu of the last statement previously filed with respect to the taxable year of the statement and may extend the time for payment of a greater or lesser amount of tax than was extended under the prior statement. The extension may not relate to any amount of tax which was paid or required to be paid prior to the date of filing the new statement. Any amount of tax the time for payment of which was extended under a prior statement, however, may continue to be extended under the new statement. If the amount the time for payment of which is extended under the new statement is less than the amount so extended under the last statement previously filed, the extension of time shall be terminated on the date the new statement is filed as to the difference between the two amounts. See section 3779 (g) for the dates on which such difference must be paid. If a corporation pays any amount of tax, the time for payment of which was extended, prior to the date the extension would otherwise terminate, the extension with respect to such amount shall be deemed terminated, without regard to whether a new statement is filed, on the date such amount is paid. The corporation shall indicate on each new statement filed that it has already filed one or more prior statements with respect to the taxable year of the statement. The corporation shall likewise indicate the dates each prior statement was filed and the amount of each tax the time for payment of which was extended under each prior statement.

The provisions of this section may be illustrated by the following example:

Example. Corporation B, which keeps its books and makes its tax returns on the calendar year basis, filed its income tax return for 1945, showing a tax of $100,000, on March 15, 1946. At the same time it filed a statement under section 3779 in which it stated that it expected to have a net operating loss of $75,000 in 1946 and that the reduction in the aggregate of all taxes previously determined for taxable years prior to 1946, attributable to the expected net operating loss carry-back resulting from such expected loss, would be $30,000. The corporation accordingly extended the time for payment of $30,000 of its income tax for 1945, and paid $17,500 of such tax on March 15, 1946 (see sections 3779 (c) and § 474.4). As a result of its operations during the next several months, the corporation filed a second statement on June 1, 1946, in which it stated that its expected net operating loss for 1946 would amount to $300,000 and that the corresponding reduction in the aggregate of all taxes previously determined for taxable years prior to 1946 would amount to $120,000. Corporation B under the new statement may extend the time for payment of the three installments of $17,500 due on June 15, 1946, September 15, 1946, and December 15, 1946, and the time for payment of the $30,000 extended under the first statement filed on March 15, 1946, may continue to be extended under the second statement. The $17,500 which was paid on March 15, 1946, will not be affected by the second statement filed on June 1, 1946. If the corporation had failed to pay the $17,500 on March 15, 1946, and had not secured an extension of time under section 56 (c) until at least June 1, 1946, with respect to such amount, the time for payment of such $17,500 could not be extended under the second statement filed on June 1, 1946.

Corporation B might file a second statement to show that it had overestimated the amount of its expected net operating loss and accordingly to terminate the extension with respect to part or all of the tax. The corporation might file a second statement even though its estimate of its expected net operating loss had not changed since it filed its first statement. For example, the corporation might have computed incorrectly the reduction, attributable to the expected net operating loss carry-back from 1946, in the aggregate of its taxes previously determined for all taxable years prior to 1946. In such case, the corporation might file a second statement showing the correct computation of such reduction and increasing or decreasing the amount of tax the time for payment of which was extended to correspond to the correct computation. The corporation might file a second statement in order to change the kind of tax the time for payment of which is to be extended even though the total amount of tax the time for payment of which was extended is not to be changed.

§ 474.7 Termination by Commissioner—(a) After an examination of the statement filed by the corporation is made. The Commissioner is authorized to make such examination of the statements filed as he deems necessary and practicable. If upon such examination as he may make, the Commissioner believes that, as of the time he makes the examination, all or any part of the statement is in a material respect erroneous or unreasonable, he will terminate the extension as to any part of the amount to which such extension relates which he deems should be terminated.

(b) Jeopardy. If the Commissioner believes that the collection of any amount to which an extension under section 3779 relates is in jeopardy, he will immediately terminate the extension. In the case of such a termination, notice and demand is to be made by the collector for payment of such amount, and there may be no further extension of time under section 3779 with respect to such amount.

§ 474.8 Payments on termination. If an extension of time under section 3779 is terminated with respect to any amount either (1) by the filing of a new statement by the taxpayer under section 3779 (e) extending the time for payment of a lesser amount than was extended in a prior statement or (2) by action of the Commissioner under section 3779 (f) after making an examination of the statement filed by the corporation, no further extension of time may be made under section 3779 with respect to such amount. The time for payment of such amount shall be the dates on which payments would have been required if there had been no extension with respect to such amount and the taxpayer had elected under section 56 (b) to pay the tax in four equal installments.

The provisions of this section may be illustrated by the following examples:

Example (1). Corporation C, which keeps its books and makes its tax returns on a calendar year basis, filed its 1945 income tax return, showing a tax of $1,000, on March 15, 1946. At the same time the corporation filed a statement under section 3779 and this part extending the time for payment of the entire $1,000 on the basis of an expected unused excess profits credit carry-back from 1946. On July 1, 1946, the corporation filed a new statement indicating that the reduction, attributable to the expected unused excess profits credit carry-back from 1946, in the aggregate of its taxes for years prior to 1946 would be only $600, and thus terminated the above extension to the extent of $400. The time for payment of such $100 may not be extended again, and such $400 is payable as if it were the tax for 1945 and Corporation C had elected to pay such tax in four equal installments. That is, $100 is payable on March 15, 1946, $100 on June 15, 1946, $100 on September 15, 1946, and $100 on December 15, 1946. Interest is payable under section 3779 (i) (2) on such amounts at the rate of 6 percent per annum and is to be computed from the respective dates on which such amounts were payable. Inasmuch as the March 15 and June 15 dates had already passed when Corporation C terminated the extension with respect to the $400, $200 is payable immediately upon such termination, and $100 is payable on September 15, 1946, and $100 on December 15, 1946. The fact that the corporation did not pay the $100 on March 15, 1946, and the $100 on June 15, 1946, is not to be considered such a failure to pay an installment on or before the date fixed for its payment as would make the entire tax become due under the provisions of section 56 (b). Interest, however, will be computed upon the first $100 from March 15, 1946, and upon the second $100 from June 15, 1946. See section 3779 (i) and § 474.9.

Example (2). If Corporation C in example (1) had shown a tax of $1,200 on its return and accordingly had paid $50 on March 15, 1946, and $50 on June 15, 1946, the other facts being the same as in example (1), then upon the termination as to the $400, $200 would be payable immediately (i. e., $100 which in the light of the termination should have been paid on March 15, 1946, and $100 which should have been paid on June 15, 1946), and two installments of $150 each would be payable on September 15, 1946, and on December 15, 1946. Interest would be computed from the same dates as in example (1).

The above examples would also apply if the extension of time for the payment of the $400 were terminated by the Commissioner under section 3779 (f) because he believed that the statement filed by Corporation C under section 3779 extending the time for payment of tax was clearly erroneous or unreasonable in a material respect. If, however, the Commissioner on July 1, 1946, terminated the extension with respect to such $400 under section 3779 (h) because he believed the collection of such amount was in jeopardy, the entire $400 would be payable immediately upon notice and demand by the collector. In such case interest would be computed on $100 from March 15, 1946, on $100 from June 15, 1946, and on the remaining $200 from July 1, 1946. See section 3779 (i) and § 474.9.

§ 474.9 Interest. Interest is payable on any amount the time for payment of which is extended under section 3779. The interest, which is to be collected as part of such amount, is to be computed from the dates on which payments would have been required if there had been no extension, and the taxpayer had elected under section 56 (b) to pay the tax in four equal installments, at the following rates:

(a) At the rate of 3 percent per annum on so much of such amount as is satisfied by applying or crediting thereto, within the period of extension (see section 3779 (d)), a decrease in tax determined in respect of an application for a tentative carry-back adjustment, as provided in section 3780 (a), to the date of such satisfaction, except that the rate is to be 6 percent per annum upon so much of the satisfied amount as does not exceed the amount of the deficiencies assessed under section 3780 (b) in respect of such application which is not so satisfied; and

(b) At the rate of 6 percent per annum upon the remainder of the amount the time for payment of which was extended to the date such amount is paid.

Interest thus will be payable at the rate of 3 percent per annum upon any amount the time for payment of which has been extended under section 3779 to the extent that such amount is satisfied by applying or crediting thereto, within the period of extension, a decrease in tax determined in respect of an application for a tentative carry-back adjustment under section 3780 (a). The application for the tentative carry-back adjustment must be with respect to the same taxable year as that of the expected net operating loss or unused excess profits credit. In determining whether an amount has been so satisfied, however, the net effect of the carry-back, including any resulting deficiencies, must be taken into account. Interest upon any amount not so satisfied will be payable at the rate of 6 percent per annum.

The provisions of this section may be illustrated by the following example:

Example. Corporation D, which came into existence on January 1, 1945 and which keeps its books and makes its tax returns on the calendar year basis, extended the time for payment of $855 of its excess profits tax for 1945 on the basis of an expected unused excess profits credit carry-back from 1946. The corporation in fact had an unused excess profits credit in 1946 and it filed an application for a tentative carry-back adjustment under section 3780 (a) on March 31, 1947. Such application showed a decrease in excess profits tax for 1945 of $855 and a resulting increase in income tax for 1945 of $400. Corporation D's application was allowed in full on June 29, 1947, and the resulting decrease of $855 in excess profits tax for 1945 was applied against the $855 of excess profits tax for 1945 the time for payment of which had been extended (see section 3780 (b)). The Commissioner, however, simultaneously assessed, and notice and demand was made for, the $400 increase in Corporation D's income tax for 1945. Inasmuch as the entire decrease in its excess profits tax for 1945 had been applied against the unpaid amount of its excess profits tax for 1945, the corporation paid such $400 increase in income tax in cash within ten days after notice and demand. The reduction in the aggregate of the corporation's taxes as previously determined for 1945, attributable to the unused excess profits credit carry-back from 1946, was only $455, and the corporation therefore should not have extended the time for payment of more than $455 of its 1945 taxes. Inasmuch as in effect only $455 of the amount the time for payment of which had been extended was satisfied by reason of the carry-back, interest is to be collected at the rate of 3 percent per annum on the $455 and at the rate of 6 percent per annum on the remaining $400. The interest will be computed on the $455 and on the $400 at the rates of 3 percent and 6 percent per annum, respectively, as if one-fourth of each such amount were payable on March 15, 1946, one-fourth on June 15, 1946, one-fourth on September 15, 1946, and one-fourth on December 15, 1946. Interest on the $455 will run until the date the reduction in excess profits tax for 1945, determined in respect of the above application for a tentative carry-back adjustment, is applied against the excess profits tax for 1945 the time for payment of which was extended, and interest on the $400 will run until the date such $400 is paid. No interest will be payable in this case on the above $400 increase in income tax for 1945 resulting from the decrease in excess profits tax for 1945. See section 292 (c). The corporation, however, will be liable for a penalty of 5 percent of $286.25, or $14.31, for extending the time for payment of an amount substantially in excess of an amount the time for payment of which might properly have been extended. See section 294 (c) and § 29.294–2 of this chapter.

If an extension of time under section 3779 is terminated either by action of the taxpayer (by paying an amount the time for payment of which had been extended or by filing a new statement extending the time for payment of a lesser amount than was extended in a prior statement) or by the Commissioner (because he believes the statement filed was erroneous or unreasonable in a material respect or because he believes that the collection of an amount to which the extension relates is in jeopardy), interest is payable on the amount to which such termination relates at the rate of 6 percent per annum to the date of payment. Likewise, if the taxpayer fails to file an application for a tentative carry-back adjustment prior to the last day of the month in which falls the last date prescribed by law (including any extension of time granted the taxpayer) for filing the return for the taxable year of the expected net operating loss or unused excess profits credit, interest is payable on the amount to which the extension relates at the rate of 6 percent per annum to the date of payment. In such case interest will be payable at the rate of 6 percent per annum without regard to whether the taxpayer could have filed an application for a tentative carry-back adjustment, which would have been allowed by the Commissioner, prior to such last date and without regard to whether the taxpayer in fact does file such an application at some time after such last date. If part of an amount the time for payment of which has been extended is satisfied by applying or crediting thereto, within the period of extension, a decrease in tax determined in respect of an application for a tentative carry-back adjustment and part is not so satisfied, interest will be payable on the first part at the rate of 3 percent per annum and on the second part at the rate of 6 percent per annum.

The action of the Commissioner in allowing or disallowing an application for a tentative carry-back adjustment determines the interest payable on amounts the time for payment of which has been extended under section 3779; such interest is not to be affected by a later determination by the Commissioner or any court, including The Tax Court of the United States. If, however, the Commissioner determines, either at the time of the termination of the extension or at some time thereafter, that during the period of extension a credit or refund of an overpayment has been allowed or made, or a deficiency assessed, affecting the amount to which the extension under section 3779 relates and that the corporation could not have taken such overpayment or deficiency into account in the statement or in a revised statement, an appropriate adjustment will be made in determining what part of such amount shall bear interest at the rate of 3 percent and what part at the rate of 6 percent per annum.

§ 474.10 Tentative carry-back adjustments—(a) In general. Any taxpayer who claims a net operating loss or unused excess profits credit for any taxable year ending on or after September 30, 1945 may file an application under section 3780 for a tentative carry-back adjustment of the taxes for all taxable years prior to the taxable year of the loss or unused credit which are affected by the net operating loss carry-back or the unused excess profits credit carry-back resulting from such loss or unused credit. The right to file an application for a tentative carry-back adjustment is not limited to corporations, but is available to any taxpayer who has a carry-back from a taxable year ending on or after September 30, 1945. A corporation may file an application for a tentative carry-back adjustment even though it has not extended the time for payment of tax under section 3779. If a corporation has both a net operating loss and an unused excess profits credit in any taxable year ending on or after September 30, 1945, it may file an application for a tentative carry-back adjustment in respect of both the net operating loss carry-back and the unused excess profits credit carry-back resulting from such loss and unused credit.

A decrease in excess profits tax attributable to an unused excess profits credit carry-back which itself results from, or is increased in amount by, a net operating loss carry-back will be considered to be attributable to both the unused excess profits credit carry-back and the net operating loss carry-back. If a corporation has, e. g., a net operating loss in the calendar year 1945 which when carried back to 1943 results in an unused excess profits credit for 1943, the decrease in excess profits tax for 1941 resulting from the unused excess profits credit carry-back from 1943 will be considered to be attributable to both the unused excess profits credit carry-back from 1943 and to the net operating loss carry-back from 1945. The decrease in excess profits tax for 1941, therefore, will be taken into account in determining the effect on prior years' taxes of the net operating loss carry-back from 1945 if the corporation files an application for a tentative carry-back adjustment with respect to the net operating loss carry-back from 1945. The decrease in the excess profits tax for 1941 will be taken into account, however, only to the extent that it resulted from the net operating loss carry-back from 1945.

(b) Contents of application. The application for a tentative carry-back adjustment in the case of a corporation is to be filed on Form 1139, and in the case of taxpayers other than corporations on Form 1045. The applications are to be filled out in accordance with the instructions accompanying such forms, and all information required by the forms and the instructions must be furnished by the taxpayer. The application in the case of a corporation is to be sworn to in the manner provided in section 52 in the case of a corporation income tax return. The application in the case of a taxpayer other than a corporation is to be verified in the manner provided in sections 51 and 142 in the case of an income tax return of such taxpayer.

An application for a tentative carry-back adjustment does not constitute a claim for credit or refund. If such application is disallowed by the Commissioner in whole or in part, no suit may be maintained in any court for the recovery of any tax based on such application. The taxpayer, however, may file a regular claim for credit or refund under section 322 at any time prior to the expiration of the applicable period of limitation, and may maintain a suit based on such claim if it is disallowed or if the Commissioner does not act on the claim within six months from the date it is filed. Such regular claim may be filed before, simultaneously with, or after the filing of the application for a tentative carry-back adjustment. The filing of an application for a tentative carry-back adjustment will not constitute the filing of a claim for credit or refund within the meaning of section 322 (b) for purposes of determining whether a claim for credit or refund was filed prior to the expiration of the applicable period of limitation. A regular claim for credit or refund under section 322 filed after the filing of an application for a tentative carry-back adjustment is not to be considered an amendment of such application but is to be considered a new claim. Such regular claim, however, in proper cases may constitute an amendment to a prior regular claim filed under section 322.

(c) Time and place of filing application. The application for a tentative carry-back adjustment is to be filed on or after the date of the filing of the return for the taxable year of the net operating loss or the unused excess profits credit, and must be filed within a period of 12 months from the end of such taxable year. Any application filed prior to the date the return for the taxable year of the loss or unused credit is filed shall be considered to have been filed on the date such return is filed. The application is to be filed with the collector of internal revenue where the tax was paid or the assessment was made.

§ 474.11 Computation of increase or decrease in prior years' taxes affected by the carry-back. The taxpayer is to determine the amount of increase or decrease, attributable to the carry-back, in each tax previously determined, which is affected by such carry-back, for each taxable year prior to the taxable year of the net operating loss or unused excess profits credit. The tax previously determined is to be ascertained in accordance with the method prescribed in section 3801 (d). In general, therefore, the tax previously determined will be the tax shown on the return as filed, increased by any amounts assessed (or collected without assessment) as deficiencies prior to the date of the filing of the application for a tentative carry-back adjustment, and decreased by any amounts abated, credited, refunded, or otherwise repaid prior to such date. Any items as to which the Commissioner and the taxpayer are in disagreement at the time of the filing of the application shall be taken into account in ascertaining the tax previously determined only if, and to the extent that, they were reported in the return, or were reflected in any amounts assessed (or collected without assessment) as deficiencies, or in any amounts abated, credited, refunded, or otherwise repaid, prior to the date of filing the application. The tax previously determined, therefore, will reflect the foreign tax credit, the credit for tax withheld at source provided in section 32, the credit for debt retirement provided in section 783, and the 10-percent credit against excess profits tax provided in section 784, but will not reflect the postwar credit provided in section 780. In the case of any taxable year beginning in 1944 for which the credit provided in section 784 is not claimed on the return, the tax shown on the return, for purposes of this section, shall be the tax shown on the return as filed reduced by the excess of (a) the credit under section 784 to the extent that an amount has not been abated, credited, refunded, or otherwise repaid in respect of such credit prior to the date of filing the application, over (b) any amount claimed on the return as a credit for debt retirement under section 783. In the case of any taxable year beginning prior to January 1, 1944, any amount abated, credited, refunded, or otherwise repaid, prior to the date of filing the application, in connection with the postwar credit provided in section 780, and the amount of any bonds issued as provided in sections 780 and 781 in connection with the excess profits tax for such taxable year, whether or not such bonds have been redeemed, shall be considered an amount abated, credited, refunded, or otherwise repaid in respect of the excess profits tax for such taxable year prior to the date of filing the application.

The increase or decrease in each tax previously determined which is affected by the carry-back or any related adjustments, is to be determined, except for such carry-back and related adjustments, on the basis of the items which entered into the computation of such tax as previously determined; the tax previously determined being ascertained in the manner described in this section. In determining any such increase or decrease, accordingly, items shall be taken into account only to the extent that they were reported in the return, or were reflected in amounts assessed (or collected without assessment) as deficiencies, or in amounts abated, credited, refunded, or otherwise repaid, prior to the date of filing the application for a tentative carry-back adjustment. If the Commissioner and the taxpayer are in disagreement as to the proper treatment of any item, it shall be assumed for purposes of determining the increase or decrease in the tax previously determined that such item was correctly reported by the taxpayer unless, and to the extent that, the disagreement has resulted in the assessment of a deficiency (or the collection of an amount without an assessment), or the allowing or making of an abatement, credit, refund, or other repayment, prior to the date of filing the application. Thus, if the taxpayer claimed a deduction on its return of $50,000 for salaries paid its officers but the Commissioner asserts that such deduction should not exceed $20,000, and the Commissioner and the taxpayer have not agreed on the amount properly deductible prior to the date the application for a tentative carry-back adjustment is filed, $50,000 shall be considered as the amount properly deductible for purposes of determining the increase or decrease in each tax previously determined in respect of the application for a tentative carryback adjustment. In determining the increase or decrease in any tax previously determined, any items which are affected by the carry-back must be adjusted to reflect such carry-back. Thus, any deduction limited, for example, by net income or adjusted gross income, such as the deduction for charitable contributions, is to be recomputed on the basis of the net income or adjusted gross income as affected by the carry-back. Similarly, in any case where one tax is allowable as a deduction in computing a second tax, or where the income subject to one tax is a credit in computing the income subject to the second tax, such deduction or credit must be adjusted to reflect such carry-back. In determining the decrease in excess profits tax for any taxable year beginning prior to January 1, 1944, the tax as recomputed by taking into account the carry-back and any related adjustments is to be decreased by any amount which has been abated, credited, refunded, or otherwise repaid, prior to the date of filing the application, in connection with the postwar credit under section 780, and by the amount of any bonds, whether or not such bonds have been redeemed, issued as provided in sections 780 and 781 in connection with the excess profits tax for such taxable year, to the extent that such amounts are properly allocable to such tax as recomputed. In computing the net operating loss deduction for purposes of determining any such increase or decrease, proper adjustments as required by sections 122 (c), 711 (a) (1) (J), and 711 (a) (2) (L) are to be made.

In determining the increase or decrease in any tax previously determined which is affected by the carry-back, the tax previously determined is to be increased or decreased by the amount of any increase or decrease in such tax shown on an application filed under section 124 (j), relating to applications for tentative adjustments with respect to the amortization deduction, to the extent that such increase or decrease shown in the application filed under section 124 (j) has not been assessed or allowed prior to the date of filing the application for the tentative carry-back adjustment. The items which enter into the computation of the tax previously determined are to be adjusted in conformity with such increase or decrease shown on the application filed under section 124 (j) for a tentative adjustment with respect to the amortization deduction. The provisions of this paragraph with respect to an application filed under section 124 (j) are not to apply in any case in which such application has been disallowed prior to the date the application for a tentative carry-back adjustment is filed.

§ 474.12 Allowance of adjustments. The Commissioner is to act upon any application for a tentative carry-back adjustment filed under section 3780 (a) within a period of 90 days from whichever of the following two dates is the later:

(a) The date the application is filed; or

(b) The last day of the month in which falls the last date prescribed by law (including any extension of time granted the taxpayer) for filing the return for the taxable year of the net operating loss or unused excess profits credit from which the carry-back results.

Within the above 90-day period the Commissioner will make, to the extent he deems practicable in such period, an examination of the application to discover omissions and errors of computation. He is to determine within such period the increase or decrease in any tax previously determined, affected by the carry-back or any related adjustments, upon the basis of the application and such examination. Such increases and decreases are to be determined in the same manner as that provided in section 3780 (a) for the determination by the taxpayer of the increases and decreases in taxes previously determined which must be set forth in the application for a tentative carry-back adjustment. The Commissioner, however, may correct any errors of computation or omissions he may discover upon examination of the application. In determining the increase or decrease in each tax previously determined which is affected by the carry-back or any related adjustments, he accordingly may correct any mathematical error appearing on the application and he may likewise correct any adjustment required by the law and incorrectly made by the taxpayer in computing its net operating loss, its unused excess profits credit, the resulting carry-backs, or its net operating loss deduction or unused excess profits credit adjustment. If the required adjustment has not been made by the taxpayer and the Commissioner has available the necessary information to make such adjustment within the above 90-day period, he may, in his discretion, make such adjustment. Thus, if the taxpayer's application fails to take into account certain tax-free interest which he received in the year of the net operating loss, or in a prior year the taxes for which are affected by the resulting net operating loss carry-back, the Commissioner, if he knows the amount of such tax-free interest received by the taxpayer in such year, may take such tax-free interest into account in determining the increases and decreases in the taxes previously determined which are affected by the carry-back. In determining such increases and decreases, however, the Commissioner will not, for example, change the amount claimed on the return as a deduction for depreciation because he believes that the taxpayer has claimed an excessive amount; likewise, he will not include in gross income any amount not so included by the taxpayer even though the Commissioner believes that such amount is subject to tax and properly should be included in gross income.

If the Commissioner finds that an application for a tentative carry-back adjustment contains material omissions or errors of computation, he may disallow such application in whole or in part without further action. If, however, he deems that any error of computation can be corrected by him within the above 90-day period, he may do so and allow the application in whole or in part. The Commissioner's determination as to whether he can correct any error of computation within the above 90-day period shall be conclusive. Similarly, his action in disallowing, in whole or in part, any application for a tentative carry-back adjustment shall be final and may not be challenged in any proceeding. The taxpayer in such case, however, may file a regular claim for credit or refund under section 322, and may maintain a suit based on such claim if it is disallowed or if the Commissioner does not act upon the claim within six months from the date it is filed.

In the case of any application for a tentative carry-back adjustment which the Commissioner allows in whole or in part, any increase determined by the Commissioner in any tax previously determined which is affected by the carry-back or any related adjustments shall be deemed to have been determined as a deficiency and shall be assessed without regard to the restrictions on assessment provided in section 272. Such increase may be assessed, for example, without regard to whether a notice of deficiency in respect of such increase is sent to the taxpayer and without regard to whether a prior notice of deficiency has been mailed to the taxpayer. The taxpayer will not have the right to contest the assessment before The Tax Court of the United States whether or not the Commissioner sends him a notice in respect of such increase.

Each decrease determined by the Commissioner in an ytax previously determined which is affected by the carryback or any related adjustments shall first be applied against any unpaid amount of the tax with respect to which such decrease was determined. Such unpaid amount of tax may include one or more of the following:

(1) An amount with respect to which the taxpayer is delinquent;

(2) An amount the time for payment of which has been extended under section 3779 which is due and payable on or after the date on which the decrease is allowed; and

(3) An amount (including an amount the time for payment of which has been extended under section 56 (e), but not including an amount the time for payment of which has been extended under section 3779) which is due and payable on or after the date on which the decrease is allowed.

In case the unpaid amount of tax includes more than one of such amounts, the Commissioner, in his discretion, shall determine against which amount or amounts, and in what proportion, the decrease is to be applied. In general, however, the decrease will be applied against any amounts described in subparagraphs (1), (2), and (3) of this paragraph in the order named. If there are several amounts of the type described in subparagraph (3), any amount of the decrease which is to be applied against such amounts will be applied by assuming that the tax previously determined minus the amount of the decrease to be so applied is "the tax" and the taxpayer had elected to pay such tax in four equal installments. The unpaid amount of tax against which a decrease may be applied may not include any amount of tax for any taxable year other than the year of the decrease. After making such application, the Commissioner will credit any remainder of the decrease as follows:

(i) Against any increase (including additions to the tax) determined in any tax which is attributable to the carryback or any related adjustments and which has been assessed under section 3780 (b); and then

(ii) Against any unsatisfied amount of any tax for the taxable year immediately preceding the taxable year of the net operating loss or the unused excess profits credit the time for payment of which has been extended under section 3779.

Any remainder of the decrease after such application and credits may, within the above 90-day period, in the discretion of the Commissioner, be credited against any income, war profits, or excess profits tax or installment thereof then due from the taxpayer, and, if not so credited, is to be refunded to the taxpayer within such 90-day period.

The application, credit, or refund of a decrease in tax determined under section 3780 shall constitute a credit or refund of an overpayment within the meaning of sections 781 (b) and 3807 (b) (1), relating, respectively, to postwar credits or postwar bonds in the case of credits or refunds and to the period of limitations in the case of related taxes under chapter 1 and chapter 2.

§ 474.13 Assessment of erroneous allowances. If the Commissioner determines that any amount applied, credited, or refunded under section 3780 (b) with respect to an application for a tentative carry-back adjustment is in excess of the overassessment properly attributable to the carry-back upon which such application was based, he may assess the amount of the excess as a deficiency as if such deficiency were due to a mathematical error appearing on the face of the return. That is, the Commissioner may assess an amount equal to the excess, and such amount may be collected, without regard to the restrictions on assessment and collection imposed by section 272. Thus, the Commissioner, for example, may assess such amount without regard to whether he has mailed the taxpayer a prior notice of deficiency. Either before or after assessing such an amount, the Commissioner will notify the taxpayer that he has made, or will make, such assessment. Such notice will not constitute a notice of deficiency, and the taxpayer may not file a petition with The Tax Court of the United States based on such notice. The taxpayer, however, within the applicable period of limitation may file a regular claim for credit or refund under section 322 based on the carry-back, if he has not already filed such a claim, and may maintain a suit based on such claim if it is disallowed or if it is not acted upon by the Commissioner within six months from the date the claim was filed.

Upon assessing any deficiency under section 3780 (c), the Commissioner will schedule as an overassessment the decrease in any other tax resulting from the adjustments reflected in the computation of the deficiency so assessed. Thus, if the Commissioner determines that $855 of excess profits tax for 1944 was applied, credited, or refunded in respect of an application for a tentative carry-back adjustment in excess of the amount which properly should have been so applied, credited, or refunded, the Commissioner may assess such $855 as a deficiency without regard to the restrictions on assessment imposed by section 272. Generally, however, such deficiency will result in a decrease of income tax for 1944 in the amount of $400. Upon assessing the $855 of excess profits tax for 1944, the Commissioner accordingly will schedule such decrease of $400 in income tax for 1944 as an overassessment, and such $400 overassessment of income tax will be credited against the $855 deficiency in excess profits tax. The taxpayer, therefore, will be required to pay only the difference between the two amounts, or $455, in satisfaction of the deficiency.

The method provided in section 3780 (c) to recover any amount applied, credited, or refunded in respect of an application for a tentative carry-back adjustment which the Commissioner later determines should not have been so applied, credited, or refunded is not an exclusive method. Two other methods are available to recover such amount: (a) by way of a deficiency notice under section 272 (a); or (b) by a suit to recover an erroneous refund under section 3746. The Commissioner, in his discretion, may proceed by way of any one or more of the three available methods to recover any amount which he determines was improperly applied, credited, or refunded in respect of an application for a tentative carry-back adjustment.

Part II

In order to conform Regulations 111 (26 CFR, Cum. Supp., Part 29) to section 4 (b) of the Tax Adjustment Act of 1945 (Public Law 172, 79th Congress), approved July 31, 1945, such regulations are amended as follows:

PARAGRAPH 1. There is inserted immediately preceding § 29.294–1, as amended by Treasury Decision 5420, approved December 8, 1944, the following:

SEC. 4. EXTENSIONS OF TIME FOR PAYMENT OF TAXES BY CORPORATIONS EXPECTING CARRYBACKS, AND TENTATIVE CARRY-BACK ADJUSTMENTS. (Tax Adjustment Act of 1945.)

* * * * *

(b) Section 294 of the Internal Revenue Code is amended by adding at the end thereof the following new subsection:

(e) Substantial overstatement of expected carry-backs. If the time for payment of any tax or taxes for any taxable year is extended under section 3779, there shall be added to such tax or taxes an amount equal to 5 per centum of the penalty portion, if any, of the amount to which such extension relates, unless the taxpayer establishes to the satisfaction of the Commissioner that, as of the end of the taxable year in which such extension was made, there was reasonable cause to expect there would be no such penalty portion. The penalty portion shall be the excess of the amount to which such extension relates which is not paid by the end of the taxable year in which such extension is made over 125 per centum of the amount to which such extension relates which is satisfied by applying thereto a decrease in tax in respect of an application under section 3780 (a) less any amounts assessed in respect of such application which are not so satisfied.

* * * * *

PAR. 2. There is inserted immediately following § 29.294–1, as amended by Treasury Decision 5420, the following new section:

§ 29.294–2 Substantial overestimate of expected carry-backs. Section 294 (e) provides for an addition to the tax in case the amount of tax the time for payment of which has been extended under section 3779 is substantially in excess of the amount the time for payment of which might properly have been extended. Such addition to the tax is in addition to the interest payable under section 3779 (i), to any other applicable additions to the tax, and to any applicable criminal penalties.

Section 294 (e) provides that if the time for payment of any amount of tax or taxes has been extended under section 3779, there shall be added to such tax or taxes an amount equal to 5 percent of the penalty portion, if any, of the amount to which such extension relates unless the taxpayer establishes to the satisfaction of the Commissioner that, as of the end of the taxable year in which the extension was made, there was reasonable cause to expect that there would be no such penalty portion. If the extension of time under section 3779 relates to more than one tax, any addition to the tax under section 294 (e) will, in the discretion of the Commissioner, be added to any one tax or prorated among two or more of such taxes in any proportion he deems advisable.

The "penalty portion" is the excess of:

(a) The amount to which an extension relates which is not paid by the end of the taxable year in which the extension was made, over

(b) 125 percent of (1) the amount to which such extension relates which is satisfied by applying or crediting thereto a decrease in tax determined in respect of an application for a tentative carry-back adjustment under section 3780, less (2) any amounts assessed in respect of such application which are not so satisfied.

The penalty portion in effect, therefore, is the excess of the amount of tax the time for payment of which was extended over 125 percent of the amount the time for payment of which might properly have been extended. The amount the time for payment of which might properly have been extended is the net amount to which the extension relates which is satisfied by applying or crediting thereto a decrease in tax determined in respect of an application for a tentative carry-back adjustment under section 3780.

Any amount to which an extension under section 3779 relates which is paid prior to the end of the taxable year in which the extension was made shall not be deemed to be an amount the time for payment of which was extended in determining under section 294 (e) whether the amount the time for payment of which was extended was substantially in excess of the amount the time for payment of which might properly have been extended. Interest on any amount so paid prior to the end of the taxable year in which the extension was made will be payable at the rate of 6 percent per annum.

The computation of the penalty portion and the resulting addition to the tax may be illustrated by the following example:

Example. Corporation X, which came into existence on January 1, 1945 and which keeps its books and makes its tax returns on the calendar year basis, filed a statement under section 3779 on March 15, 1946 extending the time for payment of $855 of its excess profits tax for 1945. The extension was based on an expected unused excess profits credit carryback from 1946, and no part of the amount to which the extension related was paid prior to the end of 1946. The corporation in fact had an unused excess profits credit for 1946, and on March 31, 1947 it filed an application under section 3780 (a) for a tentative carry-back adjustment with respect to the resulting unused excess profits credit carry-back from 1946. The application showed that the corporation's excess profits tax for 1945 was decreased by $855 as a result of such unused excess profits credit carry-back from 1946. The application likewise showed that the corporation's income tax for 1945 was increased by $400 as a result of the decrease in its excess profits tax for 1945. The Commissioner allowed the application in full on June 29, 1947, and the $400 increase in the corporation's income tax for 1945 was assessed on that date. The $855 decrease in the corporation's excess profits tax for 1945 was applied against the $855 of its excess profits tax for 1945 the time for payment of which had been extended pursuant to the statement filed under section 3779 on March 15, 1946. Since the entire decrease in the corporation's excess profits tax for 1945 was applied against the amount of its excess profits tax for 1945 the time for payment of which had been extended under such statement, the corporation paid the $400 increase in its income tax for 1945 in cash. The penalty portion is $286.25, and the addition to the tax is $14.31. These amounts are computed as follows:

(a) Amount to which extension under section 3779 related which was not paid prior to the end of 1946	$855.00
(b) Amount to which extension under section 3779 related which was satisfied by applying thereto a decrease in tax determined in respect of the application for a tentative carry-back adjustment	855.00
(c) Amount of increase in income tax for 1945 assessed in respect of the application for a tentative carry-back adjustment which was not satisfied by crediting thereto a decrease in tax determined in respect of such application	400.00
(d) Amount of tax the time for payment of which might properly have been extended (item (b) less item (c))	455.00
(e) 125% of $455	568.75
(f) The penalty portion (item (a) less item (e))	286.25
(g) Addition to the tax (5% of $286.25)	14.31

Since the reduction, attributable to the unused excess profits credit carry-back from 1946, in the aggregate of all of Corporation X's taxes previously determined for taxable years prior to 1946 was only $455, the corporation properly should not have extended under section 3779 the time for payment of an amount greater than $455. The penalty portion accordingly is the excess of the amount the time for payment of which was extended over 125 percent of the amount the time for payment of which might properly have been extended. The above addition to the tax, in the amount of $14.31, will be added to the excess profits tax for 1945 and collected as part of such tax unless Corporation X establishes to the satisfaction of the Commissioner that as of December 31, 1946, there was reasonable cause to expect that there would be no penalty portion. Such addition to the tax will be assessed and collected even though the unused excess profits credit carry-back from 1946 reduces the adjusted excess profits net income for 1945 to zero and thus serves in effect to offset the entire excess profits tax for 1945 which would otherwise be due.

Commissioner of Internal Revenue.

Chapter IX—Civilian Production Administration

AUTHORITY: Regulations in this chapter unless otherwise noted at the end of documents affected, issued under sec. 2 (a), 54 Stat. 676, as amended by 55 Stat. 236, 56 Stat. 177, 58 Stat. 827 and Pub. Law 270, 79th Cong.; E.O. 9024, 7 F.R. 329; E.O. 9040, 7 F.R. 527; E.O. 9125, 7 F.R. 2719; E.O. 9599, 10 F.R. 10155; E.O. 9638, 10 F.R. 12591; CPA Reg. 1, Nov. 5, 1945, 10 F.R. 13714.

PART 1010—SUSPENSION ORDER

BELMONT BROTHERS

Louis Belmont and William Belmont, co-partners doing business as Belmont Brothers at 120 Fifth Avenue, New York City, are engaged in the manufacture of men's suits and topcoats. On January 2, 1946, a temporary suspension order was issued directing the partners to immediately cancel CC rated orders for textiles in excess of those authorized for the fourth quarter of 1945, and to place no CC rated orders for textiles during the first quarter of 1946. During the fourth quarter of 1945, the partners placed orders bearing CC ratings for 15,465 yards and accepted delivery of 9,701 yards of wool fabrics, although they were authorized to place orders bearing these ratings for only 7,248 yards of such material. The placing of these rated orders for 8,217 yards of wool fabrics in excess of their authorized allocation constituted a grossly negligent violation of Priorities Regulation No. 3. This violation has interfered with the controls established by the Civilian Production Administration for the distribution of critical materials. In view of the foregoing, it is hereby ordered, that:

§ 1010.929 Suspension Order No. S–929. (a) The temporary suspension order issued against Louis Belmont and William Belmont on January 2, 1946, is hereby revoked.

(b) Louis Belmont and William Belmont shall not during the first quarter of 1946 apply or extend any ratings, nor shall any allocation or authorization to apply or extend ratings be granted to them during such period.

(c) Louis Belmont and William Belmont shall refer to this order in any application or appeal which they may file with the Civilian Production Administration during the first quarter of 1946.

(d) Nothing contained in this order shall be deemed to relieve Louis Belmont and William Belmont from any restriction, prohibition or provision contained in any other order or regulation of the Civilian Production Administration.

(e) The restrictions and prohibitions contained herein shall apply to Louis Belmont and William Belmont, doing business as Belmont Brothers or under any other name, their successors and assigns, or persons acting on their behalf. Prohibitions against the taking of any action include the taking indirectly as well as directly of any such action.

Issued this 28th day of February 1946.

[General Imports Order M-63, as Amended Mar. 1, 1946]

The fulfillment of requirements for the defense of the United States has created a shortage in the supply of certain imported materials for defense, for private account, and for export; and the following order is deemed necessary and appropriate in the public interest and to promote the national defense:

§ 1042.1 General Imports Order M-63—(a) Definitions. For the purposes of this order:

(1) "Person" means any individual, partnership association, business trust, corporation, or any organized group of persons, whether or not incorporated.

(2) "Owner" of any material means any person who has any property interest in such material except a person whose interest is held solely as security for the payment of money.

(3) "Consignee" means the person to whom a material is consigned at the time of importation.

(4) "Import" means to transport in any manner into the continental United States from any foreign country or from any territory or possession of the United States (including the Philippine Islands). It includes shipments into a free port, free zone, or bonded custody of the United States Bureau of Customs (bonded warehouse) in the continental United States and shipments in bond into the continental United States for transshipment to Canada, Mexico, or any other foreign country.

(5) [Deleted Mar. 1, 1946.]

(6) Material shall be deemed "in transit" if it is afloat, if an on board ocean bill of lading has actually been issued with respect to it, or if it has actually been delivered to and accepted by a rail, truck, or air carrier, for transportation to a point within the continental United States.

(7) "Governing date" with respect to any material means the date when such material first became subject to General Imports Order M-63.

(b) Restrictions on imports of materials—(1) General restriction. No person, except as authorized in writing by the Civilian Production Administration shall purchase for import, import, offer to purchase for import, receive, or offer to receive on consignment for import, or make any contract or other arrangement for the importing of, any material subject to this order after the governing date. The foregoing restrictions shall apply to the importation of any material subject to the order regardless of the existence on the governing date or thereafter of any contract or other arrangement for the importation of such material. The materials subject to this order are those listed from time to time upon Lists A and B attached hereto.

(2) Authorization by Civilian Production Administration. Any person desiring such authorization, whether owner, purchaser, seller, or consignee of the material to be imported, or agent of any of them, shall make application therefor in duplicate on Form WPB-1041 or CPA-1041 addressed to the Civilian Production Administration Ref: M-63, Washington 25, D. C. Unless otherwise expressly permitted, such authorization shall apply only to the particular material and shipment mentioned therein and to the persons and their agents concerned with such shipment; it shall not be assignable or transferable either in whole or in part.

(3) Restrictions on financing of imports. No bank or other person shall participate, by financing or otherwise, in any arrangement which such bank or person knows or has reason to know involves the importation after the governing date of any material subject to this order, unless such bank or person either has received a copy of the authorization issued by the Civilian Production Administration under the provisions of paragraph (b) (2) or is satisfied from known facts that the proposed transaction comes within the exceptions set forth in paragraph (b) (4).

(4) Exceptions. Unless otherwise directed by the Civilian Production Administration, the restrictions set forth in this paragraph (b) shall not apply:

(i) To the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, U. S. Commercial Company, Commodity Credit Corporation, Metals Reserve Company, Defense Supplies Corporation, or any other United States governmental department, agency, or corporation, or any agent acting for any such department, agency or corporation; or

(ii) To any material of which any United States governmental department, agency, or corporation is the owner at the time of importation, or to any material which the owner at the time of importation had purchased or otherwise acquired from any United States governmental department, agency, or corporation; or

(iii) To any material which on the governing date was in transit to a point within the continental United States.

(iv) [Deleted Mar. 30, 1944]

(v) To any material consigned as a gift or imported for personal use where the value of each consignment or shipment is less than $100.00; or to any material consigned or imported as a sample where the value of each consignment or shipment is less than $25.00; or to any used material in the category of household goods imported by the owner for his own personal use; or

(vi) To materials consigned as gifts for personal use by or to members of the Armed Services of the United States; or

(vii) [Deleted Nov. 13, 1944.]

(viii) To manufactured materials which are imported in bond solely for the purpose of having them repaired and then returned to the owner outside the continental United States; or

(ix) To materials which were grown, produced, or manufactured in the continental United States, and which were shipped outside the continental United States on consignment or pursuant to a contract of purchase, and which are now returned as rejected by the prospective purchaser; or

(x) To materials shipped into the United States in transit from one point in Mexico to another point in Mexico, or from one point in Canada to another point in Canada.

(xi) To materials on List B which are located in, and are the growth, production, or manufacture of, and are transported into the Continental United States overland, by air, or by inland waterway from Canada, Mexico, Guatemala or El Salvador.

(c) [Deleted June 4, 1945.]

(d) [Deleted June 4, 1945.]

(e) Restrictions on distribution of List A and List B materials. Unless otherwise provided by the terms of the authorization issued pursuant to paragraph (b) (2), any material on List A or List B which is imported in accordance with the provisions of this order after the governing date, may be sold, delivered, processed, consumed, purchased, or received without restriction under this order, but all such transactions shall be subject to all applicable provisions of the regulations of the Civilian Production Administration and to all orders and directions of the Civilian Production Administration which now or hereafter may be in effect with respect to such material.

(f) Reports—(1) Reports on customs entry. No material which is imported after the governing date, including materials imported by or for the account of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, U. S. Commercial Company, Commodity Credit Corporation, Metals Reserve Company, Defense Supplies Corporation or any other United States governmental department, agency, or corporation, shall be entered through the United States Bureau of Customs for any purpose, whether for consumption, for warehouse, in transit, in bond, for re-export, for appraisal, or otherwise, unless the person making the entry shall file with the entry Form WPB-1040 or CPA-1040 in duplicate except in the case of a material described in paragraph (b) (4) (xi) when the person making the entry need not file with the entry Form WPB-1040 or CPA-1040. The filing of such form a second time shall not be required upon any subsequent entry of such material through the United States Bureau of Customs for any purpose; nor shall the filing of such form be required upon the withdrawal of any material from bonded custody of the United States Bureau of Customs, regardless of the date when such material was first transported into the continental United States. Both copies of such form shall be transmitted by the Collector of Customs to the Civilian Production Administration, Imports Division, Ref.: M-63, Washington 25, D. C.

(2) Other reports. All persons having any interest in, or taking any action with respect to, any material imported after the governing date, whether as owner, agent, consignee, or otherwise, shall file such other reports as may be required from time to time by the Civilian Production Administration.

(3) Exceptions. The provisions of this paragraph (f) shall not apply to materials imported and consigned as gifts for personal use by or to members of the Armed Services of the United States.

(g) Routing of communications. All communications concerning this order shall, unless otherwise herein directed be addressed to: Civilian Production Administration, Washington 25, D. C. Ref.: M-63.

(h) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order, or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact or who furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using material under priority assistance. In addition, the Civilian Production Administration may direct the disposition and use of any material which is imported without authorization as required by paragraph (b).

(i) Applicability of priorities regulations. This order and all transactions affected thereby are subject to all applicable provisions of the priorities regulations of the Civilian Production Administration as amended from time to time.

(j) Effect on liability of removal of material from order. The removal of any material from the order shall not be construed to affect in any way any liability for violation of the order which accrued or was incurred prior to the date of removal.

Issued this 1st day of March 1946.

N. S. C.—No separate class or commodity number has been assigned for the material as described by the Department of Commerce, Statistical Classification of Imports.

INTERPRETATION 1: Revoked June 4, 1945.

INTERPRETATION 2

The following official interpretation is hereby issued by the Civilian Production Administration with respect to the meaning of the term "in transit" as defined in paragraph (a) (6) of General Imports Order M-63 (§ 1042.1) as amended.

By amendment dated December 17, 1942, the definition of material "in transit" was changed by adding the following clause, "or if it has actually been delivered to and accepted by a rail, truck, or air carrier for transportation to a point within the continental United States." The question has been raised as to the meaning of the term as applied to a case where the material on the governing date had been delivered to and accepted by a rail, truck, or air carrier on a through bill of lading for transportation to a specified port and from thence by boat to a point within the continental United States.

The material in the stated case is not deemed to be in transit within the meaning of the term as used in the order. If the material is to be carried to the port of arrival in the continental United States by ship the material must have been afloat, or an on board ocean bill of lading must have been issued with respect to it on the governing date in order for it to be considered as having been in transit on such date.

Material which has been delivered to and accepted by a rail, truck, or air carrier on the governing date for transportation to a point within the continental United States is deemed to be in transit within the meaning of the term as used in the order only when the transportation specified in the bill of lading issued by such carrier calls for delivery of the material at the port of arrival in the continental United States by rail, truck, or air carrier, not by ship. (Issued March 5, 1943.)

INTERPRETATION 3: Revoked June 4, 1945.

Appendix I, which is printed at the foot of Order R–1, establishes general permitted uses for raw materials and special restrictions or provisions for the use of raw materials in the manufacture of specified products.

Appendix II, which is printed separately, establishes manufacturing regulations for various end products set out in lists applicable to the particular product.

DEFINITIONS

§ 4600.01 Definition of certain terms. As used in this order:

(a) "Natural rubber" means all forms and types of tree, vine, or shrub rubber including guayule and natural rubber latex. It does not mean or include reclaimed rubber, scrap rubber, balata, chilte, gutta-percha, gutta siak, gutta jelutong or pontianac.

(b) "Natural rubber latex" means the dry latex solids contained in natural rubber liquid latex.

(c) "Reclaimed rubber" means any vulcanizable material derived from the processing or treatment of scrap rubber, but excluding reclaimed residue or "mud". Reclaimed residue or "mud" means dried and recovered sludge consisting of a mixture of partially hydrolyzed cellulose, finely divided rubber and other waste products of the digester process of reclaiming rubber.

(d) "Scrap rubber" means any material which results from or is incident to the processing of rubber or synthetic rubber in the manufacture or repair of any product including any unvulcanized scrap rubber containing fabric and any defectively processed materials or products which are not usable for a purpose for which they are designed. The term also means any finished product or part thereof made in whole or in part from rubber or synthetic rubber which through wear, deterioration or obsolescence has served its purpose in its present state.

The term does not include (1) a pneumatic tire or tire casing which can be made serviceable under present limited operating conditions for a use for which it was designed, by means of a temporary or permanent repair or by retreading or recapping in accordance with recognized commercial practice, Provided, that pneumatic tires designated by the United States Army as "C–2" tires or designated by the United States Navy as "A" tires, and sold under the warranty that they will be used only as scrap, are designated for the purpose of this Rubber Order as scrap and may only be used as such; (2) any other product which is still usable for a primary purpose for which it was designed; (3) any residual piece of uncured tire cord friction (cord end) which is of sufficient size to be usable as new material in the manufacture of tire patches or in the repair of tires.

(e) "Synthetic rubber" includes Neoprene (all types including latex), Butyl (GR–I) all grades; all Butadiene polymer and copolymer types including latex, including but not limited to GR–S types, such as Hycar OS and Styraloy; and all Butadiene-Acrylonitrile types, such as Hycar, Perbunan, Chemigum, Butaprene, Thiokol RD and GR–A.

(f) "Tube butyl" means specification GR–I and GR–I–50P; non-tube butyl means all other types of butyl except butyl plant clean-up material.

(g) "Chlorinated natural rubber" means the reaction product of chlorine and natural rubber.

(h) "Consume" means to fabricate, process, stamp, cut or in any manner make any substantial change in the form, shape or chemical composition of natural rubber, natural rubber latex, synthetic rubber, or reclaimed rubber.

(i) "Person" means any individual, partnership, association, business trust, corporation, governmental corporation or agency, or any organized group of persons, whether incorporated or not.

GENERAL RESTRICTIONS ON CONSUMPTION OF RAW MATERIALS

§ 4600.02 Authorized consumption. No person shall consume any of the following materials for permitted uses without first obtaining authorization to do so from the Civilian Production Administration on Form CPA–3662.

Natural rubber.
Natural rubber latex.
Butyl.
Chlorinated natural rubber.

No person shall consume in any one calendar month, any materials listed above except in the amounts and for the purposes authorized on Form CPA–3662 and in accordance with applicable manufacturing regulations specified in Appendix II, and except as provided in § 4600.11 below. In addition these materials may be consumed for experimental use without authorization to the extent permitted in Appendix I. However, the use of natural rubber or natural rubber latex for experimental manufacture of cements of any types is not permitted.

Applications for authority to consume any of the materials listed above must be made by filing Form CPA–3662 for each calendar month, with the Rubber Division, Civilian Production Administration, Washington 25, D. C. Applications on Form CPA–3662 to use these materials in any one month must be filed not later than the 10th day of the preceding month.

Chlorinated natural rubber. Chlorinated natural rubber may be used for bonding rubber (including natural rubber, synthetic rubber and reclaimed) to metal in the manufacture of rubber products which are to be vulcanized. For products containing natural rubber, such usage must be within the maximum percentage specified or the ceiling limits applicable to the end product named. All applications for permission to consume chlorinated natural rubber for such purpose and for any other purpose must be made on Form CPA–3662 (formerly WPB–3662) in accordance with the instructions accompanying the form.

Butyl plant clean-up material. Any person may consume butyl plant clean-up material in the manufacture of any product without specific authorization from the Civilian Production Administration.

Cements for manufacture of new shoes. Natural rubber may be allotted for periods of three months to shoe manufacturers whose operations are covered by CPA Conservation Order M–217, in accordance with § 4600.11 below.

§ 4600.03 Permitted uses. No person shall use natural rubber, natural rubber latex, butyl or chlorinated natural rubber, except as provided for in Tables A and B of Appendix I, subject to the applicable manufacturing regulations of this order including those contained in Appendix II to this order.

PURCHASE PROCEDURE

§ 4600.04 Purchase requests for natural rubber, natural rubber latex, butyl or chlorinated natural rubber. (a) Purchase requests for natural rubber, natural rubber latex and butyl must be made on Form CPA–3682 in accordance with instructions accompanying the form. Purchase requests for all types of Government-manufactured synthetic rubber, except butyl, should be made to the Sales Division, Office of Rubber Reserve, Reconstruction Finance Corporation, Washington 25, D. C., in accordance with the regulations of the Office of Rubber Reserve.

Authorized consumers of chlorinated natural rubber and any consumer of synthetic rubber which is privately produced may purchase directly from the producer subject to the inventory restrictions of § 4600.06.

Material purchased, the consumption of which is subject to authorization on Form CPA–3662, may be consumed only to the extent authorized on Form CPA–3662 in any one calendar month and in accordance with applicable manufacturing regulations.

For purchases of material for experimental use, see Appendix I, below.

Purchase requests for Butyl plant clean-up material shall be made on Form CPA–3682 in accordance with instructions accompanying the form. Butyl plant clean-up material must be specified on the form.

(b) Preference ratings. Natural rubber, natural rubber latex, butyl and chlorinated natural rubber may be sold and delivered without regard to any preference ratings. Any preference rating purporting to be applied or extended to orders for such materials shall be void and of no effect and must be disregarded.

DELIVERIES, INVENTORIES AND IMPORTATION

§ 4600.05 Restrictions on deliveries of materials. No person shall deliver any natural rubber, natural rubber latex, butyl or chlorinated natural rubber except as specifically authorized by the Civilian Production Administration or as permitted by regulations of the Office of Rubber Reserve. Delivery of these raw materials will be authorized only for uses permitted by Table A and for products specified in Table B both of Appendix I below; delivery of all other raw rubber materials shall be subject only to the inventory restrictions contained in § 4600.06, below; the poundage authorized will take into account the consumption capacity of the applicant and his reports of actual consumption received monthly on Form CPA–3410; in no event will the amounts authorized exceed the inventory restrictions specified in § 4600.06, below. Nothing contained in this section shall be deemed to prohibit:

(a) Delivery of natural rubber, natural rubber latex, butyl or chlorinated natural rubber from one location to another location controlled by the same person where no change of ownership takes place, or by any corporation to another corporation which is its subsidiary or of which it is a subsidiary.

(b) Delivery of reclaimed rubber or any type of synthetic rubber, except butyl. Transfers of these materials must, however, be reported as shipments or receipts on Form CPA–3410 for the calendar month in which the transactions occur.

(c) Any person from accepting delivery from another of natural rubber, natural rubber latex, butyl or chlorinated natural rubber, for the purpose of milling, washing, deresinating, drying, compounding, or conditioning the same, or for processing or manufacturing products therefrom, and thereafter returning the same or the products thereof to such other person.

§ 4600.06 Restrictions on inventories of materials. No person, other than the Office of Rubber Reserve, shall accept delivery of any of the following materials, if his inventory is or will by virtue of such acceptance become in excess of an amount reasonably necessary to meet his requirements for the period designated below:

	Days
Natural rubber, natural rubber latex or butyl	60
Reclaimed rubber	45
Chlorinated natural rubber	30

If a holder has an excess inventory, he may ask for the assistance of the Rubber Division, Civilian Production Administration, in its disposal.

A person engaged in the business of reclaiming rubber or manufacturing aqueous dispersions of reclaimed rubber may, however, maintain such inventories of scrap, and of reclaimed rubber of his own manufactured grades, as he deems advisable. A person other than the Office of Rubber Reserve engaged in the manufacture of chlorinated rubbers may maintain such inventories of his own manufactured types as he may deem advisable. These exceptions may be made notwithstanding the provisions of this § 4600.06 or of Priorities Regulation No. 32, as amended.

§ 4600.07 Restrictions on importation of materials. For the purposes of this section, "import" means to transport in any manner into the continental United States from any foreign country or from any territory or possession of the United States (including the Philippine Islands). It includes shipments into a free port, free zone, or bonded custody of the United States Bureau of Customs (bonded warehouse) in the continental United States and shipments in bond into the continental United States for transshipment to any other foreign country.

No person shall import any natural rubber, natural rubber latex, or any finished or semi-finished product of which 10% or more by weight is composed of natural rubber or natural rubber latex, except as permitted under this section.

The restrictions of this section shall not apply to any of the following:

(a) Any importation by the Office of Rubber Reserve or Rubber Development Corporation, or any agent acting for either of them.

(b) The importation by the United States Army or Navy of any finished product made of natural rubber, natural rubber latex, butyl or chlorinated natural rubber.

(c) The importation of tires for recapping, retreading or repair, provided the tires are thereafter exported to the owners in the foreign country from which the products were imported.

(d) The importation of any finished products made of natural rubber or natural rubber latex by diplomatic representatives of any foreign government for their personal use or the use of members of their staffs.

(e) The importation of any finished product made of natural rubber or natural rubber latex by commercial representatives of any foreign government for use in their official business.

(f) The importation for testing purposes of camelback, or of tires or tubes or sections thereof by any manufacturer of camelback, tires or tubes.

(g) The importation of any scrap rubber.

(h) The importation by any person during any calendar month of products or materials (except tires, tire casings and tire tubes) which contain an aggregate of not more than twenty-five pounds of natural rubber or natural rubber latex provided such products or materials are not imported for the purpose of manufacturing, processing, sale or resale.

(i) The importation by any person of any finished or semi-finished product manufactured in accordance with the provisions of Rubber Order R–1.

(j) Any importation of any finished or semi-finished product in respect to which the importer shall furnish to the Collector of Customs at the port of entry a certificate substantially as follows:

The undersigned hereby certifies subject to the criminal penalties for misrepresentation contained in section 35 (A) of the United States Criminal Code, that the products covered by the invoice to which this certificate is attached, as noted therein, are being imported into the United States in accordance with the provisions of § 4600.07 of Civilian Production Administration Rubber Order R–1.

---------- ----------
Date Signature

§ 4600.08 Acquisition of tires and tubes for original equipment—(a) Vehicle manufacturer's certificate. In order to obtain tires and tubes for original equipment a vehicle manufacturer must certify his purchase order in substantially the following form, signed by an authorized official of his company:

The undersigned hereby certifies, subject to the criminal penalties for misrepresentation contained in section 35A of the United States Criminal Code, that the tires and tubes listed on the attached purchase order are required by him for mounting only on running wheels of the vehicles or equipment made by him, and that the deliveries specified will not result at any time in an inventory greater than required for his scheduled production in the fifteen (15) days following any delivery date.

Use of the above certification constitutes a representation that the deliveries scheduled will not result in the acquisition of more tires and tubes (including inventory) than are required for the particular manufacturer's production of vehicles or equipment during the 15-day period following each scheduled delivery. In the event of a decrease in the number of tires and tubes actually required, due to work stoppage in the vehicle manufacturer's plant or for any other cause, the vehicle manufacturer shall immediately notify his supplier of the reduction in the requirement, and the scheduled deliveries must be revised accordingly.

(b) Tires and tubes may not be purchased to provide spares. A manufacturer of vehicles or other equipment mounted on rubber tires may purchase tires and tubes only for the running wheels of such vehicles and equipment. He shall not purchase tires and tubes for the purpose of providing a spare tire or tube for any such vehicles or equipment.

§ 4600.09 MM Preference ratings. MM ratings will be assigned to the delivery of military replacement tires or tubes or both, only upon concurrence of the Civilian Production Administration, according to the regulations governing the assignment of MM ratings specified in CPA Directive 41, as amended.

§ 4600.10 Directions of the Civilian Production Administration. With respect to the production or shipment of tires and tubes the Civilian Production Administration may, notwithstanding any other order, preference rating, directive, rule or regulation of the Civilian Production Administration or other Government agency, direct changes in the production or shipments schedule of a producer.

§ 4600.11 Cement for manufacture of new shoes. The Civilian Production Administration will issue a nontransferable certificate valid for a period of three months to each manufacturer of new shoes whose operations are covered by CPA Conservation Order M-217. This certificate will specify the quantity in pounds, of natural rubber which each shoe manufacturer will be subsequently authorized to consume, if he manufactures his own rubber cement, or which a rubber cement manufacturer will be subsequently authorized to consume in the manufacture of shoe cement for the account of the shoe manufacturer. The quantity will be based pro rata on his actual production of shoes as reported to the United States Bureau of the Census for the month of October, 1945. If any shoe manufacturer is also a manufacturer of shoe cement he shall, upon receipt of the certificate from the CPA, return it to the CPA attached to Form CPA-3662 requesting authorization to consume natural rubber in the amount specified on the certificate. If the shoe manufacturer is not a manufacturer of shoe cement, he shall forward the certificate to a manufacturer of shoe cement of his own selection. Such manufacturer of shoe cement shall attach the certificate to a request for authorization to consume natural rubber on Form CPA-3662 in the amount specified on the certificate. If any manufacturer of shoe cement receives certificates from more than one shoe manufacturer, he shall forward to the CPA all such certificates with a request on Form CPA-3662 to consume the aggregate amount of natural rubber specified on all the certificates for the period stated.

§ 4600.12 Reports. (a) The following persons shall file with the Civilian Production Administration a report on stocks, receipts, consumption, and shipments on Form CPA-3410 in accordance with the instructions accompanying the form:

(1) Each person who during the next preceding month consumed or owned any natural rubber, natural rubber latex, butyl or chlorinated natural rubber.

(2) Each person who during the next preceding month consumed or owned the rubbers listed below, in excess of the following minimums:

	Consumption	Stocks
	Pounds	Pounds
Reclaimed rubber	10,000	15,000
GR-S	15,000	30,000
Neoprene	5,000	10,000
Butadiene-Acrylonitrile types	5,000	10,000

This paragraph shall not apply to persons who perform the operations listed in § 4600.05 (c) of this order except that producers of reclaimed rubber shall report their entire production regardless of the ownership of the material consumed.

(b) Each manufacturer of tires and tubes or camelback, shall file a report on his production, shipments and inventory for each calendar month on Form CPA-3438 (formerly WPB-3438) with the Civilian Production Administration, in accordance with the instructions accompanying the form, unless otherwise directed.

(c) Such other reports as may be required, subject to approval by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with Federal Reports Act of 1942, which are to be filed in accordance with instructions accompanying the forms.

§ 4600.13 Applicability of regulations. Except as otherwise provided, this order and all transactions affected thereby are subject to all applicable provisions of Civilian Production Administration Regulations as amended from time to time.

§ 4600.14 Appeals. Appeals from any provision of this order shall be made by filing Form CPA-2242 in accordance with the instructions appearing on the form.

§ 4600.15 Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order, or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using, material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

§ 4600.16 Communications. All reports required to be filed under this order, and all communications concerning this order, shall, unless otherwise directed, be addressed to: Civilian Production Administration, Washington 25, D. C., Ref.: Order R-1.

APPENDIX I—GENERAL PERMITTED USES OF RAW MATERIALS AND PERMITTED PRODUCTS

Appendix I to Rubber Order R-1 establishes general permitted uses for natural rubber, natural rubber latex, chlorinated natural rubber and butyl, and also lists the products which are permitted to be made from these raw materials.

Table A below lists the general permitted uses for each of these materials and the monthly consumption, if any, permitted for experimental use without prior authorization.

Table B below deals with specific products in which the use of these raw materials is permitted under the general provisions of Table A. It refers, for certain products, to the applicable manufacturing regulations set out in Appendix II to the Rubber Order (printed separately), specifies the percentage of natural rubber, if any, which may be used in the product, as well as the product for which "Tube Butyl" or "Non-Tube Butyl" may be used, and finally, for many of the products on the table special regulations or provisions are provided.

TABLE A—GENERAL PERMITTED USES OF MATERIALS

NOTE: Table and footnote amended Mar. 1, 1946.

Type of material	General permitted uses subject to applicable end product restrictions	Monthly consumption for experimental use without specific authorization [1]
Natural rubber or natural rubber latex.	In the manufacture of products listed in Table B below for which natural rubber or natural rubber latex is specifically permitted, subject to any applicable manufacturing regulations or restrictions, but only as authorized on Form CPA-3662 (formerly WPB-3662).	25 pounds; use for experimentation in manufacture of any type of cements prohibited.
Butyl	In the manufacture of products listed in Table B below for which butyl is specifically permitted, subject to any applicable manufacturing regulations or restrictions, but only as authorized on Form CPA-3662 (formerly WPB-3662).	200 pounds.
Chlorinated natural rubber	As specifically authorized on Form CPA-3662 (formerly WPB-3662).	None.

[1] Experimentation need not be confined to permitted uses, but none of the products produced or resulting from experimentation may be sold. Natural rubber and natural rubber latex are not permitted in the experimental manufacture of cements of any type. Materials in the amounts indicated may be diverted from inventory or from purchase for manufacturing operations. If manufacturer does not have inventory of natural rubber or natural rubber latex, application for permission to purchase should be made on Form CPA-3662. Such applications must definitely state that the natural rubber or natural rubber latex is to be used for experimentation and name the end product on which the experiment is to be made. To purchase butyl rubbers for experimental purposes, make applications to Sales Division, Office of Rubber Reserve, Reconstruction Finance Corporation, Washington 25, D. C.

For permission to consume materials for experimental use, in excess of the amounts authorized, file Form CPA-2242, in accordance with § 4600.14 of this order.

NOTE: Table amended Mar. 1, 1946.

For general permitted uses of material in the manufacture of products, see Table A above. In addition to the products listed in this table, the following products may be made from materials subject to permission authorization, use this appendix in accordance with the instructions accompanying the form. The applicant's natural rubber, natural rubber latex, or butyl requirements for each code number listed below, must show the specific quantity of material requested for each subdivision of the code. Form CPA-3662 (formerly WPB-3662) should not be used in applying for permission to consume any material for a purpose which is specifically prohibited by this order. Materials in amounts indicated may be diverted from inventory or from purchase for manufacturing operations. If manufacturer does not have inventory of natural rubber or natural rubber latex, application for permission to purchase should be made on Form CPA-3662. Such applications must definitely state that the natural rubber or natural rubber latex is to be used for experimentation and name the end product on which the experiment is to be made. For permission to consume materials for experimental use, in excess of the amounts authorized, file Form CPA-2242, in accordance with § 4600.14 of this order.

Explanation of Table B: Columns and Symbols—

The second column, headed "Percent natural rubber" indicates that natural rubber and/or natural rubber latex authorized on Form CPA-3662 (formerly WPB-3662) may be used in the manufacture of particular products. The second column shows to what extent Tube Butyl or Non-Tube Butyl authorized on Form CPA-3662 (formerly WPB-3662) may be used in the manufacture of particular products.

The natural rubber or butyl column is blank when applicable regulations in Appendix II or special restrictions or provisions in this table indicate that the use of the material is prohibited, subject to any special restrictions or provisions applicable to the particular product.

"X" indicates that the material may be consumed in the minimum quantities required by a manufacturer who has received authorization to consume on Form CPA-3662 (formerly WPB-3662), subject to any special restrictions or provisions applicable to the particular product.

Percentage figures indicate maximum percent of total volume of compound, unless otherwise specified.

2. The headnote and introductory paragraph of § 1315.1557d (b) are amended to read as follows:

(b) Maximum prices for sales of rubber bands made of buna-S or natural rubber or any combination thereof, by manufacturers and for sales by whole-

SEC. 16. Maximum prices for purchases of finished rice by importers. (a) The maximum price at which an importer may purchase any lot of imported finished rice shall be the appropriate maximum price for such finished rice c. i. f. the port of entry as provided in paragraph (a) of section 9 of this regulation.

(b) As used in this section the following terms shall have the following meanings:

(1) "Imported finished rice" means any lot of finished rice as defined in this regulation which is either:

(i) To be imported into the United States, or

(ii) Is still owned by the importer of such lot.

(2) "Cif" (cost, insurance, freight) means, with respect to the price of any lot of finished rice delivered by vessel, the price delivered alongside or on the vessel at the port where discharged, the seller having paid all customary expenses to that point and also marine insurance and freight to the delivery port, together with any export taxes, or other fees or charges, if any, levied because of exportation. The buyer must also pay for war risk insurance, if any, provided by the seller and for certificates of origin, consular invoices, or any other documents issued in the country of origin, or of shipment, or both, which may be required for importation of the finished rice into the United States.

This amendment shall become effective March 6, 1946.

Administrator.

DOUGLAS FIR AND OTHER WEST COAST LUMBER

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this amendment, issued simultaneously herewith, has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.

Revised Maximum Price Regulation 26 is amended in the following respects:

1. In section 2, paragraph (b) is amended to read as follows:

(b) If a mill is located in Oregon, Washington, or Canada near the crest of the Cascade Mountains, or in California, and has customarily graded and sold its lumber under the Western Pine Association Grading Rules, it may apply to the Regional Office in the area in which such mill is located for special permission to use the maximum prices established in Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 94, instead of prices established in Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 26. Such an application may be made by letter, and should be supported by evidence of the mill's actual practices in the past. The Regional Administrator in the area in which the mill is located may grant permission to use such maximum prices established in Revised Maximum Price Regulation 94 instead of Revised Maximum Price Regulation 26, as provided above.

2. Section 5 is amended to read as follows:

SEC. 5. Basic prices and cash discount—(a) Basic prices. The maximum prices f. o. b. mill are set forth in article V—Price Tables.

(b) Cash discount. If cash is paid, the maximum price must be reduced by the seller's August 1941 cash discount. For example, if the August, 1941, discount for cash was 2%, and the maximum price without discount according to this regulation is $30.00, the maximum price when cash is paid is $29.40. When a seller was not in business in August, 1941, 2% cash discount for payment in 10 days must be allowed.

3. In section 7, paragraph (b) is amended to read as follows:

(b) Common or contract carrier (other than rail). Where transportation is by common or contract carrier (other than rail), only the actual cost of transportation may be added to the maximum prices established under section 23 and section 24. However, where any part of such transportation is by way of water shipment, no transportation charges accruing prior to lumber being placed f. a. s. may be added.

4. In section 8, paragraph (c) is amended to read as follows:

(c) For the purpose of paragraph (b), each of the following numbered groups of lumber products, regardless of species, whether covered by this or other price regulations, constitutes a separate item whether one or all classifications within a group are loaded:

1. Boards and strips (any working not listed below), dimension, plank and small timbers, timbers and box.
2. Flooring.
3. Siding.
4. Ceiling, partition.
5. Stepping.
6. Finish and clears, thick clears, shop.
7. Casing and base, mouldings.
8. Lath, shingle band sticks (12 M pieces minimum).
9. Corn cribbing, well curbing.
10. Gutter.
11. Silo stock (when worked to pattern).
12. Shingles, shakes, any species, stained or natural (20 squares minimum).

5. In section 12, paragraph (a), a new subparagraph (4) is added to read as follows:

(4) Applications under this section will be considered only when accompanied by a true copy of the order or customer's inquiry which forms the basis of the application, and a written statement by the purchaser showing that none of the items specifically priced in the regulation will serve the purpose for which the stock is to be used, and that it has been his custom to purchase lumber on these special specifications.

6. In section 12, paragraph (b) is amended to read as follows:

(b) As soon as the request has been filed, quotations and deliveries may be made at the requested price but the same shall be subject to approval by the OPA and payment may not be made until the price has been approved.

7. In section 13, paragraph (a) is amended to read as follows:

(a) F. o. b. or f. a. s. price. An invoice must be submitted by the seller on all sales and must contain a sufficiently complete description of the lumber to show whether the price is proper or not. Any working, specification or extra which affects the maximum f. o. b. or f. a. s. prices must be mentioned in the description. The amount added for these does not have to be separately shown.

When an invoice does not contain a complete description of an item shipped, the maximum price which may be charged or paid for that item is that of the lowest priced item to which the incomplete description could be applied, but not exceeding $15.00 per M'BM on a shipment of a combination of grades if the invoice does not name the lowest grade contained in the shipment or if no grade is named.

8. In section 16, paragraph (d) is amended to read as follows:

(d) Combined grades. Lumber sold in a combination of grades may not be sold above the maximum price for the lowest grade in the combination. For example, the maximum price for lumber sold as No. 2 and Btr. is the maximum price for No. 2. It is, however, permissible to quote on the basis of specified higher or lower grades developing to be shipped at the respective maximum price for each grade actually developed and shipped.

When more than one grade of any one size is forwarded in any one shipment, each piece (or bundle, if bundled) shall bear some symbol of grade identification and each grade shall be separately invoiced and the identification symbol used on the lumber shall be shown opposite the respective grade on the invoice. Alternatively, shipper may separate grades in loading and clearly identify by symbol the grade of each separate lot in the shipment and on the invoice.

If any one shipment contains more than one grade of one size and grade identification is not made in the shipment and on the invoice, the maximum price which may be charged for a shipment of mixed grades is the price for the respective sizes of the lowest grade named in the order or on the invoice. Shop grades when sold to millwork manufacturers and items priced in tables 16, 17, 18 and 19 are exempt from the requirements of this paragraph insofar as it pertains to the use of grade symbols on lumber and on invoices.

9. In section 23, the text preceding the tables is amended to read as follows:

SEC. 23. Douglas fir. The prices for Douglas fir lumber per 1000 feet board measure (or other designated measure where so indicated) shown in the following price tables are the maximum prices applicable for each of the following types of direct-mill shipments, except where further additions or deductions are provided below:

(a) Shipments from mills located on railroad (except water shipments).

(1) Direct-mill retail sales (plus addition provided in section 6).

(2) Other sales:

(i) F. o. b. car mill.

(ii) F. o. b. truck mill.

(b) Shipment from mills not located on railroad (except water shipments).

(1) Direct-mill retail sales (plus addition provided in section 6).

(2) Other sales:

(i) F. o. b. car mill's customary rail shipping point.

(ii) Where possession of or title to lumber is acquired at any point other than f. o. b. car mill's customary rail shipping point, f. a. s. vessel or f. o. b. scow or barge, the following deductions must be made:

(a) Cost of transportation from mill to customary rail shipping point at rates set forth in section 7 (b) or (c), plus

(b) $1.25 per M'BM (car-loading expense).

(After these deductions have been made transportation charges provided in section 7 may be added where applicable.)

(3) Cargo mills granted special authorizations under former section 7 (d)

(1) may continue to charge for prerail hauls in accordance with such authorization.

(c) Water shipment from all mills.

(1) F. a. s. vessel's mill's customary loading point.

(2) F. o. b. scow or barge alongside mill's dock, except that

(i) When a mill having deep-water dock facilities places a shipment on scows or barges instead of f. a. s. vessel on its dock, an addition of $0.50 per M'BM may be made.

(ii) When shipment from a mill without deep-water dock facilities moves by scow or barge to a vessel at its customary deep-water shipping point, no addition may be made for transportation to such deep-water shipping point.

(3) On sales made delivered destination, transportation charges provided in section 7 (b) may be added to the f. a. s. vessel price.

In all cases, the "f. o. b." prices include transportation to and loading on the carrier indicated; the "f. a. s." prices include delivery within reach of ship's tackle; and on all other shipments loading on some carrier at seller's expense is included.

Wherever the term "f. o. b. mill maximum price" is used in 2d RMPR 215 as a basis for computing maximum prices under that regulation, it shall apply to the f. o. b. car mill prices under this regulation. None of the footnotes to the price tables of this section may be employed where such footnote conflicts with general note XXIII in section 25.

10. The tables in section 23 are amended in the following respects:

If the specification includes lengths over 40', the price shall be the same as if no average length was required.

No addition may be made under footnote 9 in either case.

If the average specified is an odd length, the price of the next higher even length shall apply.

9. For omitting any lengths in R/L groups covering more than one length bracket, the additions permitted by footnote 7 may be made only within the bracket from which lengths have been omitted but such additions to the 8/20' brackets may not result in a price higher than the bracket price for 22/30'.

2. A new section 4.1 (a) (6) is added to read as follows:

(6) In the case of sales of sewer pipe products sold f. o. b. factory on a "pick-up basis" or for "less-than-carload shipments by rail" within Northern California as defined in section 11.1 below, any manufacturer may increase his price in accordance with either of the following alternative pricing methods:

(i) By adding an amount not in excess of 6.5 percent to the highest prices charged by the manufacturer during the month of March 1942 for the same quality, kind and quantity of sewer pipe products delivered to purchasers of the same class.

(ii) By adding amounts not in excess of such amounts as may be required to maintain discount differentials between prices established under this paragraph and those established by section 11.4 at least as favorable as those existing during the month of March 1942 for the same quality, kind, and quantity of sewer pipe products delivered to purchasers of the same class.

PRIORITY FOR GRAIN FROM COUNTRY ELEVATORS TO TERMINAL ELEVATORS

At a session of the Interstate Commerce Commission, Division 3, held at its office in Washington, D. C., on the 27th day of February A. D. 1946.

It appearing, that the President of the United States has instructed the appropriate agencies of the Government to put into effect a number of emergency measures designed to help meet critically urgent needs for food in foreign countries to the greatest possible extent in the shortest possible time and has directed that "specific preference will be given to the rail movement of wheat, corn, meat and other essential foods, in order promptly to export maximum quantities to the destinations where most needed," the Secretary of the Department of Agriculture has made representations regarding the program of the President to the Office of Defense Transportation most important of which is the depletion of grain stocks in terminal elevators; the Secretary has urged that such measures be taken as are necessary to maintain the terminal elevator stocks by according priority in the placement of cars for the loading of grains from country elevators destined to terminal elevators; the Office of Defense Transportation has likewise made similar representations to this Commission regarding the need for priority to this particular traffic; the Commission is of opinion that an emergency which requires immediate action exists in all sections of the country except that section of the United States embraced within the territorial scope of Second Revised Service Order No. 450 and except certain eastern and southern states. It is ordered, that:

(a) Definitions. (1) The term "common carrier" as used herein means a common carrier by railroad subject to the Interstate Commerce Act; (2) The term "terminal market" as used herein means a terminal or sub-terminal market or a sampling point named in Appendix A; (3) The term "car order" as used herein means any order filed by a shipper or consignee with the carrier for a car or cars to be placed for loading; (4) The term "grain" as used herein means wheat, corn, oats, rye, barley, flaxseed, soya beans, rice, sorghums, and grain screenings.

(b) Transportation priority to be given certain traffic. (1) Except as provided in paragraph (b) (2) herein each common carrier shall give priority over all other car orders to filling orders for empty cars for grain loading to the extent of the daily loading ability of the shipper or consignor at a country elevator, provided the shipper or consignor thereof certifies on the car order that such car is to be loaded with grain for a terminal market, and such notation shall be shown on the bill of lading and waybill.

(2) In the event a carrier has an order for a car accorded priority under this service order and an order for a car under Service Order No. 454 orders accorded preference under Service Order No. 454 shall be preferred over orders accorded priority under this order.

FEDERAL POWER COMMISSION.

IROQUOIS GAS CORP. AND UNITED NATURAL GAS CO.

NOTICE OF APPLICATION

FEBRUARY 26, 1946.

Notice is hereby given that on February 13, 1946, a joint application was filed with the Federal Power Commission by Iroquois Gas Corporation, a New York corporation having its principal place of business at 45 Church Street, Buffalo, New York, and the United Natural Gas Company, a Pennsylvania corporation having its principal place of business at 308 Seneca Street, Oil City, Pennsylvania, for a certificate of public convenience and necessity pursuant to section 7 of the Natural Gas Act, as amended, to authorize the construction and operation of certain facilities hereinafter described:

The combined project as proposed by these Applicants will consist of a 16-inch loop gas transmission line approximately 20.3 miles in length extending from the "Little Valley By-Pass" of Iroquois, located in the Town of Little Valley, Cattaraugus County, New York, southerly to the "Maloney Farm By-Pass" of United, located in Pennsylvania approximately 2.4 miles south of the Pennsylvania-New York State line.

(1) Iroquois Gas Corporation proposes to construct approximately 17.9 miles of this loop section extending from said "Little Valley By-Pass" southerly to the Pennsylvania-New York State Line. It is estimated that the total cost of such construction will be $465,000.

(2) United Natural Gas Company proposes to construct approximately 2.4 miles of this loop section from the southerly terminus of above-mentioned construction and extending southward from the Pennsylvania-New York State Line to its "Maloney Farm By-Pass." The cost of this construction is estimated at $65,000.

The proposed loop section will become a part of the interconnected system of lines[1] through which Iroquois obtains delivery from United of a part of its natural-gas requirements. The application states that the plan for constructing this loop section originated many years ago at the time of constructing other sections of the system. However, to the present time production from high pressure wells developed in Western New York in conjunction with deliveries from United have enabled Iroquois to meet peak demands without this proposed loop section. Now, it is said, because of the decline of production in New York State due to accelerated drain occasioned by the war effort and the failure of recent development work to uncover any new pools of consequence, the looping is necessary to provide required quantities of natural gas.

Applicants propose to pay for their respective portions of the line without recourse to financing outside of Applicants' own resources.

Iroquois Gas Corporation transports natural and manufactured gas, and distributes mixed and natural gas in various counties in the western part of New York, including Erie, Cattaraugus, Livingston, and Wyoming Counties. It is said that more than 85 per cent of its total load is for domestic consumption.

The application recites that public convenience and necessity require this proposed construction to safeguard existing customers' supply and to handle increased loads due to normal growth of population and demands for gas. And that construction of the new loop contemplates no change in sales of gas to or connections with other utilities.

Any interested State commission is requested to notify the Federal Power Commission whether it considers the application one which should be considered under the cooperative provisions of Part 67 of the provisional rules of practice and regulations under the Natural Gas Act, and if so, to advise the Federal Power Commission as to the nature of its interest in the matter and whether it desires a conference, the creation of a board, or a joint or concurrent hearing, together with the reasons for such request.

Any person desiring to be heard or to make any protest with reference to said application should, on or before the 13th day of March, 1946, file with the Federal Power Commission, Washington 25, D. C., a petition or protest in accordance with the Commission's provisional rules of practice and regulations under the Natural Gas Act.

[Rev. SO 119, Order 97]

TENNESSEE COFFIN AND CASKET CO.

ADJUSTMENT OF CEILING PRICES

For the reasons set forth in an opinion issued simultaneously herewith and filed with the Division of the Federal Register, and pursuant to sections 15 and 16 of Revised Supplementary Order No. 119, it is ordered:

(a) Manufacturer's ceiling prices. Tennessee Coffin and Casket Company (Tennessee Red Cedar and Novelty Co.), 1211 East 14th Street, Chattanooga, Tennessee, may compute its adjusted ceiling prices for all articles of cedar chests and novelty furniture, which it manufactures, as follows:

(1) For an article in its line during October 1941, the adjusted ceiling price is the highest price charged during that month to each class of purchaser increased by 18.9 percent.

(2) For an article not in its line during October 1941, but which has a properly established ceiling price, in effect before the effective date of this order, the adjusted ceiling price is the article's properly established ceiling price for the particular sale (exclusive of all permitted increases or adjustment charges) increased by the percentage determined in accordance with "note 3" in section 8 of Revised Supplementary Order No. 119.

(3) For an article which is first offered for sale after the effective date of this order, the adjusted ceiling price is the maximum price hereafter properly determined or established in accordance with Maximum Price Regulation No. 188 and prices so fixed may not be increased under this order.

(4) The manufacturer's adjusted ceiling price fixed in accordance with this order is his new ceiling price if it is higher than his previously established ceiling price including all increases and adjustments otherwise authorized for him individually or for his industry.

(2) A reseller who determines his maximum resale price under the General Maximum Price Regulation, and whose supplier's invoice states both an "unadjusted maximum price" and a selling price, shall compute his ceiling prices under that regulation as modified by Order No. 4800 under Maximum Price Regulation No. 188.

If his supplier's invoice does not state an unadjusted maximum price, the seller shall calculate his ceiling price by adding to his invoice cost the same percentage markup which he has on the "most comparable article" for which he has a properly established ceiling price. For this purpose the "most comparable article" is the one which meets all of the following tests:

(i) It belongs to the narrowest trade category which includes the article being priced.

(ii) Both it and the article being priced were purchased from the same class of supplier.

(iii) Both it and the article being priced belong to a class of articles to which, according to customary trade practices, an approximately uniform percentage markup is applied.

(iv) Its net replacement cost is nearest to the net cost of the article being priced.

The determination of a ceiling price in this way need not be reported to the Office of Price Administration; however, each seller must keep complete records showing all the information called for by OPA Form 620-759 with regard to how he determined his ceiling price, for so long as the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, remains in effect. If the maximum resale price cannot be determined under the above, the seller shall apply to the Office of Price Administration for the establishment of a ceiling price under § 1499.3 (c) of the General Maximum Price Regulation. Ceiling prices established under that section will reflect the supplier's prices as adjusted in accordance with this order.

(c) Terms of sale. Ceiling prices adjusted by this order are subject to each seller's terms, discounts, and allowances on sales to each class of purchaser in effect during March 1942, or thereafter properly established under OPA regulation.

(d) Invoices to purchasers for resale. Any person making a sale of an article covered by this order to a purchaser for resale at a maximum price adjusted under this order must furnish such purchaser with an invoice containing the information required by section 14 of Order No. 4800 under Maximum Price Regulation No. 188.

(e) All requests for adjustment of maximum prices not specifically granted by this order are hereby denied.

(f) This order may be revoked or amended by the Price Administrator at any time.

(g) This order shall become effective March 1, 1946.

JAMES G. ROGERS, Jr.,
Acting Administrator.

SEC. 2. Distributor's ceiling prices—(a) Washing machines produced by the Hurley Machine Division. Distributors shall determine their ceiling prices for sales on and after December 11, 1945 of the models 42-8, 42-8ER, and 42-9 washing machines under the first applicable rule of the following:

Rule 1. A distributor's ceiling price for sales in each zone of each model to each class of purchasing dealer shall be the price which will yield the distributor the same percentage of the total dollar margin between the manufacturer's price to him (not exceeding the manufacturer's ceiling price to him) and the dealer's price for resales to ultimate consumers in that zone as he received during the period October 1-15, 1941 in connection with the sale of the most comparable model produced by the same manufacturer and sold by him to the same class of purchasing dealer.

Rule 2. If a distributor cannot determine his ceiling price for sales of a particular model to a particular class of dealer under Rule 1, his ceiling price for that sale is the ceiling price established under Rule 1 for the same sale by the "closest seller of the same class" who has so determined a ceiling price. A distributor's "closest seller of the same class" is a distributor who (a) had established a ceiling price for sales of the identical model of washing machine to the same class of purchaser, and (b) is the same general class of seller and (c) is located nearer to the distributor than any other seller who meets requirements (a) and (b) of this rule.

Rule 3. A distributor's ceiling price for sales in each zone of each model to each class of purchasing dealer shall be the price which would yield the distributor the same percentage of the total dollar margin between the manufacturer's ceiling price to him and the dealer's ceiling price for resale to ultimate consumers in that zone as he received in connection with the sale of the most comparable model produced by the Hurley Machine Division and sold by him to the same class of purchasing dealer.

Rule 4. If a distributor cannot determine his ceiling price for sales of a particular model to a particular class of dealer under Rule 3 his ceiling price for that sale is the ceiling price established under Rule 3 for the same sale by the "closest seller of the same class" who has so determined a ceiling price. A distributor's "closest seller of the same class" is a distributor who (a) has established a ceiling price for sales of the identical model of washing machine to the same class of purchaser, and (b) is the same general class of seller and (c) is located nearer to the distributor than any other seller who meets requirements (a) and (b) of this rule.

(c) Washington machines equipped with gas engines. Distributors shall determine their ceiling prices for sales to dealers of machines equipped with gasoline engines by adding $21.50 to the ceiling price determined under paragraphs (a) or (b) of this order for a machine without a gas engine.

(d) Ironing machines. A distributor selling any ironing machines for which the manufacturer's ceiling prices are established by section 1 of this order shall determine his ceiling prices for such articles in accordance with the provisions of section 15 of Maximum Price Regulation No. 86.

(e) Terms and conditions of sale. The ceiling prices established by this section are subject to each seller's customary terms, discounts, allowances, and other price differentials applied by him on sales of similar articles during the period October 1–15, 1941 inclusive.

AUTOMATIC NON-ELECTRIC TEMPERATURE CONTROLS

ADJUSTMENT OF MAXIMUM PRICES

For the reasons set forth in an opinion issued simultaneously herewith and filed with the Division of the Federal Register, Order No. 48 under section 22 of Maximum Price Regulation No. 591 is amended in the following respects:

1. A new section 2.10 is added to read as follows:

SEC. 2.10 Automatic non-electric temperature controls—(a) Manufacturers' increase for items having an October 1, 1941, price. The maximum price for sales by any manufacturer of the types of automatic non-electric temperature controls covered by this section shall be his price to each class of purchaser in effect on October 1, 1941, increased by 5 percent.

(b) Manufacturers' increase for items not having an October 1, 1941, price. The manufacturer may not increase his properly established maximum price for any automatic non-electric temperature control device for which he does not have an October 1, 1941, price without specific authorization from the Office of Price Administration.

A manufacturer desiring to modify his properly established maximum price for an automatic non-electric temperature control for which he does not have an October 1, 1941 price, shall file an application for such modification of his maximum price to reflect the increase obtained by other manufacturers for similar articles under (a) above, setting forth the following:

(1) Full description of the item. Cuts or detailed sketches should be supplied.

(2) Established maximum price for the item and the section and regulation under which the maximum price was established.

(3) If possible, the names of competitors marketing similar items for which they had October 1, 1941 prices.

Such applications should be filed with the Building Materials Price Branch, Office of Price Administration, Washington 25, D. C.

(c) Optional use of this section. Since the provisions of this section are not intended to reduce properly established maximum prices, any manufacturer whose price in effect to each class of purchaser on October 1, 1941, plus the increase provided for under (a) above, is less than his maximum price as established under Maximum Price Regulation No. 591, may continue to use as his maximum price, the maximum price properly established under that regulation.

(d) Notification by manufacturers. Any manufacturer who applies the increase permitted under this section shall notify each purchaser, in writing, at or before the issuance of the first invoice after February 28, 1946, of any change in his selling price for each automatic non-electric temperature control.

(e) Resellers' prices. Any reseller may increase his maximum prices in effect on February 28, 1946, for the types of non-electric temperature control devices covered by this section to each class of purchaser by the percentage amount of his increase in acquisition cost resulting from the increase granted the manufacturer under this section.

(f) Profit factor for use in connection with adjustments under section 1.2 (a) or (b). Any manufacturer of the types of automatic non-electric temperature controls covered by this section filing an application in accordance with section 1.2 (a) or (b) may use in connection with such application the industry profit factor of 6.2 percent.

(g) The term "automatic non-electric temperature control devices" means those automatic non-electric control devices responsive to liquid level, temperature, pressure or humidity, and their related control devices and accessories, that have been especially designed for and normally used to control heating, ventilating, cooling, air conditioning, refrigeration and domestic water heating equipment. (4) The quotas computed pursuant to the provisions of this order by any brewer owning or operating more than one plant shall be computed for each plant separately and on the basis of the brewing operations at the particular plant.

(e) Audits and inspections. The Assistant Administrator shall be entitled to make such audits or inspections of the books, records and other writings, premises, or stocks of grain, grain products, malted grain, and malt syrup of any brewer, and to make such investigations, as may be necessary or appropriate, in the Assistant Administrator's discretion, to the enforcement or administration of the provisions of this order.

PART 3290—TEXTILE, CLOTHING AND LEATHER

[M-328B, Direction 9]

USE OF CC RATINGS IN FIRST QUARTER OF 1946 UNDER SCHEDULES J AND K

The following direction is issued pursuant to M-328B:

(a) Purpose. The purpose of this direction is to state the rules governing the yardage for which CC ratings may be used in the first quarter of 1946 under Schedules J and K of Order M-328B. It deals specifically with the following notice which was enclosed with first quarter authorizations on CPA-3732:

The yardage of fabric shown in Column (t) of the type described in Column (u) represents the total yardage which may be delivered to you on M-328B CC rated orders during the first quarter of 1946. Included in this total is the yardage of fabric authorized for the fourth quarter of 1945 but not received by you during that quarter—stated another way, the yardage for which rated orders may be placed for first quarter 1946 delivery on Form CPA-4382.

(b) Effect of this direction. (1) Any person who received an authorization for an item on Schedule J or K on Form CPA-3732 with the above notice for a yardage which was 75% or more of the yardage for which he was assigned CC ratings for that item in the 4th quarter of 1945, is governed by the following rule. He may not receive on M-328B CC rated orders after he got his CPA-3732 authorization any fabric which will make his total receipts of that fabric in the first quarter of 1946 on M-328B CC ratings for any item exceed the yardage authorized on Form CPA-3732 for that item. This includes the yardage authorized for the 4th quarter of 1945, but not received in that quarter.

(2) Any person who received an authorization on Form CPA-3732 for any item for less than 75% of the yardage allocated to him for that item in the 4th quarter of 1945 may use CC ratings, to get in the first quarter of 1946 75% of the yardage for which he was assigned CC ratings for the 4th quarter of 1945 for the same item. This includes the yardage authorized for the 4th quarter of 1945 but not received in that quarter.

(3) Any person who has actually received under paragraphs (f) (2) (4th quarter 1945 ratings remaining valid in 1st quarter 1946) and (c) (2) (advance ratings for 1st quarter 1946) of M-328B more than the yardage to which he is entitled under (1) or (2) above, may not receive any more fabric on M-328B CC ratings in the first quarter of 1946 for the particular item. He must, however, use all of the yardage obtained before then to make the item for which the rating was authorized.

(4) Any person who has placed CC rated orders for more yardage than he is authorized to receive under this direction must immediately unrate or cancel orders for the excessive yardage as explained in paragraph (c) (4) of Order M-328B.

Issued this 28th day of February 1946.

PART 1339—BURLAP AND BURLAP PRODUCTS

[RPS 18,[1] incl. Amdts. 1–8[2]]

BURLAP

This compilation of Revised Price Schedule 18 includes Amendment 8, effective March 9, 1946. The text added or amended by Amendment 8 is underscored. Changes in tables and redesignations are indicated by notes.

Burlap, virtually all of which is imported from India, is widely used for packaging feed, fertilizer, and agricultural and industrial products. It is also extensively employed in the manufacture of floor covering, furniture, and other goods.

During the past twelve months prices of spot burlap in New York have risen more than one hundred percent. These increases, which have raised the price of burlap considerably above the highest prices in recent years, have added unjustifiable costs to American agriculture as well as to industry and the ultimate consumer.

Such specifications and standards as are used, in this regulation were, prior to such use, in general use in the trade or industry affected.

§ 1339.3 Evasion. The price limitations set forth in Revised Price Schedule No. 18 shall not be evaded whether by direct or indirect methods in connection with a purchase, sale, delivery, or transfer of burlap, alone or in conjunction with any other material, or by way of any commission, service, transportation, or other charge, or discount, premium, or other privilege, or by tying-agreement or other trade understanding, or otherwise.

§ 1339.4 Adjustable pricing. Any person may agree to sell at a price which can be increased up to the maximum price in effect at the time of delivery, but no person may, unless authorized by the Office of Price Administration, deliver or agree to deliver at prices to be adjusted upward in accordance with action taken by the Office of Price Administration after delivery. Such authorization may be given when a request for a change in the applicable maximum price is pending, but only if the authorization is necessary to promote distribution or production and if it will not interfere with the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended. The authorization may be given by the Administrator or by the official of the Office of Price Administration to whom the authority to grant such authorization has been delegated. The authorization will be given by order, except that it may be given by letter or telegram when the contemplated revision will be the granting of an individual application for adjustment.

(b) Persons who have evidence of any violation of this Revised Price Schedule No. 18 or any price schedule, regulation or order issued by the Office of Price Administration or of any acts or practices which constitute such a violation are urged to communicate with the nearest field or regional office of the Office of Price Administration or its principal office in Washington, D. The maximum prices set forth above are for burlap sold or delivered in quantities of 25 bales or more and apply to all sales and deliveries to bag manufacturers even though the quantity is less than 25 bales. For burlap sold in quantities of less than 25 bales to a person other than a bag manufacturer the maximum prices f. o. b. shipping point shall be the maximum prices listed in the table above plus 10% thereof, plus applicable rail freight at carload rates on import shipments from port of entry to the shipping point.

The maximum prices set forth above include all brokerage charges and commissions paid to any person. These prices are based on an ocean freight rate from India to U. S. port of discharge of $25.00 per 40 cubic feet or $25.00 per 16 cwt. and must be adjusted downward to reflect any downward change in this rate. Charges actually paid for ocean freight in excess of the amounts specified above may be added to the maximum prices set forth: Provided, That if any such excess ocean freight charges are added to the applicable maximum price, an invoice or similar document shall be delivered to the purchaser showing the amount of such charges.

[Paragraph (a) amended by Am. 8, effective 3–9–46]

(b) (1) Sales by an agency of the United States Government. The maximum prices at which an agency of the United States Government may sell and deliver burlap of the constructions described in paragraph (a), above, shall be the prices specified in the table therein except that such prices shall be ex dock, purchaser's normal port of entry. If the burlap is supplied to the purchaser from a point other than the purchaser's normal port of entry, or at the purchaser's normal port of entry in a less-than-carload quantity, an adjustment shall be made in the price charged so that the total of the price charged for the burlap plus the applicable rail freight (exclusive of the federal tax on transportation) from such point to the city or town in which the purchaser's plant is located does not exceed the sum of the applicable price specified in the table contained in paragraph (a) plus rail freight at the carload import rate (exclusive of the federal tax on transportation) chargeable for an identical shipment from the purchaser's normal port of entry to the city or town in which the purchaser's plant is located.

The term "purchaser's normal port of entry" means the burlap port of entry having the lowest carload import rail rate to the city or town in which the purchaser's plant is located.

[Above text of paragraph (b) designated subparagraph (1)* and (2) added by Am. 8, effective 3-9-46]

(2) Sales of less than 25 bales. The maximum prices at which an agency of the United States Government may sell and deliver burlap of the constructions described in paragraph (a), above, in quantities of less than 25 bales to a person other than a bag manufacturer shall be the prices specified in the table therein plus 10%, thereof, plus freight charges authorized in paragraph (b) (1) of the schedule.

(c) Sales of less than one bale. The maximum prices established by Revised Price Schedule No. 18 do not apply to burlap sold in quantities of less than one bale.

[§ 1339.12 added by Am. 4, 8 F.R. 14311, effective 10-25-43; amended by Am. 7, 10 F.R. 13527, 14257, effective 10-30-45 and as otherwise noted]

MISCELLANEOUS AMENDMENTS

1. Section 257.1 is amended by inserting in the first sentence immediately preceding the word "authorizes" the words "as amended by the act of July 14, 1945 (Public Law 146, 79th Congress)," and by substituting for the last sentence thereof the following: "The act applies to public lands in Alaska, and permits employees of the Department of the Interior stationed in Alaska, in the discretion of the Secretary, to purchase or lease one tract for any purpose under the act, except as a business site."

2. Section 257.8 is amended to read as follows:

§ 257.8 Occupancy; preference right of applicant; action on application. The filing of an application hereunder confers no right upon the applicant to settle upon, use, or occupy the land and all persons are cautioned not to make such settlement, and not to use or occupy the land prior to the issuance of a lease or a certificate of sale.

Where an application is regularly filed pursuant to these regulations prior to the time the register is notified by the General Land Office that the area is under consideration for small trust classification, a preference right to lease or purchase will be accorded if the land is thereafter classified for the type of site for which application has been made.

Application filed subsequent to the receipt of such notice by the register shall be acted upon and disposed of in accordance with the terms of the respective classification orders.

3. Section 257.9 is amended to read as follows:

Applications to renew such leases may be acted upon by the register, and such renewal leases issued by him, for periods not exceeding five years, provided the land then is classified for such purpose. The register may approve assignments of such leases and subleases of such leased lands. All other leases, including those for business sites, and renewals thereof will be issued, and all assignments and subleases thereof approved, by the Commissioner.

4. Section 257.22 is amended to read as follows:

§ 257.22 Renewal of lease; preference rights. Upon the filing of an application for the renewal of a lease, not more than six months or less than sixty days prior to its expiration, the lessee will be accorded the preference right to a new lease, upon such terms and for such duration as may be fixed by the appropriate officer designated in § 257.9, if the terms of the lease have been complied with and it is determined that a new lease should be granted. A lessee who is entitled to a renewal lease will be accorded a preference right to purchase the land upon the expiration of the lease, if the Secretary, in his discretion, authorizes the sale of the land and an application to purchase is seasonably filed.

[Rev. SO 119, Order 99]

INDIANAPOLIS STOVE CO.

ADJUSTMENT OF CEILING PRICES

For the reasons set forth in an opinion issued simultaneously herewith and filed with the Division of the Federal Register, and pursuant to sections 15 and 16 of Revised Supplementary Order No. 119, it is ordered:

(a) Manufacturer's ceiling prices. The Indianapolis Stove Company, 1255 Roosevelt Avenue, Indianapolis 7, Ind., may increase by no more than 9.8 percent its ceiling prices to each class of purchaser for the coal and coal and wood cooking and heating stoves which it manufactures.

(b) Reseller's ceiling prices. Resellers of such articles which the manufacturer has sold at the adjusted ceiling prices permitted by paragraph (a) above, shall determine their ceiling prices as follows:

(1) If resales of the article are covered by the General Maximum Price Regulation a reseller shall calculate his ceiling price by adding to his invoice cost the same percentage markup which he has on the "most comparable article" for which he has a properly established ceiling price. For this purpose the "most comparable article" is the one which meets all of the following tests:

(i) It belongs to the narrowest trade category which includes the article being priced.

(ii) Both it and the article being priced were purchased from the same class of supplier.

(iii) Both it and the article being priced belong to a class of articles to which, according to customary trade practices, an approximately uniform percentage markup is applied.

(iv) Its net replacement cost is nearest to the net cost of the article being priced.

The determination of a ceiling price in this way need not be reported to the Office of Price Administration; however, each seller must keep complete records showing all the information called for by OPA Form 620-759 with regard to how he determined his ceiling price, for so long as the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended remains in effect.

If the maximum resale price cannot be determined under the above method the reseller shall apply to the Office of Price Administration for the establishment of a ceiling price under § 1499.3 (c) of the General Maximum Price Regulation. Ceiling prices established under that section will reflect the supplier's prices as adjusted in accordance with this order.

(2) If resales of the article are covered by Maximum Price Regulation No. 210, a reseller shall calculate his ceiling price by adding to his invoice cost for the article the same "initial percentage markup" which he used to establish his ceiling prices for that commodity under Maximum Price Regulation No. 210. The terms "initial percentage markup" as used in this order is defined in § 1372.102 of Maximum Price Regulation No. 210.

If the seller has no "initial percentage markup" because he was not engaged in selling heating stoves during the last six month of 1941, his maximum price shall be the same as the maximum price set, under this order for the same article by the most closely competitive seller of the same class who has established such a maximum price.

(c) Terms of sale. Ceiling prices adjusted by this order are subject to each seller's terms, discounts, and allowances on sales to each class of purchaser in effect during March 1942, or thereafter properly established under OPA regulations.

(d) Notification. At the time of, or prior to the first invoice to a purchaser for resale on or after the effective date of this order, showing prices adjusted in accordance with this order, the seller shall notify the purchaser in writing of the method established in paragraph (b) of this order for determining adjusted ceiling prices for resale of the articles. This notice may be given in any convenient form.

(e) This order may be revoked or amended by the Price Administrator at any time.

(f) This order shall become effective on the 2d day of March 1946.

Issued this 1st day of March 1946.

PAUL A. PORTER,
Administrator.

CRESCENT PUBLIC SERVICE CO., ET AL.

MEMORANDUM FINDINGS AND ORDER

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission, held at its office in the City of Philadelphia, Pa., on the 27th day of February A. D. 1946.

In the matters of Crescent Public Service Co., Central Ohio Light & Power Co., Colorado Central Power Co., Empire Southern Service Co., Helene Curley Rea, Robert W. Rea, Floyd W. Woodcock, Kathleen T. Woodcock, Robin Corp., applicants, File No. 54-108; Crescent Public Service Co., Central Ohio Light & Power Co., Colorado Central Power Co., Empire Southern Service Co., respondents, File No. 59-81.

Crescent Public Service Company ("Crescent"), a registered holding company, and certain of its subsidiary companies and affiliates have filed an application and amendments thereto pursuant to the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 for approval of a plan whose stated purpose was to effect compliance by Crescent and its subsidiary companies with the provisions of section 11 (b) of the act.

This Commission in its Findings and Opinion dated January 22, 1946,[1] and its Supplemental Findings and Order dated February 1, 1946,[2] among other things required, pursuant to section 11 (b) (1) of the act, that Crescent dispose of its interests in Colorado Central Power Company ("Colorado Central"), approved the plan, as amended, and granted and permitted to become effective forthwith the applications and declarations of Crescent and Colorado Central regarding the proposed surrender by Crescent to Colorado Central and the acquisition and cancellation by Colorado Central of the presently outstanding 10,000 shares of common stock of Colorado Central without par value, the issue and sale by Colorado Central and the acquisition by Crescent of 43,750 shares of new common stock of Colorado Central, par value $10 per share, and certain amendments to the charter of Colorado Central. Jurisdiction was reserved with respect to the proposed sale by Crescent of the 43,750 shares of Colorado Central common stock.

Crescent requested the Commission to apply to a court to enforce and carry out the terms and conditions of the plan, and after a hearing before the District Court of the United States for the District of Delaware, the plan was approved and ordered to be enforced by Court Order dated February 21, 1946.

Thereafter, the hearing before this Commission was reopened, and Crescent filed an amendment to its declaration pursuant to section 12 (d) of the act and Rules U-44 and U-50 with respect to the proposed sale at competitive bidding of the 43,750 shares of new common stock of Colorado Central. This amendment includes the prospectus and bidding papers filed by Crescent pursuant to the Securities Act of 1933. Having considered the record, the Commission makes the following findings:

Colorado Central was organized in 1926 under the laws of Delaware and is engaged in the transmission and distribution of electric energy to approximately 10,480 customers in 15 communities in Colorado. The company's operations are conducted in three service areas known as the Golden, Englewood and Fort Lupton Districts, which are not adjacent to one another. Englewood, the principal community served, is a suburb of Denver. All the company's power requirements are purchased under contract from the nonaffiliated electric utility company serving the City of Denver.

Table I below is a condensed balance sheet of Colorado Central as of October 31, 1945, giving effect to the recapitalization previously approved:

The known intangibles included in the account amount to $99,610, representing organization expense of $18,900 and cost of financing of $80,710. A restatement of the property account at original cost has been required by the Public Utilities Commission of Colorado, in accordance with the Uniform System of Accounts adopted by that Commission.[4] The Colorado Commision has granted an extension of time to July 1, 1946, with respect to the completion of such restatement.

[3] The acquisition of properties in 1926 from predecessor companies and the accounting therefor are discussed in Colorado Central Power Company, 4 S.E.C. 763, 765-7 (1939). It there appears that the appraised value recorded by Colorado Central was less than arm's-length cost of the properties, but exceeded predecessor companies' book values by approximately $630,000.

[4] The company's prospectus states that the Colorado Commission may require the Company, upon completion of its original cost study, to write off in whole or in part the excess, if any, of the Plant, Property and Equipment account over original cost, to Earned or Capital Surplus or by annual amortization charges over a period of years.

It appears that the procedure of sale to be followed by Crescent conforms with the provisions of Rule U-50 (b), and that the proposed transaction would be a step in consummation of the plan approved by this Commission and the District Court, and in compliance with the requirements of the divestment order entered pursuant to section 11 (b) (1) of the act. Subject to reservation of jurisdiction as to fees and expenses, and to subsequent consideration of the price and other terms of the sale to be determined by competitive bidding we find that the proposed transaction satisfies the standards of section 12 (d) and the Commission's rules promulgated thereunder.

It is therefore ordered, That the declaration of Crescent Public Service Company, as amended, with respect to the proposed sale at competitive bidding of 43,750 shares of the common stock of Colorado Central Power Company be and the same hereby is permitted to become effective forthwith subject to the terms and conditions prescribed in Rule U-24 and to the following further conditions:

(1) That the proposed sale of said shares shall not be consummated until the results of competitive bidding pursuant to Rule U-50 shall have been made a matter of record in this proceeding and a further order shall have been entered by this commission in the light of the record so completed, which order may contain such further terms and conditions as may then be deemed appropriate;

(2) That jurisdiction be and the same hereby is reserved with respect to the payment of all fees and expenses in connection with the proposed transactions, including the fees and expenses of counsel for the successful bidders.

ORDER GRANTING APPLICATION AND PERMITTING DECLARATION TO BECOME EFFECTIVE

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission, held at its office in the City of Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, on the 28th day of February, A. D. 1946.

In the matter of Hope Engineering Company, O. P. Wilson and Sumner Cottingham, voting trustees under "The Rio Grande Valley Gas Company," common stock voting trust agreement of December 12, 1936, Rio Grande Valley Gas Company; File No. 70-1217.

Hope Engineering Company ("Hope"), a registered holding company, O. P. Wilson and Sumner Cottingham, Voting Trustees under "The Rio Grande Valley Gas Company Common Stock Voting Trust Agreement of December 12, 1936" ("Trustees"), also a registered holding company and a subsidiary of Hope, and Rio Grande Valley Gas Company ("Rio of Delaware"), a Delaware corporation, a gas utility company and a subsidiary of Hope and Trustees, having filed a joint application-declaration and amendments thereto pursuant to the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 and the Rules and Regulations promulgated thereunder, relating to the following transactions:

The applicants-declarants propose to organize a new corporation, Rio Grande Valley Gas Company ("Rio of Texas") in the State of Texas, the State in which Rio of Delaware conducts its business, with an authorized capital of $10,000 consisting of 10,000 shares of Common Stock, $1 par value. Rio of Delaware proposes to acquire said 10,000 shares and sell to Rio of Texas all of its assets subpect to all of its liabilities. The authorized capital of Rio of Texas will then be increased to $2,080,376, consisting of common stock, $1 par value. Rio of Delaware proposes to acquire the additional 2,070,376 shares of the common stock of Rio of Texas, which will assume all the liabilities of Rio of Delaware including the $2,293,000 principal amount of First Mortgage Bonds, Series A, 4%, due April 1, 1961, and $87,000 principal amount of First Mortgage Bonds, Series B, 4%, due October 1, 1961, which are presently outstanding in the hands of Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance Company.

As soon as practicable after said acquisitions and sales are consummated, Rio of Delaware proposes to dissolve pursuant to Delaware law and to distribute to its stockholders the 2,086,376 shares of Common Stock of Rio of Texas. Rio of Delaware proposes to solicit from all holders of its presently outstanding Common Stock, $1 par value, proxies authorizing the holder thereof to vote for the sale of assets of dissolution hereinbefore recited.

The trustees propose, if and when so authorized by an affirmative vote of two-thirds of Rio of Delaware's Common Stock, to authorize the distribution of the shares of common stock of Rio of Texas the voting trust certificate holders in exchange for such certificates (holders of voting trust certificates voting as stockholders).

Hope proposes to solicit authorizations which will permit Hope, pursuant to West Virginia General Corporation law, formally to reduce Hope's capital to its present book figure of $211,225 by formally retiring 1,305½ shares of its $100 par value preferred stock and 17,669 shares of its no par value common stock (stated value $25 per share) formerly issued and outstanding but reacquired by Hope prior to September 4, 1941, and retired per books. Hope further proposes to sell on the New York Curb Exchange voting trust certificates representing 3,044 shares of common stock $1 par value of Rio of Delaware in order to reduce its holdings to an amount (836,451 shares) which will be evenly divisible by 8,449, the number of outstanding shares of stock of Hope. Hope proposes then to declare a dividend upon its outstanding stock payable in shares of common stock, $1 par value of Rio of Texas at the rate of 99 shares of such common stock per share of stock of Hope.

The applicants-declarants having requested that the Commission condition its order herein upon the distribution to the stockholders and voting trust certificate holders of Rio of Delaware and the stockholders of Hope, within 90 days after the date of entry of its order, of the shares of common stock of Rio of Texas which are to be received by Rio of Delaware and Hope, respectively; and having further requested that the Commission's order herein include recitals and specifications conforming to the requirements of sections 371 and 1808 of the Internal Revenue Code as amended; and

Said application-declaration having been filed on the 10th day of January and the last amendment thereto having been filed on the 28th day of February, 1946, and notice of said filing having been duly given in the form and manner prescribed by Rule U-23 promulgated pursuant to said act, and the Commission not having received a request for a hearing with respect to said joint application-declaration within the period specified in said notice or otherwise, and not having ordered a hearing thereon; and

The Commission finding that the proposed transactions are not in contravention of the act or any rules or regulations promulgated thereunder, that the proposed transactions satisfy the requirements of sections 7, 10, 12 (c), 12 (d), 12 (e) and 12 (f) of the act and of the applicable rules thereunder, that it is appropriate in the public interest and in the interests of investors and consumers that said application be granted and said declaration be permitted to become effective subject to the conditions hereinafter set forth, and that the proposed transactions are necessary and appropriate to the integration or simplification of the holding company system of which Hope, the Trustees and Rio of Delaware are members, and of which Rio of Texas will become a member, and to effectuate the requirements of section 11 (b) of the act,

It is hereby ordered, Pursuant to said Rule U-23 and the applicable provisions of said act that the aforesaid application be and the same hereby is, granted, and that the aforesaid declaration be, and the same hereby is, permitted to become effective, subject to the terms and conditions prescribed in Rule U-24, and subject to the further condition that the distribution to the stockholders and voting trust certificate holders of Rio of Delaware and the stockholders of Hope, of the shares of Common Stock of Rio of Texas which they are to receive, be effected within 90 days after the date of entry of this order.

It is further ordered and recited, That the following transactions are necessary or appropriate to the integration or simplification of the holding company system of which Hope Engineering Company, O. P. Wilson and Sumner Cottingham, voting Trustees under "The Rio Grande Valley Gas Company Common Stock Voting Trust Agreement of December 12, 1936" and Rio Grande Valley Gas Company ("Rio of Delaware") are a part, and of which Rio Grande Valley Gas Company ("Rio of Texas"), will become a part, and are necessary and appropriate to effectuate the provisions of section 11 (b) of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 and are hereby required, authorized, permitted or approved to effectuate the provisions of said section 11 (b):

1. The issuance by Rio of Texas of 10,000 shares of its common stock, $1 par value, and the sale thereof to, and the acquisition thereof by, Rio of Delaware for a cash consideration of $10,000.

2. The transfer and conveyance by Rio of Delaware to Rio of Texas of all of the assets, including all of the real property, of Rio of Delaware (except the 10,000 shares of the common stock, $1 par value, of Rio of Texas referred to in the preceding paragraph); the acquisition thereof by Rio of Texas; and the issuance of Rio of Texas in exchange therefor of 2,070,376 additional shares of the common stock, $1 par value of Rio of Texas, and the assumption by Rio of Texas of liability upon $2,293,000 principal amount of First Mortgage Bonds, Series A 4%, due April 1, 1961, and $87,000 principal amount of First Mortgage Bonds, Series B 4%, due October 1, 1961, of Rio of Delaware.

3. The transfer by Rio of Delaware of the 2,080,376 shares of the common stock, $1 par value, of Rio of Texas referred to in subparagraphs 1 and 2 above, to the holders of the 2,080,376 shares of the common stock, $1 par value of Rio of Delaware, or of voting trust certificates therefor, as the case may be, then outstanding, in exchange for such shares or voting trust certificates, upon the dissolution of Rio of Delaware, and the acquisition by Hope Engineering Company from Rio of Delaware of 836,451 of said 2,080,376 shares of the common stock, $1 par value of Rio of Texas in exchange for voting trust certificates representing 836,451 shares of the common stock, $1 par value, of Rio of Delaware held by Hope Engineering Company.

4. The sale and transfer by Hope Engineering Company through a broker, on the New York Curb Exchange, of voting trust certificates representing 3,044 shares of the common stock, $1 par value, of Rio of Delaware, at the current market price thereof, in order to reduce its holdings to a figure (to wit, 836,451) which will be evenly divisible by 8,449, the number of outstanding shares of no par value common stock of Hope Engineering Company.

5. The transfer and distribution by Hope Engineering Company to the holders of the 8,449 outstanding shares of its no par value Common Stock of said 836,451 shares of the Common Stock, $1 par value, of Rio of Texas referred to in paragraph 3 above, at the rate of 99 shares of such common stock, $1 par value, for each share of no par value common stock of Hope Engineering Company, such distribution to be made without the surrender of said shares of no par value common stock of Hope Engineering Company by the holders of such shares.

Hope and the Trustees having applied for an order pursuant to section 5 (d) of the act, declaring that they have respectively ceased to be holding companies, upon consummation of the transactions recited above;

It is further ordered, That jurisdiction be, and it hereby is, reserved with respect to said applications pursuant to section 5 (d) of the act.

PART 944—REGULATIONS APPLICABLE TO THE OPERATION OF THE PRIORITIES SYSTEM

[Priorities Regulation 28, Direction 8, as amended March 1, 1946]

SPECIAL PROVISIONS FOR THE ASSIGNMENT OF CC RATINGS IN ORDER TO INCREASE THE MANUFACTURE OF CONCRETE BUILDING PRODUCTS AND TO INCREASE THE MANUFACTURE AND ASSURE THE MAINTENANCE OF CONCRETE BUILDING PRODUCTS MACHINERY AND EQUIPMENT

Priorities Regulation 28, Direction 8 is hereby amended to read as follows:

(a) The supply of concrete building products is dependent upon the maintenance and expansion of existing plants producing such products and the construction of new plants. The supply of concrete building products and of special concrete products machinery is substantially less than present and anticipated requirements for housing construction. This shortage is therefore a serious threat to the economy of the country during the reconversion period. Consequently, CPA will assign CC ratings as provided in paragraph (d) (1) (iii) of Priorities Regulation 28 in accordance with the conditions of this direction where necessary to maintain or expand the production of concrete building products and of special concrete products machinery.

(b) Definitions. For the purpose of this direction. (1) "Concrete building products" means light weight and heavy weight aggregate concrete blocks and cement brick.

(2) "Special concrete products machinery" means machinery and equipment of a general type designed solely for the production of concrete building products and useful only for that purpose (such as concrete block and brick machines and attachments, including concrete mixers and skip loaders as commonly used in the concrete products industry), but does not include general types of equipment suitable for other use even though a particular piece of equipment is designed and built expressly for the concrete products manufacturer (e. g., an electric motor built by a motor manufacturer specifically for a concrete block manufacturer).

(3) "Light weight aggregates" means cinders, burned clay or shale, and blast furnace slag.

(c) Manufacturers of concrete building products—(1) Capital equipment. CC ratings may be assigned to manufacturers of concrete building products for capital equipment other than "special concrete products machinery" where the manufacturer is unable to obtain delivery without a rating, and:

(i) The equipment will result in a substantial increase in production, or

(ii) The equipment is needed to replace present operating equipment which is in danger of imminent break-down. CC ratings will be assigned to the delivery of "special concrete products machinery" only under the provisions of Priorities Regulation 28.

(2) Construction. CC ratings may be assigned for materials which cannot be obtained without ratings, where required for construction of new plants and expansion of existing plants in order to secure increased production.

(3) Certain production materials and MRO. CC ratings may be assigned to manufactures of concrete building products to obtain light weight aggregates as production materials, and for MRO, where the manufacturer demonstrates that he is unable to obtain the item without priorities assistance, but regardless of whether the item is needed to maintain minimum economic production in the plant.

(d) Manufacturers of "special concrete products machinery". (1) Production materials and MRO. CC ratings may be assigned to manufacturers of "special concrete products machinery" for production materials (including those to be sold as maintenance, repair and operating supplies for such machinery) and MRO, where the manufacturer of the concrete products machinery demonstrates that he is unable to obtain delivery of the minimum amount at the latest date practicable without a rating.

(2) Capital equipment. CC ratings for capital equipment for the machinery manufacturer will be assigned only as provided in Priorities Regulation 28.

(e) Denials of CC ratings. The CC rating will be denied where it appears that the item for which a CC rating will be used is available, but under different terms of sale or from a supplier other than the applicant's customary supplier.

(f) Priorities Regulation 28 still applies. In any case not covered by the above, CC ratings will be assigned only as provided in Priorities Regulation 28.

[Conservation Order M-81, Revocation of Direction 9]

SPECIAL RESTRICTIONS ON USE OF TIN PLATE AND DELIVERY AND USE OF TIN PLATE CANS

Direction 9 to Conservation Order M-81 is hereby revoked. This revocation does not affect any liabilities incurred for violation of the direction or of actions taken by the Civilian Production Administration under the direction. The direction is superseded by Order M-81, as amended simultaneously with this revocation.

PART 3270—CONTAINERS

[Conservation Order M-81 as Amended March 1, 1946]

CANS

Section 3270.31 Conservation Order M-81 is amended to read as follows:

The fulfillment of requirements for the defense of the United States has created a shortage in the supply of materials entering into the manufacture of cans for defense, for private account and for export, and the following order is deemed necessary and appropriate in the public interest and to promote the national defense.

§ 3270.31 Conservation Order M-81—(a) What this order does. This order establishes the sequence of manufacture and delivery, and limits the use of cans made of tinplate, terneplate or blackplate. The order lists in Schedule I the only products which may be packed in tinplate, terneplate, or blackplate cans. Certain exceptions are stated in paragraphs (h), (i), (j), and (k).

(b) Definitions. For the purpose of this order:

(1) "Can" means any unused container made in whole or in part of tinplate, terneplate, or blackplate, which is suitable for packing any product. The term includes any container which has a closure or fitting, made in whole or in part of tinplate, terneplate or blackplate, but does not include a glass container having such a closure or fitting. The term does not include fluid milk shipping containers.

(2) "Tinplate" means steel sheets coated with tin (including primes and seconds) and includes (i) electrolytic tinplate in which the tin coating is applied by electrolytic deposition, and (ii) hot dipped tinplate in which the tin coatings are applied by immersion in molten tin. The term includes hot dipped tinplate waste-waste, but not electrolytic tinplate waste-waste or tinplate waste.

(3) "Terneplate" means steel sheets coated with terne metal (including primes and seconds). The term does not include terneplate waste-waste or terneplate waste. "Terne metal" means the lead-tin alloy used as the coating for terneplate but does not include lead recovered from secondary sources which contains not more than 2½ percent residual tin.

(4) "SCMT" means special coated manufacturers' terneplate.

(5) "Waste" means scrap tinplate and terneplate (including strips and circles) produced in the ordinary course of manufacturing cans and tinplate and terneplate strips produced in the ordinary course of manufacturing tinplate and terneplate. The term also includes tinplate and terneplate parts recovered from used cans.

(6) "Waste-waste" means hot dipped or electrolytic tin-coated steel sheets or steel sheets coated with terne metal which have been rejected during processing by the producer because of imperfections which disqualify such sheets from sale as primes or seconds.

(7) "Blackplate" means steel sheets (other than tinplate or terneplate) 29 gauge or lighter. The term includes "blackplate rejects", chemically treated blackplate (CTB), electrolytic tinplate waste-waste, terneplate waste-waste, tinplate waste, and terneplate waste. The term does not include hot dipped tinplate waste-waste.

RESTRICTIONS ON CAN MANUFACTURERS

(c) General restrictions on sale, manufacture and delivery. No person shall sell, manufacture or deliver any cans which he knows, or has reason to believe, will be accepted or used in violation of any provision of this order.

(d) Manufacturing and delivery preferences for certain types of cans. (1) Can manufacturers must disregard preference ratings (except AAA) in accepting and filling orders for cans.

(2) Every can manufacturer must regard each of his requirements contracts as an order calling for delivery of cans in the quantities and at the times he reasonably anticipates will be requested under the contract, based on past experience under the same or similar contracts. (A "requirements contract" is a contract under which a purchaser of cans agrees to buy his entire requirements of cans from a certain can manufacturer for a stated period without specifying the delivery dates on which the cans will be required or the quantities which will be required.) So far as practicable every can manufacturer shall schedule his operations (including his ordering of tinplate, terneplate and blackplate) so as to permit delivery of cans in the quantities and at the times he reasonably anticipates will be requested. Where he is unable to schedule all orders for cans for delivery at the time he anticipates will be requested, he should schedule his operations and select the orders to be placed in his production schedule according to the following preference:

(i) Anticipated requirements for cans to pack products designated with the letter A in Column 2 of Schedule I, or cans for home canning made under paragraph (j).

(ii) Anticipated requirements for cans to pack products designated with the letter B in Column 2 of Schedule I.

(iii) Anticipated requirements for cans to pack products designated with the letter C in Column 2 of Schedule I.

(3) A can manufacturer must not wait until he receives actual delivery orders under his requirements contracts before giving those contracts the preferential treatment described in paragraph (d) (2). Also he must not fill any orders for cans with lower preference designations if by doing so he will make himself unable to meet deliveries which he reasonably anticipates will be requested for cans with a higher preference.

(e) Completion and sale of outdated cans. Whenever can material specifications for a product are changed by an amendment to this order, a can manufacturer must continue to sell, make and deliver cans for that product (subject to the preferences of paragraph (d)) in accordance with the former specifications and must not make any cans conforming to the new specifications as long as there is available to him tinplate, terneplate, or blackplate which was intended for use under the former specifications, and which was in process at the tin mill or in its inventory for his account, or in his own inventory on the date of the change.

(f) Certificate for deliveries of cans. No can manufacturer shall sell, make or deliver any cans unless he has received from the purchaser after March 1, 1946, a certificate signed manually or as provided in Priorities Regulation 7. This certificate shall be in substantially the following form and once filed by a purchaser with a supplier, covers all future deliveries from the supplier to that purchaser:

The undersigned purchaser certifies, subject to criminal penalties for misrepresentation, that he is familiar with Order M-81 of the Civilian Production Administration, and that all purchases from you of items regulated by that order, and the use of the cans by the undersigned, will be in compliance with that order.

The standard certificate described in Priorities Regulation 7 may not be used in place of this certificate. Any person who has given a certificate under this order before March 1, 1946, need not file a new certificate until March 14, 1946.

RESTRICTIONS ON CAN USERS

(g) General restrictions on use of cans. No person may use a tinplate, terneplate, or blackplate can for any purpose other than for packing the products listed in Schedule I in accordance with the packing quota, size and material limitations set forth in that schedule. The only exceptions to this rule are set forth in paragraphs (h) through (k).

(h) Exception for small users. Any person whose total use of cans for packing in any calendar year requires less than 250 base boxes of tinplate and terneplate may use cans with the soldered parts made from 0.25 electrolytic tinplate for packing any food product, except animal food (see paragraph (l)). Such small users are exempt from packing quotas for tinplate or terneplate cans.

(i) Exception for persons without quotas. Where a packing quota is established in Schedule I for a particular product, any person who did not pack that product during the base period stated may continue to pack it until March 14, 1946 without regard to the packing quota. If he wants to pack that product after that date, he must apply for a quota by filing a letter in duplicate with the Civilian Production Administration, Washington 25, D. C., Ref: M–81. This letter should state what product or products he wants to pack and what facilities he has for this purpose. Civilian Production Administration will assign a quota to him on an equitable basis in view of the quotas of other packers in the industry.

(j) Exception for products which are not to be sold. Cans may be used to pack any product which is not to be sold in the same or different form, but this does not permit the use of cans contrary to the other provisions of the order for the purpose of advertising or promoting the sale of a product.

As explained in paragraph (d) a can manufacturer shall schedule requirements of cans produced for home canning under this paragraph in accordance with preference "A". Any other cans produced under this paragraph shall be scheduled in accordance with preference "C".

(k) Exception for cans permitted before an amendment. Whenever can material specifications for a product are changed by an amendment to this order, any person may pack that product in any can which was permitted before the amendment if the can, or the tinplate, terneplate, or blackplate incorporated in it, was in his inventory, in the inventory of the can manufacturer, or in process or in inventory at a tin mill for the account of the can manufacturer on the date of the amendment. A packer must accept and use (within quota) any outdated cans for any product produced under paragraph (e) which the can manufacturer offers to him before using any cans for that product produced under the new specifications.

(l) Prohibition against use of tinplate for cans for animal food. No person shall use cans with any part made of tinplate, tinplate waste-waste, or tinplate waste, for packing any food which is not intended and suitable for human consumption. The use of such cans for animal and pet food is not permitted.

MISCELLANEOUS

(m) Appeals. Appeals from this order shall be filed by addressing a letter in triplicate to the Civilian Production Administration, Washington 25, D. C., Ref: M–81. The letter of appeal need not follow any particular form. It should state informally, but completely, the provisions appealed from, the precise relief desired, the reasons why denial of the appeal would result in undue and excessive hardship, and such other statistical and narrative information as may be pertinent.

(n) Communications. All communications concerning this order shall, unless otherwise directed, be addressed to: Civilian Production Administration, Washington 25, D. C., Ref: M–81.

(o) Violations. Any person who willfully violates any provision of this order or who, in connection with this order willfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further delivery of, or from processing or using, material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

Issued this 1st day of March 1946.

CIVILIAN PRODUCTION ADMINISTRATION,
By J. JOSEPH WHELAN,
Recording Secretary.

SCHEDULE I

Column 1. Listed products. Listed in this column are the only products, which may be packed in cans. Certain exceptions are stated in paragraphs (h), (i), (j), and (k).

Column 2. Sequence of manufacture and delivery. This column indicates the sequence which a can manufacturer must follow in the manufacture and delivery of cans permitted by this order. (see paragraph (d)).

Column 3. Packing quotas. (a) This column indicates the permitted packing quotas for the respective listed products. The quotas for the respective products are not interchangeable unless so noted. Where the word "unlimited" appears in the column opposite a particular product this means that a packer may use the specified cans in an unlimited quantity to pack that particular product. Where the permitted packing quota is specified as, for example, "100%–1945" this means that the packer's packing quota for the particular product for the calendar year 1946 is 100% of the quantity, by area of measurement of tinplate, terneplate and blackplate used by him for packing the particular product during the base year specified (1945 in the above example). Cans used for packing any product for U. S. Army or Navy use are exempt from the quota restrictions, and, in determining the packing quota for any product, all cans packed for these agencies during the base period specified shall be excluded.

(b) In addition to the general quota restrictions described above, from March 1 to September 30, 1946, no packer may use or accept delivery in any calendar month, or order for delivery in any calendar month, more cans for a product with a packing quota than 10% of his 1946 quota for that product. This monthly limit does not apply to any person whose total use of cans in 1946 does not exceed one carload. Also it does not require any person to order or accept delivery of cans in less than carload lots.

(c) For products designated with the letter "B" in Column 2 the quota restrictions apply to all cans for that product (including any cans made wholly of blackplate); except that any packer may order, accept delivery of, and use cans made wholly of blackplate in addition to his quota if he notifies the can manufacturer in writing that these additional cans are to be scheduled in accordance with preference "C".

(d) For products designated with the letter "C" in Column 2, the quota restrictions do not apply to cans made wholly of blackplate.

Column 4. Can sizes. This column indicates the permitted sizes of cans, except that any person may use for packing any listed product a can which is larger than the largest listed size for packing that product. Wherever the can size is specified by weight, the weight referred to shall be net weight of the contents of the can. Other can sizes are described in the terminology common to the industry such as "cylinder", "picnic", "oval", "drawn", "tall", "2", "10", "8Z", etc.

Columns 5 and 6. Can materials. These columns specify the materials permitted for the soldered and nonsoldered parts of the cans for each of the listed products. Any person may also use for packing a listed product blackplate cans or cans with a tin coating lighter than that specified for that product. Hot dipped tinplate waste-waste may be used wherever 0.50 or heavier tinplate is specified. Wherever "CTB" (chemically treated blackplate) is specified for food products 0.50 electrolytic tinplate may be substituted where such cans are to be delivered to the Army or the Navy for overseas use; however, where in such cases the cans are to pack listed meat products, 1.25 tinplate may be substituted. Wherever SCMT is specified, 0.25 electrolytic tinplate may be used. When only a figure is given in Column 5 or Column 6, this means that tinplate may be used for the part, and the figure given indicates the maximum weight of tin coating per single base box. Menders arising in the production of 0.50 electrolytic tinplate, which have been hot dipped with a maximum tin coating of 1.25 pounds per base box, may be used wherever 0.50 or heavier tinplate is specified in these columns. Menders arising in the production of 0.25 electrolytic tinplate which have been converted into SCMT may be used wherever 0.25 or heavier tinplate is specified in this order for nonfood cans. When a scored can is used to pack any of the meat products listed in this schedule, 1.25 tinplate may be used for the body of the can.

The following amended direction is issued pursuant to General Preference Order M-21:

(a) What this direction does. The general work stoppages at steel plants have caused a serious curtailment in supplies of tin mill products. This direction requires producers of tin mill products to concentrate on production of tin mill products suitable for use in making cans and closures, giving special preference to orders for tin mill products which will be used to make cans used to pack perishable or seasonal food products, drugs, medicinals or biologicals (designated with the letter A in Column 2 of Schedule I to Order M-81), or which will be used to make closures for glass containers used to pack foods for human consumption (including milk, and vegetable and fruit juices, but not alcoholic or non-alcoholic beverages), drugs, medicinals or biologicals.

The direction also contains special restrictions on the delivery of tin mill products.

(b) Definitions. As used in this direction:

(1) "Tin mill products" means tin plate, terne plate, or tin mill black plate.

(2) "Tin plate" means hot dipped or electrolytic tin plate including primes and seconds but not waste-waste or waste.

(3) "Terne plate" means steel sheets coated with terne metal including primes and seconds but not waste-waste or waste.

(4) "Tin mill black plate" means black plate produced on tin mill equipment in gauges No. 29 and lighter.

(5) "Can" means any unused container made in whole or in part of tin plate or terne plate, which is suitable for packing any product. The term includes any container which has a closure or fitting, made in whole or in part of tin plate or terne plate, but does not include a glass container having such a closure or fitting. The term does not include fluid milk shipping containers.

(6) "Closure" means any new sealing or covering device affixed or to be affixed to a glass container for the purpose of retaining the contents within the container. The term shall not include bulbs or droppers for medicinal bottles.

(c) Sequence in scheduling orders for tin mill products: (1) So far as is practicable each producer of tin mill products shall schedule his operations so as to achieve maximum production of tin mill products suitable for use in making cans of the type described in Schedule I to Order M-81, or closures. Where a producer of tin mill products is unable to schedule all orders for these products in the month for which delivery is requested, he should, in selecting the orders for these products to be placed on his production schedule, give preference to orders for tin mill products bearing either (i) a certificate in the following form, signed manually or as provided in Priorities Regulation 7 by an official duly authorized for that purpose:

I certify, subject to the penalties of Section 35A of the United States Criminal Code, that I will use these tin mill products only to make cans for products designated with the letter A in Column 2 of Schedule I to Order M-81, or to make closures for glass containers used to pack foods, for human consumption (including milk, and vegetables and fruit juices, but not alcoholic or non-alcoholic beverages), drugs, medicinals or biologicals.

or (ii) in the case of a Canadian purchaser, a certificate in substantially the following form signed manually or as provided in Priorities Regulation 7 by an official duly authorized for that purpose:

The undersigned purchaser certifies, subject to the penalties of Section 15 of the Canadian Wartime Industries Control Regulations, to the seller, to the Canadian Priorities Officer, and to the Civilian Production Administration that, to the best of his knowledge and belief, the undersigned is authorized, under applicable Canadian orders to place this delivery order, and to receive the item(s) ordered for the purpose for which ordered.

(2) No producer of tin mill products is required to schedule more than 85 percent of his total anticipated monthly production of tin mill products for orders bearing either of the certifications described in paragraph (c) (1).

(d) Special restrictions on delivery of tin mill products. No person shall deliver any tin mill products to fill uncertified orders, if doing so would interfere with his delivery of tin mill products to fill orders which he has on hand and which bear either of the certificates described in paragraph (c) (1). However, a producer of tin mill products may fill uncertified orders for tin mill products even though he still has unfilled certified orders on hand if the quantity of tin mill products delivered on uncertified orders does not exceed 15 percent of his total monthly production.

(e) Exceptions. The restrictions of paragraph (d) do not apply to any tin mill products which were in transit or loaded for shipment on March 1, 1946. Also, in the case of a producer of tin mill products, the restrictions do not apply to any tin mill products which on March 1, 1946 were ready for shipment or in process of production for a particular purchaser, if the products are of a size or specification which does not readily permit their application to certified orders without loss of production.

(f) Effect of certificates. No person giving a certificate under this direction may receive, use or dispose of the materials obtained with the certificate contrary to its terms. The standard certificate described in Priorities Regulation 7 may not be used in place of any of the certificates described in this direction.

(g) Effect of other orders. This direction does not authorize the use of tin mill products contrary to the provisions of Orders M-43 or M-81, or other applicable orders and regulations of the Civilian Production Administration.

Issued this 1st day of March 1946.

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this amendment, issued simultaneously herewith, has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.

Revised Price Schedule No. 49 is amended in the following respects:

1. In § 1306.159, a new paragraph (v) is added to read as follows:

(v) Modifications of maximum prices. Regardless of any other provisions of this Schedule, the modifications specified in this paragraph may be made in the maximum prices otherwise determined in accordance with § 1306.159.

(1) In the case of products for which maximum prices are established by reference to paragraphs (a), (b) or (c) of this § 1306.159, the amount of increases in the applicable basing point base prices or maximum prices permitted producers by Amendment 15 to Revised Price Schedule No. 6 may be added.

(2) In the case of pipe or oil country tubular goods, the maximum price may be calculated by modifying the applicable flat basing card discounts or basing point prices by the amount of the applicable increase granted producers by Amendment 15 to Revised Price Schedule No. 6.

(3) In the case of carbon and alloy tubing (other than oil country tubular goods and carbon steel pipe), the maximum price may be calculated by adding to the applicable base prices the amount of the increases in such prices permitted producers by Amendment 15 to Revised Price Schedule No. 6.

(4) In the case of tool steel, the maximum prices established in paragraphs (j) may be increased by the amount of the applicable increase granted producers by Amendment 15 to Revised Price Schedule No. 6.

(5) In the case of products for which maximum prices have been established by orders issued under paragraph (k) (1) (ii) (a), the amount of the applicable increase granted producers by Amendment 15 to Revised Price Schedule No. 6 may be added.

(6) In the case of all products not covered in subparagraphs (1) through (5) above and for which maximum prices are determined by reference to prices which the seller had in effect on a specified date, the amount of the applicable increase granted producers by Amendment 15 to Revised Price Schedule No. 6 may be added to the maximum prices otherwise established by § 1306.159.

7. That portion of § 1306.164 (d) (2) (i) immediately preceding Table B-1 is amended to read as follows:

(i) Prices at basing point (rate per 100 pounds). The price at basing points for the various grades of products shall be computed as set forth below. The result should be rounded to the second decimal place: round upward if the third decimal is 5 or greater, round downward if the third decimal place is less than 5. The mill carload base prices referred to in the following tables are such prices as established by Revised Price Schedule No. 6 prior to January 11, 1945, the effective date of Amendment No. 11 to Revised Price Schedule No. 6. Such mill carload base prices do not include any increases granted by that or subsequent amendments to that Schedule except the following: in the case of flat, galvanized and zinc coated specialty sheets, the mill carload base prices shall be the applicable mill base prices established by Revised Price Schedule No. 6 prior to January 11, 1945, plus 10 cents per 100 pounds; the increases in mill carload base prices granted producers by Amendment 15 to Revised Price Schedule No. 6, issued and effective March 1946.

8. In § 1306.165 (a) (3), the definition of "mill carload base prices" is amended to read as follows:

"Mill carload base price" means the mill carload base price established by Revised Price Schedule No. 6 prior to January 11, 1945, the effective date of Amendment No. 11 to Revised Price Schedule No. 6. The mill carload base prices referred to in this § 1306.165 do not include any increases granted by that or any subsequent amendments to that schedule except the following: In the case of cold finished carbon steel bars, the mill carload base prices include the additions granted by Amendment No. 14 to Revised Price Schedule No. 6, issued August 1, 1945, and effective August 6, 1945, or any adjustments therein made by order issued pursuant to § 1306.10 (k) (3), of that schedule; in the case of flat galvanized and zinc coated specialty sheets, the mill carload base prices shall be the applicable mill base prices established by Revised Price Schedule No. 6 prior to January 11, 1945, plus 10 cents per 100 pounds; the increases in mill carload base prices granted producers by Amendment 15 to Revised Price Schedule No. 6, issued and effective March 1, 1946.

PART 1315—RUBBER AND PRODUCTS AND MATERIALS OF WHICH RUBBER IS A COMPONENT

[MPR 477, Amdt. 15]

SALES OF RUBBER HEELS AND SOLES IN THE SHOE FACTORY AND HOME REPLACEMENT TRADES

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this amendment, issued simultaneously herewith, has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.

Maximum Price Regulation 477 is amended in the following respects:

1. Section 9a is amended to read as follows:

SEC. 9a. Maximum prices for sales of rubber heels and soles in the home replacement trade — (a) Applicability. Notwithstanding any other provision of this regulation or of the General Maximum Price Regulation or of any order previously issued under either of these regulations, this section establishes maximum prices for all sales of rubber heels and soles in the home replacement trade.

(b) Maximum prices for sales in the home replacement trade of rubber heels listed in Table I of Appendix B. The maximum prices for sales at all levels of the home replacement trade of the rubber heels listed in Table I of Appendix B are the maximum prices therefor listed in Table I of Appendix B. The prices vary depending upon whether the heel is a black or brown heel and whether the heel in question is classed as a "standard," a "competitive," or a "special competitive" grade heel, according to the specifications set forth in Table II of Appendix B. The classification of a heel for pricing purposes is dependent upon the color of the heel and the physical tests the heel can meet. Accordingly, in order to be sold at the maximum prices for any of the particular grades in Appendix B, the heel must meet the specifications set forth in Table II of Appendix B, for that grade and color of heel.

(c) Maximum prices for sales in the home replacement trade of rubber soles listed in Appendix C. The maximum prices for sales at all levels of the home replacement trade of the rubber soles listed in Table I of Appendix C are the maximum prices therefor listed in Table I of Appendix C. The prices vary depending upon whether the sole is a cement-on half sole, a composition nail-on half sole, or a flat cord sole. The maximum prices for cement-on rubber soles vary depending upon whether the sole in question meets the physical tests set forth in Table II of Appendix C for cement-on rubber soles. Flat cord rubber soles are those containing clearly discernible whole cords which at any given level lie generally parallel to each other.

(d) Maximum prices for sales in the home replacement trade of government rejected composition, carbon black half soles listed in Appendix D. The maximum prices for sales at all levels of the home replacement trade of the government rejected composition, carbon black, rubber half-soles that are listed in Appendix D and which are serviceable as soles shall be the maximum prices therefor set forth in Appendix D. Government rejected soles are those which have been manufactured for the use of the United States government or any agency thereof and which have been rejected as not meeting the purchaser's standards.

(e) Maximum prices for sales in the home replacement trade of rubber heels and soles which are not otherwise priced under this section. The maximum prices for sales in the home replacement trade by manufacturers, wholesalers and retailers, of rubber heels and soles which are not otherwise priced under this section shall be a price consistent with the level of maximum prices established by this section, specifically authorized by the Office of Price Administration.

(f) Report. A seller seeking such authorization shall file with the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., a report containing all the information required for a report filed under section 9 (a). The report shall also include proposed maximum prices for sales by subsequent resellers and the reasons why he believes these proposed resale prices are consistent with those otherwise established by the OPA.

(g) Maximum prices. The provisions of section 9 (b) shall apply to rubber soles priced under this paragraph.

(h) Notification. With or prior to the first sale by a seller to a reseller of any heel or sole priced under this section, the seller shall furnish such reseller with a written notification of the maximum retail price for the commodity as established under this section unless the commodity being sold is packed in unit of sale containers in which each pair of the commodity is sold at retail and each such container is conspicuously marked with the maximum retail price applicable thereto. If such reseller is a wholesaler, a notification shall be given which shall state the maximum prices applicable to such wholesaler's resales to wholesalers and to retailers as established under this section. If the commodity is a cement-on sole which is priced at the level of prices provided in Table I of Appendix C for soles which meet the specifications set forth in Table II of Appendix C, the notification shall also include a statement that the sole meets these specifications (or if the seller is a wholesaler that he has been notified by the manufacturer of these soles that they meet these specifications).

The additional markups in this paragraph will not be subject to the limitation on markups provided in section 12 of this supplement. A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this amendment, issued simultaneously herewith, has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.

Supplement 6 to Food Products Regulation 2 is amended in the following respects:

1. Subdivisions (i) and (ii) of section 6 (a) are amended to read as follows:

PART 1407—RATIONING OF FOOD AND FOOD PRODUCTS

[3d Rev. RO 3,[1] Amdt. 7]

SUGAR

A rationale for this amendment has been issued simultaneously herewith and has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.

Third Revised Ration Order 3 is amended in the following respects:

1. Section 17.1 (a) is amended by adding a new sentence at the end thereof to read as follows: "In addition, wherever not specifically required, any registering unit which is applying for an adjustment under the provisions of this article must also file a report of its inventory of sugar as of the date of the application for the adjustment. This report must be filed on OPA Form R-346 (Revised)."

2. Section 17.1 (b) is amended to read as follows:

(b) Application by industrial users for adjustments in base-period use or allotments. (1) An industrial user may apply for an adjustment in his base use or allotment when it is shown that:

(i) Fire, flood, strike or similar catastrophe or other circumstance affected his operation during the period from January 1, 1941, to January 1, 1942, and caused his use of sugar during that year to be less than it would otherwise have been; or

(ii) He invested, before April 20, 1942, in productive equipment (or facilities) which had not been installed in his plant available for use until after January 1, 1941, with the result that he used less sugar during his base period than he otherwise would have used.

(2) Application shall be made on OPA Form R-373 and filed with the District Office. The applicant must give all the information required by that form.

(3) A transferee of the person who had the establishment on April 20, 1942 may not apply under this section unless:

(i) He obtained the establishment by inheritance or will; or

(ii) The change in ownership is only as to the form of the business organization but the same parties both in interest and in number have the establishment at the time of application; or

(iii) He is a member of the immediate family of the transferor who was the owner or part owner of the establishment on April 20, 1942. (A member of the immediate family of the transferor includes father, son, mother, daughter, wife, husband, brother or sister); or

(iv) One or more of the owners of the establishment at the time of application for an adjustment is a person who had an ownership interest in the establishment continuously from April 20, 1942 to the date of application.

(4) A District Office may not approve an application filed under this section but must send the application, together with all other information received, including the entire file, to the Washington Office for decision.

(5) A person is not eligible to apply for an adjustment under this section for making or using:

[1] 11 F.R. 177.

(i) Jams, jellies, preserves, marmalades or fruit butters; or

(ii) A product for which a provisional allowance may be obtained.

3. The first sentence of section 17.3 (b) is amended to read as follows:

(b) Application shall be made on OPA Form R-365 and applicant shall give all the information required by that form. However, production figures required to be stated in answer to items 11, 12, 17, 23 and 24 on OPA Form R-365 may, at the option of the applicant, be for the entire year of 1941 instead of for a representative month as required by such form. In such case, the applicant must state on the form that the year 1941 is used.

4. Section 17.3 (c) is amended to read as follows:

(c) A transferee of the person who had the establishment on April 20, 1942 may not apply under this section unless:

(1) He obtained the establishment by inheritance or will; or

(2) The change in ownership is only as to the form of the business organization but the same parties both in interest and in number have the establishment at the time of application; or

(3) He is a member of the immediate family of the transferor who was the owner of the establishment on April 20, 1942. (A member of the immediate family of the transferor includes father, son, mother, daughter, wife, husband, brother or sister.); or

(4) One or more of the owners of the establishment at the time of application for an adjustment is a person who had an ownership interest in the establishment continuously from April 20, 1942 to the date of application.

5. Section 17.3 (d) (2) is amended to read as follows:

(2) Used a sugar-containing product for which a provisional allowance may be obtained in making his product or who makes a sugar-containing product for which a provisional allowance may be obtained.

6. Section 20.1 (d) is amended to read as follows:

(d) Unless otherwise specified by the Director, paragraph (b) shall not apply to raw sugar, turbinado sugar, plantation white sugar, high-washed sugar, Louisiana seconds sugar, invert sugar, liquid sugar, confectioners' sugar (powdered), or soft sugar in bulk, cube sugar, loaf sugar, cubelet sugar or tablet sugar; or to confectioners', brown and other specialty sugar in one or two pound packages, except fine granulated sugar; or to sugar refined or processed outside the continental United States.

This amendment shall become effective March 4, 1946.

NOTE: The reporting and record-keeping requirements of this amendment have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

Issued this 4th day of March, 1946.

For the reasons set forth in an opinion issued simultaneously herewith and pursuant to section 16 of Maximum Price Regulation 592; It is ordered:

(a) The present maximum f. o. b. plant price for sales of 3" partition gypsum tile by the United States Gypsum Company, Chicago, Illinois, manufactured at its New Brighton, New York plant, may be increased by an amount not in excess of $0.01 per square foot.

(b) If the United States Gypsum Company had an established differential in price during March 1942 between other thicknesses and types of partition gypsum tile and 3" partition gypsum tile, it may convert the adjustment granted in (a) above for 3" partition gypsum tile so as to reflect the customary March 1942 dollars-and-cents differentials between the 3" partition gypsum tile and such other thicknesses and types of partition gypsum tile.

(c) Any person purchasing partition gypsum tile from the United States Gypsum Company for the purpose of resale in the same form may increase his present maximum prices established under the General Maximum Price Regulation, by a dollars-and-cents amount not exceeding his actual dollars-and-cents increase in cost resulting from the increase permitted in paragraphs (a) and (b) above. The Office of Price Administration has granted an adjustment of $0.01 per square foot in the maximum prices for 3" partition gypsum tile, with increases on other thicknesses and sizes of partition gypsum tile which reflect the customary March 1942 dollars-and-cents differentials between 3" partition gypsum tile and the other thicknesses and types of partition gypsum tile. You are permitted to add the actual amount of your increased cost resulting from the increase permitted the United States Gypsum Company to your existing maximum prices for partition gypsum tile purchased from them, except that in any area where specific maximum prices are fixed by any area pricing order such specific maximum prices shall apply in that area.

(f) The United States Gypsum Company shall submit to the Office of Price Administration, Building Materials and Construction Price Branch, Washington 25, D. C., within 30 days after the close of each of its semi-annual financial periods after the effective date of this order, a statement showing segregation of costs and profits for partition gypsum tile manufactured at its New Brighton plant.

KAUSTINE CO., INC.

ADJUSTMENT OF MAXIMUM PRICES

Adjustment of maximum prices for sales of steel septic tanks manufactured by the Kaustine Company Inc. of Perry, New York; Docket No. 6075–SO119–30.

For the reasons set forth in an opinion issued simultaneously herewith and filed with the Division of the Federal Register and pursuant to Revised Supplementary Order No. 119, it is ordered:

(a) Maximum prices for sales of steel septic tanks manufactured by the Kaustine Company of Perry, New York. (1) The above manufacturer may determine his maximum prices for his line of steel septic tanks by increasing by 6.0 percent his prices on these items in effect on October 1, 1941 to each class of purchaser.

(2) Since the provisions of this order are not intended to reduce properly established maximum prices, the manufacturer may continue to use as his maximum prices to each class of purchaser his properly established prices in effect under Maximum Price Regulation No. 591 in the event that such prices exceed the prices in effect to each class of purchaser on October 1, 1941 plus the increase provided for in (1) above.

(3) The maximum prices set forth above shall be subject to discounts and allowances including transportation allowances and price differentials which are at least as favorable as those the manufacturer extended or rendered or would have extended or rendered to each class of purchaser on commodities in the same general category.

(b) Resellers' maximum prices. All resellers of the commodities covered by this order (but not manufacturers who purchase such items for use in the manufacture of other products) may add to their presently established maximum prices the actual dollars-and-cents increase in cost resulting from the adjustment granted the manufacturer by this order.

(c) Notification to all purchasers. The manufacturer shall send the following notice to every purchaser of the commodities covered by this order at or before the time of the first invoice after the adjustment granted by this order is put into effect:

Order No. 101 under Revised Supplementary Order No. 119 authorizes a 6.0 percent increase in October 1, 1941 net prices for sales of steel septic tanks manufactured by this company:

Resellers (but not manufacturers who purchase such items for use in the manufacture of other products) may add to their existing maximum prices the actual dollars-and-cents increase in cost resulting from the adjustment granted by Order No. 101.

(d) All prayers for relief not granted herein are denied.

(e) This order may be amended or revoked by the Price Administrator at any time.

UTICA CUTLERY CO.

ADJUSTMENT OF CEILING PRICES

For the reasons set forth in an opinion issued simultaneously herewith and filed with the Division of the Federal Register, and pursuant to sections 15 and 16 of Revised Supplementary Order No. 119, it is ordered:

(a) Manufacturer's ceiling prices. Utica Cutlery Co., Utica 4, N. Y., may compute its adjusted ceiling prices for all articles of pocket and kitchen cutlery which it manufactures, as follows:

(1) For an article in its line during October 1941, the adjusted ceiling price is the highest price charged during that month to each class of purchaser increased by 13.9 per cent.

(2) For an article not in its line during October 1941, but which has a properly established ceiling price, in effect before the effective date of this order, the adjusted ceiling price is the article's properly established ceiling price for the particular sale (exclusive of all permitted increases or adjustment charges) increased by the percentage determined in accordance with "Note 3" in section 8 of Revised Supplementary Order No. 119.

(3) For an article which is first offered for sale after the effective date of this order, the adjusted ceiling price is the maximum price hereafter properly determined or established in accordance with Maximum Price Regulation No. 188; and prices so fixed may not be increased under this order.

(4) The manufacturer's adjusted ceiling price fixed in accordance with this order is his new ceiling price if it is higher than his previously established ceiling price including all increases and adjustments otherwise authorized for him individually or for his industry.

(b) Reseller's ceiling prices. Resellers of an article which the manufacturer has sold at an adjusted ceiling price determined under this order shall determine their maximum prices as follows: A reseller shall calculate his ceiling price by adding to his invoice cost the same percentage markup which he has on the "most comparable article" for which he has a properly established ceiling price. For this purpose the "most comparable article" is the one which meets all the following tests:

(i) It belongs to the narrowest trade category which includes the article being priced.

(ii) Both it and the article being priced were purchased from the same class of supplier.

(iii) Both it and the article being priced belong to a class of articles to which, according to customary trade practices, an approximately uniform percentage markup is applied.

(iv) Its net replacement cost is nearest to the net cost of the article being priced.

The determination of a ceiling price in this way need not be reported to the Office of Price Administration; however, each seller must keep complete records showing all the information called for by OPA Form 620–759 with regard to how he determined his ceiling price, for so long as the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, remains in effect.

If the maximum resale price cannot be determined under the above method the reseller shall apply to the Office of Price Administration for the establishment of a ceiling price under section 1499.3 (c) of the General Maximum Price Regulation. Ceiling prices established under that section will reflect the supplier's prices as adjusted in accordance with this order.

(c) Terms of sale. Ceiling prices adjusted by this order are subject to each seller's terms, discounts, and allowances on sales to each class of purchaser in effect during March 1942, or thereafter, properly established under OPA regulations.

(d) Notification. At the time of, or prior to the first invoice to a purchaser for resale on and after the effective date of this order, showing prices adjusted in accordance with this order, the seller shall notify the purchaser in writing of the methods established in paragraph (b) of this order for determining adjusted maximum prices for resales of the articles. This notice may be given in any convenient form.

(e) All requests for adjustment of maximum prices not specifically granted by this order are hereby denied.

(f) This order may be revoked or amended by the Price Administrator at any time.

(g) This order shall become effective on March 4, 1946.

PAUL A. PORTER,
Administrator.

(b) Definitions. (1) "Person" means any individual, corporation, partnership, association, or any other organized group of persons; its legal successors or representatives; the United States or any other government, or any of its political subdivisions; or any agency of any of the foregoing; and includes sub-contractors as well as prime contractors.

(2) "Painting, decorating and paperhanging services" means the services and material required to paint or decorate a building, structure or construction project at a fixed site, or any part, fixture or equipment thereof, or to apply wall paper, decorating, surface finishing or other similar materials to walls, ceilings or floors thereof, or the application of calcimine, shellac, varnish or any other protective or ornamental coating thereto, together with all preparatory or incidental work such as waxing, oiling, staining, washing and cleaning, or removing existing paint, decoration or paper finishes, or other similar materials from surfaces with liquid, steam, sand blast or any other method, and such other services as are commonly included in the rendering of painting, decorating and paperhanging services, either prior to or after the furnishing of such services.

(b) "Residential building, structure or construction project" means any building, structure or construction project, or part thereof, used entirely or principally for living or dwelling purposes (including houses, apartments, hotels, and all other properties used for living or dwelling purposes), and all other buildings or structures in connection therewith or adjacent thereto, at the same site, such as garages, barns, milk houses, sheds, granaries, and other out-buildings.

The time in transit to or from the job may be charged only once per day. The hours for which charges are made shall not exceed those shown in the records which the seller is required to keep under section 8 of this order.

(ii) Overtime. When work is performed at the purchaser's request between the hours of 4:30 p. m. or 5:00 p. m., whichever is the customary quitting time, and 8:00 a. m. on Monday to Friday, both inclusive, or on Saturdays, Sundays, New Year's Day, Fourth of July, Thanksgiving Day or Christmas Day, or any other legal holiday, the maximum labor charge per hour for work during such hours shall be 150% of the maximum straight time hourly rate authorized in this order.

(iii) Minimum charges. If a job covered by this order requires less than one man hour, the maximum labor charge shall be for one man hour.

(iv) Self-employed painter, decorator or paperhanger. A self-employed painter, decorator or paperhanger who himself performs services covered by this order, either alone or with his employees, shall charge for his services not more than the hourly rate charged by him as of the effective date of this order, but not in excess of the maximum labor charge which would be permissible to be charged for the services of a journeyman in the local area where the services are being performed.

(b) Maximum prices of materials and other permitted charges.—(1) Maximum prices of materials. The maximum prices which may be charged by a seller of materials used shall not be more than the maximum prices provided by the appropriate maximum price regulation for sales of such materials at retail, by established paint, decorating and paperhanging supply firms nearest his place of business, based on the manufacturers' published retail price lists. If the materials being sold are marked by a manufacturers' label containing the approved OPA retail ceiling price for sales of the commodity by a seller, a seller of such materials under this order shall not exceed the price marked on the label.

(2) Sub-contracted work. Where services covered by this order are subcontracted by a seller under this order, the maximum charge to the purchaser shall not exceed the maximum price which the seller might lawfully have charged under this order if he had performed the services.

(3) Special equipment. If, during March, 1942, the seller made an extra charge for the use of special equipment, such as spraying machines, steaming machines for removing wallpaper, special types of scaffolding or floor sanding machines, but not including standard equipment such as brushes, ladders and other ordinary equipment, his maximum price per hour for such use after the effective date of this order shall not be in excess of the highest price per hour he charged therefor during March, 1942. If the seller acquired such special equipment after March, 1942, but prior to the effective date of this order, and thereafter established maximum prices per hour for such uses under the applicable maximum price regulation, he may continue to charge such established price. In either case, the seller must have records available to substantiate the charging of such price and such price must be filed with the District Office of the Office of Price Administration pursuant to section 9 of this order. If a seller commences the use of special equipment after the effective date of this order he shall establish his maximum hourly price therefor under the applicable maximum price regulation and file such price with the District Office within ten days.

(4) Extra charge for use of paint brushes. If a job, covered by this order, requires the use of paint brushes, the seller may make an extra charge therefor of not to exceed 5¢ per man-hour of time consumed on the particular job.

(5) Out of town travel expenses. The seller who furnishes men on an out-of-town job covered by this order shall be reimbursed to the extent of the amount he shall have to pay for travel expenses at not to exceed 5¢ per mile for travel beyond five miles from the city limits, and subsistence where the job necessitates the men being away from their homes. This item shall be explained to the purchaser prior to commencing the job and shall be invoiced separately. Travel expenses and subsistence may not be collected unless the seller actually pays the employee therefor.

(6) Transportation. If a seller uses his truck to transport materials, equipment and men to and from a job a distance of more than five miles beyond the city limits, he may charge not more than 5¢ per mile to and from the job for travel beyond that distance and similarly if other means of transportation are used.

SEC. 5. Guaranteed price. A seller may sell a job covered by this order on the basis of a guaranteed price but such guaranteed price shall not be higher than the maximum price figured in accordance with the pricing methods and requirements of this order.

SEC. 6. Related and incidental construction work and materials. If, on any job covered by this order, any installed building materials are furnished or any construction services are performed by the seller for which maximum prices are not fixed by this order, such materials and services shall be separately priced and billed on all invoices and sales slips. The maximum prices for such related and incidental work and materials shall be determined under Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 251, or as fixed by any applicable area pricing order issued by the Regional Administrator of Region VII.

SEC. 7. Notification—(a) Furnishing of statements. Each seller making a sale covered by this order shall, upon completion of the work, furnish to the purchaser, a statement, and keep a copy thereof at his principal place of business, showing the following:

(1) The names and addresses of the seller and purchaser.

(2) The location of the job.

(3) The date the job was completed.

(4) The description of the work performed and the total charged for the job, including both services and materials used, and a separate statement of the related and incidental construction work performed, as provided in section 6 of this order.

(b) Furnishing of further statements upon request. If requested by the purchaser, the seller shall furnish the purchaser an itemized statement showing the information contained in sub-paragraphs (1), (2), and (3) of paragraph (a) of this section, together with an itemized statement showing the maximum labor charges for services covered by this order for each type or class of labor performed and the hourly rates charged therefor, together with an itemized statement of the materials used and the quantities and prices of each, and a separate itemized statement of any related and incidental construction work performed, as provided in section 7 of this order. A copy of any such statements so furnished shall be kept by the seller at his principal place of business.

(c) Order available for inspection. Each seller making a sale covered by this order shall, if requested by the purchaser, make available to the purchaser a copy of this order and a copy of Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 251.
